NEIGHBORS<sup>TM</sup>

"I LAUGHED. I CRIED. I SCREAMED BLOODY MURDER."

Anita Placetohide
-Amityville Herald

Only Konami® could bring something so demented and sick to your Super NES® and your Sega™ Genesis™. Action! Adventure! A real scream! A must see!!

"55 levels of sheer terror. Not a dry seat in the house."

-Washington Post Mortum

"MORE FRIGHTENING THAN YOUR MOM AT A THRASH CONCERT."

Slash Meehup-Rolling Tombstone

Thrilling performances by two teenage stars who must save cheerleaders, babies and BBQ-happy neighbors from every monster that ever stalked the cineplex.

"Somebody help me! Help me please!"

B.A. Goner-New York Times Up

Fifty-five B-horror movies rolled into one are now slaying in your neighborhood. Scream to the sounds of "Hedgemaze Chainsaw Mayhem," "Mars Needs Cheerleaders" and "Weird Kids on the Block." Find your way through a "chopping" mall, a grocery store, mysterious monster islands, a haunted house and your own Zombie infested backyard. Run, swim and trampoline over hedges to escape hordes of Zombies, Chainsaw Maniacs, Mummies, Evil Dolls, Lizard Men, Blobs, Vampires, Giant Ants, Martians and more. Or take them out with your uzi squirt gun, exploding soda pop, bazookas and weed wackers. In a pinch use one of your collectible power-ups like secret potions and bobo clown decoys. Go it alone or as a Zombie squad of two. The game goes on and on and on. Run for your life! It just won't die!!

VIOLENCE IN VIDEO GAMES...PART 2!

Video game violence is in the news again. This time, though, the concern is being voiced from one of the highest levels of government—the Attorney General of the State of California. Government... brings shivers down my spine. We all know what happens when government tries to correct something—it either doesn't work, gets bogged down in red tape or legislation, or goes to such extremes that nobody is happy.

On November 16, Dan Lungren, the Attorney General of the State of California, held a press conference in Los Angeles that, in part, raised serious concerns about the "...shocking and obscene display of graphic, gratuitous violence [in video games]." Of course, the game in question was the Sega version of Acclaim's Mortal Kombat. Sega's Night Trap CD was also cited as another "bad" game. While he emphasized that he wasn't proposing censorship or mandatory government action, he did send letters to industry leaders (Nintendo, Sega, Capcom, Acclaim, Hasbro [whom he must believe is responsible for Night Trap], and also to seven retailers who sell video games.) "appealing to [their] sense of corporate and personal responsibility." He goes on to say that, unlike violent movies or suggestive music lyrics, which are passive forms of entertainment, "... video games require the player's total involvement." Statistics are cited to back up his statement and he concludes with: "We are deluding ourselves if we continue to deny any connection between the rise in violence on our streets and among our youth, and the daily bombardment of our youth with violent images in sports, movies, music, television and video games."

Quite a statement! I'm not going to repeat my comments on violence that I detailed in my September editorial, as I still believe in having the freedom of choice. But, there is much more involved than just damning Nintendo for not giving us the choice of what is in a game, and praising Sega for letting us decide what is good or bad.

After thinking about violence for a few months, a good analogy is the movie industry. Nintendo is the "Disney" of our industry. They only make G or PG games. That's it, period. Sega, being more liberal, is like any of the other studios who make movies with G or R ratings. Nintendo's role is very clear. They have a standard and if you want to put out a game on their system you will do it to their specifications, which are squeaky clean G or PG games.

Sega, on the other hand, publishes games that could contain video graphics that may not be suitable for all audiences. They have a rating system. That I believe is good, but it is not working. If it was, Mr. Lungren wouldn't be complaining. Why isn't it working? Simple. Sega has not done enough to educate the public. Case in point: every movie ad, either TV or print, has to show the rating. Sega, you might want to force your licensees to do the same but also remember to do it yourself. Start the ball rolling by putting the ratings on all your ads. Page through this mag. How many times do you see a rating on an ad? Not very often. Also, spend some money and take out ads that explain your ratings. Use your publication Sega Visions as the media if need be. But don't just do it once and forget about it. Explain the ratings in every issue. Mom and Pop either haven't a clue as to what they mean, don't know that they exist, or don't know why the game got the rating. While you have some literature that Scholastic did on the ratings and an 800 parents hotline number (1-800-379 KIDS), the public apparently doesn't know about it, as our Letter of the Month points out. Having the ratings is half way to the solution, now develop the consumer awareness and confidence in what you did. The first thing a mom asks about a movie is "What's the rating?" Get it to the point where she says the same thing about a video game. If you don't, then guys like Mr. Lungren will do it for you. And none of us want to see that happen. Remember, he's the government and we all know what happens if he is forced to step in and fix the problem.

Tell you what Sega. I am going to make it a little easier on you, and I call on all my colleagues at the other video game magazines to do the same. Starting with this issue, every time we review a game we will publish your rating in our review. Also, send me your detailed guidelines and I will devote whatever space it takes to educate the public.

While the majority of attention is on Sega, every hardware and software manufacturer in this industry should think about this. With advanced systems like 3DO, Jaguar and LaserActive able to reproduce true video in a game, very little can be left to the imagination. It's just a matter of time before these games and companies are in the spotlight.

Is Mr. Lungren just blowing off steam, looking for a 'safe' reelection topic, or does he really have a point? Let me know and we'll devote a whole Letters section to your replies.

Handy Gear

Weather conditions can often threaten your Game Gear's™ survival. But if you slip it into STD's Handy Gear you can play through rain, sleet or driving snow.

Not only is the Handy Gear water resistant and shock absorbing, but it also has a built-in magnifier for better visibility and an adjustable screen protector to reduce glare. There's also room inside to store an extra cart. And the carrying strap makes it easier to play on the go. So strap on the Handy Gear and get ready for combat!

SG ProPad<sup>2</sup>

Smash the competition with the SG ProPad<sup>2</sup>, featuring the real 6-button fighting layout. With the unique synchro-fire setting you can transfer any one fire button or combination of buttons to the extra LEFT and RIGHT fire buttons. For example, if you transfer A, B, X, & Z to the LEFT button, it will fire all four at the same time. For some games, you may discover brand new moves no one has ever seen before! Plus, you can take control with independent auto-fire & slow motion. And the LED screen shows you which buttons are set on auto-fire. With the SG ProPad<sup>2</sup> you get in-your-face action!

SG ProgramPad<sup>2</sup>

The new 6-button SG ProgramPad<sup>2</sup> explodes with pre-programmed moves from your favorite Genesis™ games - Mortal Kombat®, Street Fighter II CE™*, Streets of Rage 2™, X-Men™, Fatal Fury™, Jurassic Park™, Sonic The Hedgehog 2™, & David Robinson's Supreme Court™!

Plus, you can program 6 of your own deadly moves from any game. Then check it out on the LCD screen. Tack on slow motion, auto-fire and button re-alignment and you've never had this much power in the palm of your hand! Whoever said that programmable was wimpy doesn't understand that sometimes you do whatever it takes TO WIN!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This is the section where you can open up your mind and let the rest of electronic gaming know what you have to say! If we like what you write, we'll put it inside the pages of this magazine and try to spell your name right. If we don't like it, chances are we'll wad it up and hurl (the paper, not us). Remember that anything you write and send to us can be used in the mag whether you like it or not. Remember that you have the right to remain silent and that anything you say could be used against you in a court of law. If you understand these rights then write us at: Interface, Letters to the Editor, c/o Sendai Publishing Group, 1920 Highland Avenue, Suite 222, Lombard, Illinois 60148. ## LETTER OF THE MONTH!

SEGA'S RATING SYSTEM?

I am not quite sure that I totally agree with Sega's new rating system. I think that (like in movie ratings) there should be a rating between "GA" and "MA-13" because Mortal Kombat and Splatterhouse 3 are much more violent and geared toward adults than Street Fighter 2. Yet they all received the same rating. I think that Street Fighter 2 should have received a "PG" rating, or one between "GA" and "MA-13".

I also think that Sega should do a better job rating their games. For instance Silpheed for Sega CD. Look at all the bad language in that game yet it got a "GA" rating. I think that something is very, very wrong here. On one end you have Street Fighter 2 for Sega Genesis, it has no bad language and hardly any blood or violence. On the other end, you have Silpheed for Sega CD. It has no blood and little violence but a lot of bad language. Right? Well then, why did Street Fighter 2 get a "MA-13" rating and Silpheed (with all its bad language) get a "GA" rating?

Philip Wormdahl
Salt Lake City, UT

(Ed. Great questions Philip. As you can see from Ed's editorial, we would like to know the details also. Sega's rating system, while a good step in the right direc*tion needs not only an explanation from Sega as to who is on their rating panel, what their guidelines are for assigning the ratings and also how they plan to educate the public about the ratings.*

On Sega's behalf, it should be pointed out that at least they are starting to publish some of the game ratings in their own magazine Sega Visions. The coverage is very limited and far from complete (They state that they will only cover the "killer" titles, of which 18 were logically GAs out of a total of 21 rated games). At one point in time they also briefly described their ratings in an old issue of SV. NOTE: We've just learned today that Sega has a 1-800-379-KIDS hotline for the parents to ask questions.

You're right about their rating system. To be truly effective it should be more detailed. With the MPAA ratings already established and working quite well, it wouldn't have been too difficult for Sega to copy what was already in existence (OK, maybe change a few things to avoid copyright infringement) but they didn't and there is some confusion when it comes to questionable language in games. Bear with us and we'll get to the bottom of this, hopefully in a month or two. Check our Review Crew for the Sega ratings on the latest games.)

SEGA RESPONDS TO VIDEO GAME VIOLENCE!

After placing a few calls to Sega we have been able to get a copy of the letter that they sent out to Mr. Lungren regarding their opinion about video game violence. It is as follows:

"We applaud Attorney General Dan Lungren's concerns. They are Sega's concerns, too. Sega is sensitive to the concerns of parents who need a standard for evaluating the age appropriateness of video games for their children. That is why we have established the Videogame Rating Council, an independent council of educators and child psychologists, to rate video games according to age appropriateness—GA for general audience, MA-13 for mature audiences with parental discretion advised, and MA-17 for adults and not appropriate for minors.

Sega believes it is the parents' right and responsibility to choose what is best for their children. This issue should be self-regulated by parents with information provided by the video game industry.

To help inform parents, Sega has instituted a comprehensive parental information program that includes a rating that is clearly marked on the front of each game package, a toll-free parents hotline (1-800-379-KIDS) and a brochure written by Scholastic Inc., the largest publisher of in-school educational materials, called "Everybody Wins: A Message to Parents about Video Games."

At Sega we have games for all ages of video game players. Ninety percent of our games are GA rated (General Audience), such as family entertainment titles like "Disney's Aladdin," "World of Illusion

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Starring Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck" and Barney's Hide and Seek" to sports games such as "NFL Football '94 Starring Joe Montana" to action/adventure games such as "Sonic Spinball." With this wide diversity of games, we have taken the action of creating the Videogame Rating Council to better inform our consumers on the content and intended audiences for the game titles we offer.

Sega has spearheaded the Videogame Rating Council in hopes that it will become an industry standard. All Sega third-party software developers and Sierra On-Line are already using the Videogame Rating Council. We hope this call from the Attorney General will spur other hardware companies to join us."

Sega's new game rating system needs explaining and more categories.

(Ed. The letter was printed on official Sega letterhead but it did not have a signature on it.

Just to test the hotline we called the 800 number. The person who answered did offer comments on games like Mortal Kombat and Street Fighter 2. He was very helpful. After we asked him, he agreed to send us literature on the rating system.

So is Sega in the clear? While they have taken steps in the right direction, they need to find more ways to get the information to the public. Their own publication—Sega Visions (which is sent free to all registered Sega game system owners) could be used more effectively to get the game rating information to the people who need to know about it. Ed said it all in his editorial. We can help get the message across, but Sega should do more. They ought to really start insisting that all ads carry the game rating. Also, the ratings are too general as the questionable language in some of the games (like Silpheed) is not being addressed. Duplicating the MPAA ratings is a simple solution. More next month when we dive deeper into how a game gets a rating. We will also get other industry comments on the subject.)

WHAT'S IT MEAN?

I've read your magazine for almost two years now. In those past two years, we've seen many technologies come and go. With that technology, you rattle off some pretty big words that not everyone is fortunate enough to understand. You've said things like E-PROM, Alpha and Beta copies of games, MHz, RAM, ROM and CPU. These words may be nothing for you people that deal with this technology everyday but for we 'common Joes and Janes' it becomes a real tongue twister. If at all possible, could you please let us know what all this technical stuff means?

Doug Shiwano
Tallahassee, FL

There's a lot of high-tech lingo going around, like this E-PROM pictured above.

(Ed. You bet it's confusing to keep up with the new lingo. We contacted Mary Snow, Associate Publicist for EA SPORTS at Electronic Arts, to get the latest scoop on how Electronic Arts and many of the other companies classify these terms. Mary states "Alpha software is the first time all the features are in the game. They are not necessarily working but they are in the game. Beta software is when all the features are there and working, bugs have been identified and are being fixed or have been fixed. Beta is typically two weeks before the software is final and 12 weeks before the software is shipped. An E-PROM is a prereleased version of the cartridge that is used for testing and it is also sent out to editors for review."

As for the other questions, we can answer for those. The term MHz stands for Megahertz and is the computing speed for electronic devices; the higher the number, the faster the speed. RAM and ROM are acronyms for Random Access Memory and Read Only Memory. The more RAM a system has, the more information it can store into the RAM which equals a faster speed. Read Only Memory, or ROM, is what many game cartridges use to store information. ROM chips can only have information put onto them once, hence the name Read Only Memory. CPU stands for Central Processing Unit and this is the brains behind any high-tech electrical device.)

NORTH POLE POLL

KIDS GO HIGH-TECH FOR THE HOLIDAYS

This seventh annual poll shows that kids love the old-fashioned traditions of the holiday season; but when it comes to gifts, they want high-tech toys.

The seventh annual survey, conducted in randomly selected schools across the country by the youth marketing research firm, BKG Youth, asked more than 3,000 kids, ages 7-13, what top five gifts they would like to receive this holiday season. In the top-ranking video game category, the Super Nintendo Entertainment System was the number one choice followed by the Sega Genesis. Super Mario All-Stars ranked first in video games followed by Mortal Kombat.

About 86 percent of the poll's respondents play video games. Of those who own computers, 63 percent say they use the computer most often to play games. Marian Salzman, author and president of BKG Youth, said those results were not expected. "As members of the Nintendo generation, kids' fascination with video games has made them much more computer friendly than their parents."

At the same time, the North Pole Poll shows that both children and parents are cautious consumers. Asked whether they would buy the established name or the new, more expensive technology when purchasing items such as video games, both groups overwhelmingly chose the established brands.

"People of all ages are interested in high-tech items," said Salzman, "but they're still concerned about price." According to this year's survey, most children expect their families will spend $100-$200 on them for holiday presents. Parents estimate they will spend $100-$300 per child on holiday gifts.

According to toy industry analyst, David Leibowitz, senior vice president of Republic New York Securities Corp., it will be another record-setting season for toy sales, including video games.

The high-tech theme continued when children were asked to give presents to certain celebrities. Choosing from a list of gift ideas, many of those surveyed gave high-tech answers when they decided Macaulay Culkin deserves a Super Nintendo Entertainment System while President Clinton should receive a one-way trip to Mars.

More in the traditional spirit of giving, 56 percent of those polled said that their families donate gifts of food to the needy during the holidays. About 72 percent said they would be willing to give one of their unopened presents to a needy child.

THE PRICE WARS

When I read your issue 52 and saw that the PC Engine version of Street Fighter II: Champion Edition was selling for $26, naturally it was a big surprise to me. I called a mail order company and they wanted $99 for it and $39 for the six-button controller. Then I called another company and they wanted $79 for the game and $45 for the controller. When I told these people you said the game was $26 they said you guys didn't know what you were printing! All I want is an explanation to all this madness. Oh, one more thing. The people selling the game for $79 said that the adapter was made to fit Street Fighter II into the PC Engine, not the Duo. I don't understand.

Anthony Pattermann
Lake Mary, FL

The only place to find Street Fighter II for $26 is across the sea in Japan.

(Ed. You want an explanation? You got it. The $26 price quoted to us was from our foreign correspondent in Japan. While out on his rounds collecting games to preview in International Outlook, he stumbled upon some occasional stores selling the PC Engine version of Street Fighter II: Champion Edition for $26. When you called the mail order stores for prices, naturally they're going to be higher since they have to pay for customs, shipping and earning a profit margin as well. Stores in Japan are small and carry a lot of games. Based on demand, these stores are forced to clear out games that don't sell well and keep reducing the price to get it out of the stores. In America, stores buy the game for a certain price. Storage isn't usually a problem so these stores rarely drop the price lower than what they paid for it. The only way you could get a copy of SF2:CE for that price is to either know someone in Japan who can pick it up for you or head to Japan yourself and buy it. As for the adapter, that doesn't make much sense. The only reason you'd need the adapter is because you don't own a PC Engine, which Street Fighter II is designed to fit into.)

LASERACTIVE IS COMPATIBLE

After you introduced us to the LaserActive and said that games would also be developed in Japan, my big question to you is whether or not these games can be played on the American LaserActive system. I know that everyone is used to the restrictions Sega has put on Sega CD owners by not letting American Sega CDs play Japanese Mega-CDs. But since it's Pioneer, I'm hoping to hear that Pioneer hasn't forbidden the American public from enjoying overseas games.

Chris Auburn
Amarillo, TX

(Ed. Good news Chris, now everyone can enjoy fun and fascinating games like Angel Mate and Melon Brains, two games developed in Japan for the PC Engine compatible LaserActive. There doesn't seem to be much of a concern at Pioneer for protecting American gamers from Japanese games, since many of the games have a more Japanese theme to begin with. And that says nothing about the language translation problems! However, there may not be much of a need to go searching for foreign games since many of the games will probably be picked up by an American company anyway. The cool shooter game called Vajra has a strong possibility of coming to the States along with Pyramid Patrol, the game that's reminiscent of Sewer Shark on the Sega CD.)

There's no need to worry. Cool games like Pyramid Patrol will come to the U.S.

WORLD HEROES REVIEW...GOOD!

I am writing regarding the 'World Heroes Rebuttal' letter in the Interface section (November, Vol. 6 Issue 11). I agreed completely with EGM on the rating of the game. World Heroes is only average at best. Although Mortal Kombat is not the greatest game, World Heroes is no way better. Being a programmer myself, I can relate to how Dan (WH producer) feels when a program he worked so hard on got bad reviews. But credits should only be given where they are due. I thought that EGM did a fair job at rating the game.

Jim Buu

AND...WH REVIEW...BAD!

I have been reading your magazine for years. Even before I bought my first system since the video game crash of the '80s I read your magazine for information and guidance on current trends. That was when I was a sophomore in high school. Today, I'm a sophomore in college and I see that times have really changed. The Street Fighter 2 craze really affected the way you[r] company makes its magazine every month. What I once considered a must-have guide for anyone involved [in] video gaming has turned into something which curtails to a readership base that is even younger than Gamepro's.

Your overall ability of reporting has gone from very informative to ridiculous. Ed Semrad, I'm convinced, doesn't know what he is doing. In last month's issue [November], Sunsoft wrote to your magazine to argue that your review of World Heroes was bad and that it didn't do the game justice. Semrad wrote that, "You did a great job. You copied everything, even its deficiencies. But we are also saying that the arcade game is not that great, especially now." First of all, it isn't your job to criticize a reproduction of a game just because you didn't like the arcade game from which it is based. People who buy World Heroes will probably do so because they liked the arcade version. By writing that the game isn't good, you're implying that it's bad because it was not translated well. On the contrary, WH is an incredible translation and anyone who loved the arcade version will love this game. If your [you're] going to rate translations do it on two criteria; 1) Is the game a good translation of the arcade? & 2) How does the game stand on its own merits? As a reader, I like to think my opinion counts. And indeed they do. Semrad treated McArthur's letter with no regard for decorum or professionalism. Semrad concludes his reply with the phrase "Case closed." I beg your pardon, Mr. Semrad, but if you think you're the final word in deciding the quality of a product you're gravely mistaken. The only thing you achieved with that tone is to disgust readers into dropping your magazine. The one time Semrad disagreed with the Review Crew it made him look stupid. The WCES had just passed and Semrad wrote in his editorial that Silpheed was, unequivocally, the best game of the show. He wrote that StarFox paled in comparison. When the reviews came out, though, StarFox was game of the month and Silpheed was not. These inconsistencies are very common lately. Keep up the good work Ed.

To close, I don't think EGM is worth paying for anymore. I want information and instead I get a magazine written by people with inflated egos. I don't care how many 4-year-olds write and ask for a 10 page article on "A day in the life of EGM." Before signing off, keep doing what you do now and write your magazine like it's being read by illiterates and two year olds and when your adult readership plummets to the level of Gamepro's you'll find yourself asking, "You think we could have worked a little harder?"

Christos Kagadis
Tempe, AZ

(Ed. We want to thank Mr. Kagadis for his honest opinion about EGM. Unfortunately we had to trim his three page letter back to fit the space available, but his two points about WH and Silpheed are worth commenting on.

Regarding WH, we do rate arcade translations on many different factors including the two that you mentioned. Yes, WH is a great translation of the arcade machine, Ed said that, and you quoted him correctly as the underlined part shows. About how it stands on its own Ed also said that "Fighting games evolve and get better. Turbo SF2 is the best.." Put WH in the stores next to all the other fighting games and when Johnny comes in with only enough money to buy one game, which one will he buy...WH or Turbo SF2? There have been four million copies of Turbo SF2 sold and that speaks quite well for that game's popularity! You obviously like WH and disagree with our review (and also that of the most authoritative mag in Japan). Everybody is, of course, entitled to his/her opinion, but let's not get too carried away and damn the whole mag because of a review.

As to the "Case closed" statement, there was nothing bad intended with that statement, and when Ed went to Sunsoft to discuss the letter (before it ran in the magazine) nobody even gave it a second thought. However, since you are now a sophomore in college and read more into what was said, Ed offers his sincere apology to Dan, all the people at Sunsoft, to you and all our readers for being so abrupt.

Silpheed is a different matter. Ed raved about it at January CES. Remember that he is our Editor, and as such, he travels the world talking to the programmers, developers and game companies. He is privy to a lot more info than what we have back at the office. He saw something unique and exceptional in the game way back at the Tokyo Toy Show in June 1992. The game was progressing nicely at Winter CES and he wrote an editorial about it. If anything, it got everybody to take notice of it. Eight months later, all the other mags gave Silpheed exceptional ratings (and so did Ed), but the other three EGM reviewers didn't agree and they only gave it 7's. Hey Christos, isn't that kind of like your opinion of WH vs. our Review Crew's opinion? Was Ed wrong to see something and talk about it eight months before its time? Was it bad that his review didn't match with the opinions of our other three reviewers? If everybody has the same opinion then there is no need to have four reviewers. I guess we will just have to "work harder" in the upcoming months. Thanks again for your opinion.)

BAD PHOTOCOPY CONTEST!

A new feature to EGM is the official Bad Photocopy Contest. You'll find this contest in every Interface issue. What we did was photocopy a part of the magazine, blew it up, oh, 800% and it's up to you to find it somewhere in the magazine. You don't win anything, but you can congratulate yourself if you find it!

Here it is! Attempt to find this picture in the magazine, if you can!

Throw Liu Kang's finishing move with the deadly accuracy of true circular control on the TT360. Hold the Start Button and, starting with your thumb at the bottom of the Touch Sensor, make a full circle towards your opponent.

Kano's Spin Attack is a breeze with the TT360. Hold the Start Button and run your thumb around the Touch Sensor toward your opponent. Release the Start Button to unleash the attack!

Fry your opponents with Rayden and the TT360. Hold down Button A and slide your thumb from down to toward your enemy.

Tear 'em up with Kano's Knife Attack. The TT360 is cutting-edge fast! Hold Start and slide your thumb from away to toward on the Touch Sensor. As fast as you can slide, you can throw.

Press Rayden's Superman move catches 'em by surprise. Press away-away-toward on your TT360's Touch Sensor. The slide from away to toward gives you the win with split-second speed...without the numb thumb!

Real diagonal action on the TT360 gives you the edge! Chill 'em with the Sub Zero Freeze. Hold down Button A and slide your thumb on the Touch Sensor from down to toward.

Here's a sneaky move the TT360 makes easy. Jump over your enemy, turn and press Button C. You'll make a throw they can't beat!

"Get over here!" The TT360 brings 'em close with Scorpion's Spear. Rapidly press the Touch Sensor away twice and press Button A.

Shred some head on Sub Zero's Finishing Move. Slide your thumb toward-down-toward and hit Button A. This move is much easier than on a old-fashioned control pad.

BATTLE TESTED IN KOMBAT

When you go into Kombat, you need a controller that's fast, that gives you all the action you want - easily and effortlessly, and that destroys your opponent, not your thumb! That's why you should be using the Turbo Touch 360™. The Ultimate Fighting Machine, for all your favorite games. The Turbo Touch 360 "touch sensor" allows your thumb or index finger to move effortlessly across the sensor plate - you don't have to push down. Objects on the screen move as fast as you move your finger, you've got real diagonal and true circular control, and you really feel like you're in the game. The pay-off is being the ultimate fighting machine and trashing your opponent... you know the guy using the old-fashioned control pad.

So, go into Kombat to win - go battle tested with the Turbo Touch 360.

VARYING PHOTO QUALITY?

I have been a reader of EGM for quite a few years and believe me, as soon as an issue is in the bookstore I am there to buy a copy. I live and breathe video games and probably have one of the largest collections of carts in our state. I have a problem with your magazine. I am done reading it the first week I have it and the next three weeks I have nothing to do. I get the other video game publications also but I usually blow through them in a day. So to occupy the rest of my time until the next issue is out, I go over your issue very, very carefully. I mean, real close. I have found all of your bad photocopy pictures and I think I even found Quartermann's hidden pig! Still I have time left over and I dig deeper into your issues.

There is one thing that I have noticed that pops up with constant regularity, and that is I think you have different ways of taking your pictures. Usually your Fact Files and general pictures are quite clear while those photos which are in the Next Wave, International and 'hot, exclusive' sections are of lesser quality (I told you I read very carefully!). Why is that?

Greg Starkee
Nashville, TN

(Ed. Looks like nothing gets by you Greg! Yep, you found out one of our deep dark secrets. We do take several different types of photos. There aren't two types but actually if you look real close you can see three different types of photos!

The first type are the ultra clear RGB frame grabs that we are able to do off of the prototype cartridges that the game companies send to our office. The equipment to do this is quite large and bulky and is not transportable. Therefore, we are limited to using it at our offices.

The second type of photos are taken using the same computer equipment but rather than using video game cartridges as the source material, we use video tape footage which Ed takes when he travels around the world. We could wait until the companies send us something that is professionally produced (game screen slides, video prints etc.) but then we would miss that month's deadline and end up using the same pictures that all the other magazines run the next month. Instead, we have created special portable recording equipment that allows us to tap directly into the source material. The quality is slightly less than direct RGB but very good considering the conditions.

MORE JAGUAR COVERAGE!

When I opened your 52nd issue I was sure that you would have had at least one Jaguar review, but there was none. There were even 3DO previews and it isn't available yet, while Jaguar is already available in NY, SF and by mail order. Jaguar is the better game system and I believe that there will be more Jag owners than 3DO owners. And if the Jag has a future as good as Atari promises, it could become #3 or even #2. I bought a Jag because Nintendo still doesn't have its Super NES CD and it has good games (not great games but they will get better soon).

As I wrote above, start writing about Jag's games and don't forget to change your cover to include Jaguar and 3DO.

Haralds Jass
Vancouver, BC Canada

Atari's new 64-Bit Jaguar roared through NY and San Francisco in November!

(Ed. We also believe that the Jaguar has a great future in store for it, especially since its price is only $250. It probably will take over the #3 spot as soon as the systems and games are available nationwide.

We did not have any reviews in the November or December issues as Atari has not yet sent us a production system and finished games. As soon as this happens, we will be doing Jag Fact Files and including Jag reviews in our Review Crew column. Previews of new games (from Ed's visits to Atari) started in December and are now a regular feature.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MORE NES BASHING?

I have been reading your magazine for several years now and have never been disappointed with the way you handled the job of bringing video game news to the uninformed masses, until now.

In issue 52, you addressed the new design of the NES as a useless endeavor, calling it a dinosaur, a useless waste of time, money and effort. Also with the advent of the new, more powerful systems, the amount of NES bashing you do has multiplied. I take offense at this. Has the staff at EGM forgotten what they single-handedly accomplished not more than a few years ago? A stagnant video game scene, still reeling from the crash of the early '80s, barely held up by personal computers, and here comes Nintendo with their historic first game system. Sales of cartridges and systems skyrocket. What was once thought as a stupid fad is now deemed a hobby. The ensuing mayhem causes many magazines catering to the fans of this ever-growing phenomenon to be born or resurrected, including the popular and excellent EGM. You guys wouldn't have jobs today if it wasn't for Nintendo!

Now with the dawn of 32-Bit, 64-Bit, and CD-ROM technology, the poor NES is showing its age, losing ground, probably getting ready for the graveyard of obsolete game systems. The problem I have is the fact that you keep on downplaying it, ridiculing it for trying to survive. This I find a kin to spitting on its grave. You should be devoting time to praising its persistence and accomplishments, not saying that because a better machine is coming along, all NES' should be thrown out to the junkheap. The bottom line is, even though I love the Super Nintendo and will probably buy Project Reality if it ever materializes, I will never ever fail to fire up the old NES and remember when an excellent and enjoyable game didn't have super hyper 3-D rotoscoping graphics and Q-Sound effects.

Alex Gold
Smithtown, NY

(Ed. Since you state you are a frequent reader to the magazine for many years, you may have noticed that the number of NES games we preview and review has dropped more and more as the years went by. When Sega introduced the Genesis, people knew they were ready to dive into the world of 16-Bit games. It's happening all over again with the advent of 32-Bit and 64-Bit systems from the likes of Commodore, Pioneer and Atari. As these systems mature, companies are starting to leave NES game production all together. The NES has had its years of success and it's really beginning to show its age against stronger contenders. The public decides what stays and dies. Judging by sales records, we'd say the NES is on its way to its grave.)

The future of the NES still looks bleak, despite some owners' strong interest.

POSTCARD PARANOIA!

The next time your parents drag you to some lame roadside attraction, be sure to pick up some of the tackiest postcards and send 'em in.

To take the sting out of springing real money for an ugly postcard, Sega has volunteered to give the winners one of their new six-button controllers and a Game Gear Carry-All case! Keep your eyes open as ugly can now pay off!

This month's winners are some real dogs. If you think you've got what it takes to top these winners, then break a pen and send your postcards addressed to Interface: Letters to the Editor.

Beware! The fish are dangerous in these parts. Congrats go to Todd Rosenfield of Lexington, MA.

"The factory tour was a real blowout!" quotes Bryan Griffin of Kerrville, TX, our second prize winner.

EGM! SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT!

Your mission is to draw what the infamous Cyber-Boy looks like in his native habitat. Your efforts could pay off by winning an ultra-cool joystick for the system of your choice. Get those pens and pencils going! For a hint, Cyber-Boy was pictured somewhere in issue 50.

Here are some examples of the EGM Review Crew doing what they do best. Although nobody really knows what Cyber-Boy really does in his spare time, it's up to you to draw him in a scenario that would suit our cybernetic employee. Be sure to include what game system you own for the prize.

CAN YOU FACE THE DARK SIDE OF VIRTUAL REALITY?

THE LAWNMOWER MAN™

In the real world, you will battle CyberJobe's minions.

In the Virtual Worlds, you will encounter terrifying manifestations of Virtual Reality.

LICENSED BY

As a movie, The Lawnmower Man exploded the limits of graphics technology. As a game, it will blow your mind with a dazzling blend of breathtaking 3D and blockbusting action.

It all begins in the shadowy research agency known as 'The Shop'. Here, the brilliant scientist Dr. Angelo uses Jobe, a simple Lawnmower Man, as a guinea pig in his Virtual Reality experiment...and creates a monster, transforming him into the superhuman Cyber-Jobe who vows to dominate mankind. Now the race is on to destroy The Shop before CyberJobe can break out of their computer system and reach the global computer network, from which he will be able to control and manipulate the world's computers.

Q-LETTER

GOSSIP FOR EGM SUBSCRIBERS ONLY!

...Oh boy, loyal Q-readers, the Q-Mann is back once again with a handful of taunts and a boatload of rumors from the underbelly of the video game industry. Plenty of laughs this issue, kiddies, as yours truly exposes the truth behind the Saturn system and dives deeper into the swirling current of gossip circling around Nintendo's latest super system announcement...For starters, Nintendo is already starting to re-evaluate the decisions behind the Silicon Graphics brains that were originally going to be placed under the hood of their Project Reality. Either that, or the Q has discovered that Sega is a lot smarter than Nintendo gives them credit for. Developers for Sega's latest mega machine have been told that one of the first platforms that will be used for the development of Saturn software is, you guessed it boys and girls, the Silicon Graphics work station! While SGI rakes in the cash, however, game developers are scrambling to find programmer/artist types sophisticated enough to use the 100K+ machines. The Q-Mann can't wait to see what both machines can do, but with Sega and Nintendo both trying to out-do the other in the design stages, yours truly wouldn't be surprised if the machines never came out (although the big N would be batting 1.000 if that bit of speculation were to come true)...The Q-Mann wishes to extend a great big word of congratulations to Andy Eddy. Previously of the now defunct Video Games and Computer Entertainment, our main man has signed on for an extended tour of duty with GamePro. My hat's off to you bud, and for all of you who have been writing in, his wife's name is not Betty...

...Off to other shores, the Q-Mann has learned that a flood of European developers have set their sights on the U.S. as the next video game world to conquer. Quartermann is predicting here that no less than a dozen new companies, all with roots firmly planted in the U.K., will make their way across the big lake looking to spread their gaming talents on players throughout this country...Speaking of the England, the Quartermann has seen an early mock-up of the U.K. version of EGM, which will hit bookstores through Merry 'Ol England in a few months. Look for my name to grace the pages if you're on holiday...Sega's readying a new CD-based game that's absolutely incredible! While the Q-Mann is sworn to secrecy, I can tell you that it updates an existing Sega franchise and includes some of the best graphics and music you'll ever find in a home video game. Look into next issue for more info...

...The third wave of 3DO software that is now about 50% has a few shining stars standing out from the pack, including Tidal Wave, which has nothing to do with water, but does have some of the most unusual play mechanics the Q has ever seen. This system is long on graphics and cotton candy, but until the beefier titles start showing up, my opinion of the super system isn't going to move much. Although Wall Street feels that the machine may be more air than reality, yours truly is willing to stick it out for the long run...Comic companies are auctioning off the rights to their games left and right. Look for TH*Q to serve up Jim Lee's WildC.A.T.s, Sony will deliver Todd McFarlane's Spawn, and other hot properties like Shadowhawk and Youngblood are also in development...Mortal Kombat 2 is roaring through arcades, with the hottest selection of characters, hidden play techniques and background story this Q-Mann has ever laid eyes on! Until the final version hits the streets about the time you read these words, the final characteristics of all the Kombat participants is unknown (Midway keeps changing the chips at the test sight every day)...Video games are going to the movies, with Street Fighter and Double Dragon now underway. One of the founding fathers of Lightstorm Entertainment, meanwhile, has acquired the rights to produce TV and movie versions of Mortal Kombat and Trimark will be making a movie and video game of their new title, Evolver, at the same time. The Q-Mann pulled a few strings, kiddies, so keep your eyes peeled during Evolver and you might see John Conner reading a copy of the number one name in video games...

...Both Electronic Arts and Atari are courting arcade operators and developers to create special coin-op versions of their boffo home hardware! The Q-Mann has learned that both companies are searching for ways to expand the scope of their presence in the market and also create their consumer titles while building in some arcade exposure at the same time...The big rumor of the month is that Electronic Arts is aiming for Williams in an effort to capture the license to hot titles like Mortal Kombat 2 and others. Seems the deal for Midway to move into consumer gaming has met with a snag and EA, a company best known for its home sports games, is looking for some licensing power. Acclaim is trying to bid for an extension on their agreement with Midway, but as of press time, the Q-Mann hears rumors that EA has the upper-hand...While we're on Midway (and before we run out of room), the Q has played an early version of the company's Judge Dredd coin-op (based on the Sly Stallone movie coming next year). Good stuff!...

- QUARTERMANN

The Q-Mann Top Ten will be back again next month, kiddies, so that EGM can bring you this important announcement...

This is your chance to connect with EGM and get the goods in return - your very own Mortal Kombat 2 machine delivered right to your door! What a deal!...

...Simple fill out your name, address, phone number, age, and favorite Mortal character to Sendai H.Q. for automatic entry into this killer contest! The rules are the same as all the other Sendai contests, and the decision of the judges (that's me) is final...

...So show your stuff and get the card in today, bucko, because the Q-Mann's only gonna wait until January 1st for the cards to get here - after that and you're dropping quarters at the arcade! Act today and remember, void where prohibited by law, taxes are the responsibility of the winner, the decision of the judges is final (you already said that stupid), and the random drawing will be made from all entries received before January 1, 1994. Got it? Good!...

SUPER EMPIRE STRIKES BACK

THE Q-MANN HAS USED THE FORCE TO REPORT WITH THIS SPECIAL REVIEW OF ONE OF THE HOTTEST ACTION GAMES GOING FOR THE SUPER NES!

...While yours truly has a very special place in his heart for the first installment of the 'Super' Star Wars saga, this follow-up to the first game takes the concepts behind the first and expands them with mixed results...

...While the scope of the game levels remain expansive, and the standard scrolling action is broken with additional play modes, extra features often muddle, rather than improve, the game play...

...Still, if you're a Star Wars freak and into these types of action games, Super Empire doesn't disappoint. The only real let-down is an expectation for something a little beefier than the first entry as well as a longing for the next chapter, "Return of the Jedi", once the game ends...

SEGA REN & STIMPY

THE Q GOES ONE-ON-ONE WITH THE MOST UNIQUE GAMING DUET TO APPEAR SINCE PAC-MAN!

...The latest take on the Nicktoon stars definitely does a lot to elevate the concepts behind the show into a legitimate video game contest. The mix of humor and action keeps the pace of the game ever-changing and at most times left the Q-Mann in stitches! The action isn't overwhelming, so gamers of all ages should connect with the concepts embraced in this game. Overall, this cart is plenty of fun from start to finish...

ED SEMRAD

Mega Man X is one of the best action games on any system anywhere. The action and graphics are superb. I like the fact that you can power-up the weapons you collect from your opponents. The only complaints I have are with the lack of challenge. The game goes by too quickly, and I don't care for having to play that one level first either. Overall, this is a game that shouldn't be missed. It's loads of fun.

DANYON CARPENTER

Let's start off by saying that this game is no simple 8-Bit translation. What we have here is the ultimate in action games. Mega Man X is packed with so much strategy and incredible weapon power-ups, you'll wonder why games aren't made like this everyday! Superb graphics and a great soundtrack complement perfect play control. If you're looking for one game this year, you needn't search any farther.

AL MANUEL

This is AWESOME! It's been a long time since I really enjoyed a good action platform game. This game took everything that made the previous MM games so good and totally improved upon them. The excellent graphics have some butt-kicking effects mixed with stereo music and sound. The new Bosses are very cool with their awesome attacks. Who cares if this is a bit easy, I'll play it till my eyes bleed!

SUSHI-X

The theme of Mega Man will never get old especially when it's done this well. Is it the great graphics, the incredible play mechanism, the fantastic control...Yes! From start to finish this is one of the best action games of the year. This may be a bit too easy for Mega fans but there is tons to explore and each level seems like a new adventure. This definitely gets the Sushi two swords up!

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

Obitus

Bullet-Proof / Super NES

If you're an RPG fan, then this title will appeal to you. Otherwise beware! Obitus is a very slow-moving RPG that will appeal more to patient gamers. The graphics are good, but the bottom line is you must like RPGs.

8 ED 7 DANO 6 AL 5 SUSHI 6 MIKE

Chester Cheetah Keneko / Super NES

The first Chester Cheetah didn't exactly set the world on fire, and this second one is just more of the same. If you are a die-hard Chester fan, then this game is for you. Otherwise just don't expect too much.

T2: The Arcade Game LJN / Super NES

Bang! Bang! Shoot-em-up! The big-time arcade game comes to the Super NES courtesy of the Super Scope! It is a pretty good translation, with good graphics, yet the game as a whole is just a tad on the difficult side.

Alfred Chicken Mindscape / Super NES

Here you have a cute game that the younger ones will enjoy more. Alfred is a slow-moving game requiring more strategy than being able to run, jump and grab items! It takes a while to get in the swing of it, though.

Dennis the Menace Ocean / Super NES

Ah, yes—more Ocean/movie games! The graphics are excellent, but the control needs a bit of work. As a whole, though, the game is somewhat unappealing, with a main character that just doesn't come to life.

Jurassic Park

| Action      | Now    |
|-------------|--------|
| Levels: N/A | 16 Meg |

Jurassic Park is one of the best movie licensed games I've seen in a long time. It fits the movie very well, and its unbelievable music will keep you riveted to the screen. The 3-D scenes are totally hot, except for Level 4 of the ship (it goes on forever!) Unfortunately, as good as this game is, it's also easy. I beat it the third time I played it. It also needs a password feature or something. Still worth playing.

I'm happy to see one company make a great use of this movie license. I really like the way the game has overhead views and the 3-D perspective, it's sort of like playing Wolfenstein 3-D with dinosaurs. The sound was very impressive and made the game much more enjoyable to play. It's an exciting game overall with cool graphics of the dinosaurs, a must for JP fans. The only drawback to the game is that it's too easy.

I would have to say that this is probably the best version of all the JP games. The best part of the game is the fact that it follows the book more than the movie, so you'll be able to play scenes that were taken out of the film. I think the game plays pretty well. That was until I got to play the 3-D views. I found the movement of your character to be too choppy and it really annoyed the heck out of me. A decent title, though.

It was a great movie but I thought this game was a little too slow for my taste. The little pop-up info. boxes get annoying after a while. The graphics are OK, but they could be better. The action is good, but like I've already said, I got a little bored with this. Although we've seen different versions of this game on other platforms, this is probably the best version yet. Fans of the movie will like it.

Super NES Capcom

Aladdin

| Action      | Now    |
|-------------|--------|
| Levels: N/A | 16 Meg |

While the animation may pale in comparison to the Genesis version, this cart shouldn't be overlooked. Its graphics and music are top-notch, and the control is pretty good (except when you jump on an enemy). This game will keep most players working at it, as it's tough, but not impossible. Aladdin suits the movie just fine. The later levels are really neat. This is a good action game for Super NES owners.

What can I say about a game that is made by Capcom and features Disney Characters from a blockbuster movie? Excellent! Every aspect of the game impressed me from the beginning to the end. The animation is as smooth as it could be, the sound followed the movie to a tee, and the game play couldn't be better. Whether you liked the movie or not, this cart is definitely worth a thorough play through.

As a big animation fan, I am very impressed with the work put into this game. It's very difficult for any company to translate a movie into an excellent video game, but Capcom has definitely delivered the goods with great game play, awesome graphics and a very impressive soundtrack. The levels are long, but not endless. The humor of the film has even been added with occasional appearances from Genie. Cool game!

Nice game! Superb control. It's a little hard to get the hang of it at first, but once you do, you will be all set! The graphics and sounds are really fantastic, and the animations are very exceptional. My only gripe about this one is that it's a tad on the easy side (a little too easy). Other than that, this version of Aladdin is great! This would be a great game for the younger gamers. Good job Capcom!

Super NES Sony Imagesoft

Cliffhanger

| Action      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 8 Meg |

Cliffhanger is a poor man's Double Dragon. It's just too choppy to keep my interest. The same bad guys show up over and over, and the game play is not there. The graphics are pretty good, and the scenes with the avalanche are particularly exciting, but I just couldn't get into this cart. This would best be suited for fans of the movie, or those die-hard players who must have a side-scrolling fighting game.

I really enjoyed the movie but this is another cart that fits in the category of being totally disappointing. First of all, the graphics have a lot to be desired and the control has to be some of the worst I've ever seen. The sound seems to be more annoying than the graphics at times, and the attack method reminds me of cheesy old arcade games. No creativity whatsoever and a bad use of a movie license.

There really isn't much worth mentioning about this game. I tried to give it a chance, but I just couldn't! First of all, the animation was not up to par, which added to the poor game play. Second, the graphics are nothing to scream about. Although it's set in the snowy mountains, it seemed like a two-color game with whites and grays. I got tired of the game very easily and gladly turned it off. Other than that, it's just fair.

Well, what can I say? I didn't like this one at all! It suffers from poor control, and a lack of originality. There's nothing really special here. It reminds me of a bad Double Dragon in the snow. I just love games where the enemies flicker and die when you hit them! In addition, the bad John Lithgow boss made me want to jump off a cliff myself! Even the graphics are below average with really bad colors and poor animation.

The "X" generation of Mega Man adventures is here. For the first time on the Super NES.

As his last great creation, Dr. Light developed "X"—the first thinking, decision-making robot. Years later, Dr. Cain modifies his design to make thousands of supposedly "harmless" Reploids. That is until Sigma, the most intelligent Reploid of all, decides to lead the others in eliminating all humans from the planet. Now "X" must hunt down Sigma using his all-new arsenal, including the X-Buster and the awesome Emergency Acceleration System. It's the Mega battle of the next century, found only on the Super NES.

"X" uses his X-Buster to save Zero, the leader of the Maverick Hunters from the evil Vile.

When the robotic amoeba glues "X" to the ground, either he shoots or he's stuck.

"X" destroys an enemy submarine fuel tank and things get extremely explosive.

Super Goal 2

| Sports      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 8 Meg |

Although sports aren't my forte, this cart showed real promise. It was easy to play, and I got a good feeling for my team. It looks very good, though the perspective got me switched around a few times. The play controls are very well done, and this is an improvement over others of its type. If you want a good solid game of soccer, here's a good place to look. It stands out among the other sports games.

One of the nice things about this cart is that even if you don't have any knowledge of soccer you and a buddy can still pick up the controller and have a good time without having to familiarize yourself with all the technical aspects of the game. It's not the best soccer game I've played but it's not the worst either. Decent game play, OK graphics, and cool options make this one a fun cart for anybody to play.

Well, guys, I'll tell you right now. I am not a big fan of sports games and this game, like most of them, just didn't tickle me the way I like it. The problem I found was that the players on the field were too small (even when they scaled toward you) and I'd lose myself in the crowd. Well, at least the play control was good and there were tons of playing options to configure to the player's preference. Soccer fans should like it.

Hey a soccer game that I actually liked! Although there are better soccer games out there, this scores good marks in the area of playing options, number of teams to choose from, lots of formations and fairly good play control. The only thing that I would like to have seen was bigger players on the field. When the Mode 7 effects kick in, it's easy to lose your sense of where your player is. Not a bad game!

Genesis Virgin

Dune

| Strategy    | 1st Qtr. '94 |
|-------------|--------------|
| Levels: N/A | 8 Meg        |

Dune is more addictive than it would have you believe. I spent many hours playing this cart. It may not look all that good, but once you try it, you'll be playing it for hours. This is one of the most fun games I've played for a while. Unlike most strategy games, it's easy to learn. Even if your not into this type of game, I highly suggest it. Dune shouldn't be passed up. I really like House Ordos, but hate the worms.

I didn't believe that this version could match the fun factor of the PC version, but boy was I proven wrong! Dune offers strategy that has only been seen in games like Herzog Zwei, one of my all-time favorites, and is extremely easy to learn to play. Playing as three different houses really helps the replay value as well. Strategy games don't come along everyday and Dune is one of those rare catches of the season.

I would usually turn away from a game like this, but found myself playing it as if I would never get to review the other games. To get me started there was a very easy-to-learn tutorial of the game, so I didn't have to sit down and read a long and boring manual. There are loads of cool vehicles and terrain you can move. The many scenarios will keep you playing for hours on end. War sim fans will totally dig this.

I'm not usually a big fan of games like this, but this game is pretty cool. I like a game that takes some brainpower to win, and Dune takes some time and patience to perfect. Once you start, you're addicted! This is a very involving game. Some of the sounds get mighty repetitious after a while, but that's a minor complaint. Other than that, Dune offers great challenge and staying-power! Spice is Nice!

Genesis Sega

Eternal Champions

| Fighting    | Now    |
| Levels: N/A | 24 Meg |

Eternal Champions really got a lot of hype. Now that I've been able to play it, I find that it is a very deep and complex fighting game. I mean, the options are almost endless. While the graphics and characters don't have the 'sparkle' that SF2 or MK characters have, nevertheless, they add to the sense of mystery in the game. Good moves, great action and decent control add up to one of the better fighting games.

Eternal Champions, is it a decent fighting game? Yeah, does it rank up there with SF 2, and MK? It doesn't need to. It's in a class all by itself because it's a totally different type of game. Ranked as having more options than any other fighting game Eternal will keep any player busy with all the combo moves it offers. With the compatibility of the Activator, I think this is definitely a cart that's well worth it.

Well, it's a fighting game alright! With the tremendous hype this game was getting, especially with it being 24-Meg, I was beginning to think that SF2 might actually have a legitimate challenge. But, alas, I was let down. Graphics were not that great and the voices of some of the characters were getting to me. The sound effects were nice, but it just wasn't enough to pull me out of my view of the game.

I must admit, I was very disappointed with Eternal Champions. The graphics are not up to par, the sounds need work and the characters aren't exciting. Practically all of their moves are charge moves, which gets old after a while. With all of the hype surrounding this game, I was expecting much, much more! More time was apparently spent on background animations, than on game play.

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

Zool GameTek / Genesis

Zool sports great graphics, but ends up with a case of Super Trolland's disease: your character moves much too fast and with little control! This game is basically identical to Socket, so fans of that game may want to check this out.

7 ED 6 DANO 5 AL 5 SUSHI 6 MIKE

The Lost Vikings Interplay / Genesis

The Lost Vikings was a really good puzzle game for Super NES, and it has been done justice on this platform as well! The music doesn't have the kick of the other version (or the truly colorful graphics), but still a good game!

Fido Dido Kaneko / Genesis

Fido Dido has an interesting idea, but it is buried in a game that has poor control and unappealing game play. The graphics are very well done, but the control gets very frustrating as does the game with each mandatory hit taken.

Chester Cheetah-2

| Action      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 8 Meg |

Chester's all-new adventure looks better than ever, and the animations are really nice. The only notable flaw that I've found is with the control, which to be frank, is poor. It's not all that bad, but it detracts from an otherwise fun game. I do like the ability to choose the stage that you start on. Chester Cheetah is an above average action cart. It would seem best for the younger audiences. It's good.

The animation is cute and the graphics are very colorful, but colorful graphics and animation aren't the only things that make a good game. First of all, Chester loses his life after one hit and the levels are very boring with no real goal in mind. The game itself is more frustrating to play than anything else. I wasn't very fond of the first Chester game, and this one didn't win me over, either. Better luck next time, Chester.

Chester Cheetah is a game I really didn't care for, even though I did get a laugh out of some of his funny animations. The graphics, I thought were done very well. I had problems with the play control to the point where I got totally upset and wanted to crack my controller in two. It was very sluggish and unresponsive. If this is supposed to be a kid's game, it should have been made to play better so they can handle it.

Quite frankly, I was surprised that I liked this game as much as I did. Chester has a whole slew of new and amusing animations. Also included are some new moves like Chester's super jump. This game gets knocked down a notch for poor control, but it's still passable. The levels are challenging enough, but some are just too short for me. All in all, a good game with some genuinely funny moments.

Time Killers

| Fighting    | Now    |
| Levels: N/A | 16 Meg |

Aaargh! What happened with Time Killers? This cart has absolutely no control, the special three-button attack takes out most of the fun, and it doesn't look much better than an 8-Bitter. It's hard to make a good cart out of a mediocre arcade game, and this title isn't even that. The audio leaves much to be desired, and ear plugs seem like the only logical solution. I would not recommend this cart.

Sheesh, watch out for this one cause, it, uh, you know... What could have been a decent arcade translation, even though the arcade version was bad to begin with, was unfortunately mangled in this home translation. The blood and gore now must be accessed by a code, and even then, it's nothing spectacular anyway! Just a warning kiddies, the MA-17 label doesn't make this one cool.

Come on! I didn't even like the arcade game to begin with and to make things worse, it's now on a home system. Why? I can't think of any other reason besides the blood that made this game appealing. And now it needs a code. The graphics look bad and the sounds just, well, I'd better not say. It's better to turn the volume down—better yet, just keep away from it. Time Killers is a Time Waster!

Small characters, bad playability, horrible graphics and sounds like a cat in a tin can are just some of the bad points of this game. The blood can't be seen unless you enter a code, a-la Mortal Kombat, which many believed to be the game's only redeeming feature. Seriously, this game just doesn't cut it! If you are looking for a good fighting game, look elsewhere. Time Killers is just not worth it.

Dracula

| Action      | Now    |
|-------------|--------|
| Levels: N/A | CD-ROM |

Is this the next generation? Hard to tell. The full screen cinemas are totally blurry, and difficult to tell what they are. I like the concept of this game a lot, but the actual game needs work. The rendered backgrounds are fantastic, and the screen transfers are unbelievable. The endless supply of bats and birds (both nearly impossible to hit) don't give the title justice. It just isn't as fun as I had hoped.

I really was looking forward to the release of this title, only to be disappointed again. I will give credit, where credit is due. The sound is pretty cool, but then again it should be, it's on CD. Other than that the game is slow with a lot of choppy graphics, and not very exciting to play at all. Companies needs to realize that it's going to take more than just a couple of cool cinemas taken from a movie to make a decent game.

The CD title has taken me to the next level, alright. I think slow would be the word to describe it best. This, like many other titles, put most of their efforts in full-motion video when it really does nothing for the game. The video is so grainy and pixelated that it left me unimpressed. My main beef is that it plays terrible. The moves seemed to come out at random. The only thing I liked were the cool music tracks.

This Sega CD falls short in some important areas. For one, the animation of the main character is slightly more choppy than I would like it to be. It was a nice try, but no cigar. Second, I had a good laugh while I went through the first level punching birds and bats. Come on Sony, are we really supposed to have fun doing this? I think not! The full screen cinemas are so pixelated, you can't even see anything.

MAJOR MIKE'S GAME ROUNDUP

Joe & Mac Takara / Genesis

This game offers more than the Super NES version in that it is actually closer to the arcade version! However, I wasn't exactly the greatest fan of this game in the first place, but for die-hard fans, check this one out!

8 ED 7 DANO 6 AL 7 SUSHI 7 MIKE

Fun & Games Tradewest / Genesis

The title says it all! This is a good non-action game almost anyone can enjoy! Several areas of play, but one of the best is the painting! This will keep one glued to their television set for hours just having fun! One of those rare games.

Stellar 7: Draxon's Revenge Dynamix / 3DO

Fans of the PC version will be pleasantly surprised by this perspective shooter in the vein of Battlezone! Excellent sounds and graphics (no surprise there) take first chair to the control: it isn't as responsive as it should be.

Battle Chess Interplay / 3DO

If you are a chess fan, then you may want to check this title out. This is simply chess in a three-dimensional board, with pieces that walk, talk, and fight to the finish when taking another players' chess pieces!

8 ED 7 DANO 4 AL 5 SUSHI 7 MIKE

Rescue Rangers Capcom / NES

For an 8-Bit platform, Rescue Rangers comes off rather well and, if anything, makes you wish for a 16-Bit version! Capcom has always done well with cartoony characters and themes and this is certainly no exception!

Fatal Fury Special

| Fighting    | Now      |
| Levels: N/A | 100+ Meg |

Being a Fatal Fury fan I was impressed by the addition of the Bosses and three of the original enemies (so what, Billy Kane was in FF2!) So some reason it doesn't control as well as Fatal Fury 2, but the background details have been slightly improved. Duck King's background has to be seen to be believed. With a special secret for the best players, I can say this is one of the best fighting games

When it comes to fighting games Neo-Geo definitely knows what the game players are looking for. Fatal Fury Special is one of the best tournament fighting games out there! It has everything: awesome graphics, superb game play, decent sound and lots of characters with plenty of moves. The only problem is, if you want to be playing a game with arcade quality, you have to be willing to pay the arcade prices.

Fatal Fury 2 Special is among the best fighting games out there! There's no argument that getting to play as the Bosses along with other new characters is a real plus. The speed of the game is a bonus while the ability the combos are a ton easier to do. The game play took a slight drop, but really isn't noticeable. The graphics are much better, but the music hasn't changed, but who cares? They were cool in the first place!

This sequel is even better than the last one. Faster moves and animations of characters make this one of the best fighting games ever. Awesome new characters and combos to learn makes this cart more challenge for the fighting fans. Great sounds and background brings out the game. It's going to be one of those lost weekends again. For all those people who really like fighting games this is a must-buy.

Putt Putt Joins the Parade

| Adventure   | Now    |
| Levels: N/A | CD-ROM |

Putt Putt is the ideal game for younger players. That little car is cute, and the tasks he must accomplish are well thought out. Even though I'm older than the average player, I can appreciate this cart. You may call me insane, but I can spend hours watching this one. Putt Putt Joins the Parade is perfect for all ages, though the blood mongers will probably ignore it. So far it's the best for the 3DO.

Putt Putt is one of the first carts out for the 3DO, and is labeled ages three to eight. Even though the game is suited to a younger audience I was very impressed and found myself enjoying it. The game is very fun to play and educational as well. One of the best features is that the game is suited to be played by either boys or girls, which is very important when buying a game for the whole family.

Surprisingly, I find this to be the best 3DO title to date. It doesn't have the flair that most games have (or at least try to have), but this is one of the most enjoyable games for any system, even it is geared toward the younger crowd. It doesn't look like much, but this will have you playing more than you would think. Who'd have thought that a little car on a quest could be more fun than shooting down gunfighters?

Quite an interesting game. The box said it was for ages three-eight, but I was really getting into it. From all the games that came out for the 3DO I would pick this one. Many things to do: help fellow neighbors, getting a job and more. Hey, I may be Sushi-X, but there's also a little kid in me. Putt Putt Joins the Parade is more like interactive gaming for the youngsters. I really recommend this game to your little toddlers.

NES

T+HQ

Ren & Stimpy

| Action      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 3 Meg |

This game suffers from the "What-the-heck-do-I-do-now" syndrome. This cart has some entertaining features like the spaceship shooter sequence, and the colorful graphics, but I wasn't completely entertained. Face it, the 8-Bit can do only so much, and this game is only a bit over average. Ren & Stimpy isn't drawn very well. But the controls are pretty good. Overall, this is a typical NES game.

If you're a big Ren & Stimpy fan, and still a hardcore NES player, then R&S might appeal to you, but otherwise, the overall game play is just average, and isn't anything that is going to knock your socks off. The sound is okay but gets repetitious after a while. There's not much of a plot to the game, it's just one kooky adventure after the next. One of the major drawbacks to the game is that it is only a one-player game.

For an 8-Bit game, Ren and Stimpy isn't a bad game, but why bother anyway? Gamers want more colors and better sound and this one doesn't have either one. The only thing keeping me from giving this a lower number is the fairly decent game play. This game was supposed to be funny and it isn't, and I'm a pretty big R&S fan who would laugh at almost anything these guys do. But, sorry. I got no charge!

It's an action game. No, it's a shooter! No, it's Ren and Stimpy on the NES! Hey I know it's only 8-Bit, but what the heck! The graphics are excellent (for the NES, that is!) and the game play is awesome. You can pick up weapons and other icons, too! This is a great game for everyone who is still clinging to their old NES. The level of difficulty may be a bit too easy for a lot of gamers, though.

Duck Tales 2 Capcom / GameBoy

Duck Tales 2 was a good idea, but it gets quickly lost on the tiny screen! You get a sense of grand adventure, but the game gets tiresome quickly with so-so graphics and OK control! Capcom has been good at some GameBoy titles in the past (look at what they did with the Mega Man series), but DT2 doesn't cut it.

GA Deep Duck Trouble Sega / Game Gear

This version of Donald Duck and his wacky antics comes off rather well. After Uncle Scrooge brought home a mysterious pendant, something strange happened to him and Donald must help him. Very large levels with nifty icons to find really spice up the game. There's lots of cool Bosses and the game is just plain fun.

GA Chuck Rock 2 Tengen / Game Gear

This is yet another example of how Game Gear can do justice to a game on a diminished platform! Chuck Rock 2 has basically everything the Genesis has! Huge levels, lots of technique and great animations are the highlight! One quibble, though: the control is loose, and can make things a bit aggravating at times.

GA F-1 Grand Prix Tengen / Game Gear

Once again, here is a game that shows how limiting the portable platforms can be when it comes to this kind of theme: One really needs a bigger platform to really get the feel of a racer! The control is surprisingly good as is the scrolling and movements (with just a hint of distortion and blurring), but in terms of intensity, this game doesn't have it.

7 ED 6 DANO 6 AL 5 SUSHI 6 MIKE

James Pond II

| Action      | Now    |
|-------------|--------|
| Levels: N/A | CD-ROM |

James Pond may be fine for the Genesis, but this game doesn't belong on the 32-Bit Amiga system. The full screen full-motion video is extremely pixelized. The music is really good, and it suits the game well. It is also very colorful if not too much in some areas. The whole adventure isn't all that exciting, but at least it's fun. The control is precise despite the weird controller. Overall a good action title.

As one of the earliest releases for the new Amiga, James Pond II features some very good, but very strange music. The backgrounds can be a real strain on the eyes but are colorful nonetheless. The real problem comes in knowing that this game is extremely old here in the States but does have some nicely pixelated full-motion pictures at the beginning. All in all, it's not a bad first game.

I never was fan of James Pond, but I was hoping a 32-Bit version of this game would change my mind. Well, it did, but only slightly. The adventure didn't grab me much like the previous games, but it was a bit amusing. The graphics are very colorful, as one would expect from the Amiga CD, but, at times, it would get to be an eyesore from looking at the psycho-patterned backgrounds. It's not too bad of a game, though.

The moment I loaded the disc in, I knew I wouldn't be satisfied. Well, what do you know, it didn't change my mind. I can't even tell the difference between the Amiga CD and the Sega version. I hope at least the music would change, but there wasn't any big change to it. Another thing is that it was still choppy. This game would be good for small kids who really don't care about graphics and sound.

GameBoy Acclaim

Bart and the Beanstalk

| Action      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 1 Meg |

For a great license like the Simpsons, one would expect a great game. This GameBoy cart just isn't up to snuff with the other other GameBoy carts. It's way too hard for the average player, and the younger kids who this is probably aimed at will get frustrated. Your slingshot just won't hit most of the enemies. This game is average at best. Bart fans would be able to like it, but I for one, couldn't get into it.

Yowza, this is a toughee. While I always welcome a challenging game, this one can be frustrating. Nintendo may be trying to market the GameBoy as the ultimate yuppie toy, but games like this are way too challenging for kids. This game also suffers from slow responsiveness, average graphics and buzzy sounds. If you must own every Bart game in existence, you may have fun with it, but don't expect greatness.

Let's see. I, uh, don't like it. Honestly, I don't even think Bart Simpson fans are going to like it. The obvious flaw is the game play, which is, well, simply put, bad. The thing is you're provided with a slingshot weapon which seems to be launching styrofoam balls at enemies because they seem to miss a lot, and when they do, they don't seem to do much damage. This offers gamers nothing but frustration.

This game suffers from poor programming. For example, when Bart needs to use his slingshot, it takes forever to fire the darn thing! To make matters worse, its range is horrible. This is just one example of what makes this game a questionable buy. The graphics are decent, for the GameBoy, and the difficulty level is high partially because of the poor game play. There are no continues! Not a wise investment.

Game Gear Sega

Sonic Chaos

| Action      | Now   |
|-------------|-------|
| Levels: N/A | 4 Meg |

The Game Gear keeps on getting better and better all the time. The graphics seem a little darker than the other Sonic titles, but they are just as crystal clear. This is the ideal way to play Sonic on the go. Having Tails back is a good idea, too. If you have a Game Gear, I would seriously recommend this cart to anyone. It has the game play of the 16-Bit ones, and the fun factor to match. Sonic is better than ever.

Wow, another Sonic game. But hey, this is a blast to play and that's what really matters. Sonic and Tails are an excellent team-up. The game looks and plays 16-Bit with intricate levels and kooky craziness that all Sonic fans are sure to love. The music is decent as far as Game Gear games go and the game is a sure fire bring-along for any tedious road trip. This one is a definite must-buy.

Sonic joins the recent crop of exceptional games for the Game Gear. It's a colorful game with the great game play that made it one of Sega's most popular titles. The graphics are just as good as any other portable Sonic title. Like the 16-Bit games, this has super huge levels with tons of areas to look around for hidden secrets, so you're guaranteed to play it more than once. Fans of Sonic series will not be disappointed.

Another installment of Sonic! This one is one of my new favorites! The action is typically Sonic-very fast and furious. The graphics are unbelievably crisp, allowing you even more control over the action. You can play as either Sonic or Tails, too! The levels are nice and long, so you won't get bored with this game for a while! Also of note are the Bosses who are pretty tough! A worthy addition to your GG library!

PANASONIC INTRODUCES INTERACTIVE MULTI

More responsive, more colorful, and up to 50 times more powerful than ordinary systems. It's 3DO technology and Panasonic makes the only system that has it.

Put on your oxygen tank; this is no video fish bowl.

You're diving in the Sea of Cortez, where manta rays, barracudas and puffer fish swim gracefully around you. What's a puffer fish, you say? Just click it on your screen and you'll find out.

As the puffer fish swims before you, a narrator describes it. What you're seeing is actual filmed footage. What you're hearing is full, digital CD sound. It's a lot like educational television, only much more fun. Because you're in control. Go where you want to go; learn what you want to learn. This is one biology lesson you won't be sleeping through. This is R•E•A•L.

Introducing the Panasonic R•E•A•L 3DO™ Interactive Multiplayer™, the most highly evolved integration of audio, video and interactive technology available. It plays audio and photo CDs, and soon, with an optional adapter, full-length movies.

And it will introduce you to a stunning new generation of interactive education, information and entertainment software, from games, sports and flight simulators to travel-ogues, music and children's programs.

What makes R•E•A•L so real? Up to 50 times more power than ordinary PCs and video game systems. Up to 16 million displayable colors for photorealistic picture quality. Right and left outputs for stereo hookup. And a custom multimedia architecture that makes R•E•A•L so responsive it practically redefines interactivity.

Entertainment, music and more interaction than ever—the Panasonic R•E•A•L 3DO Interactive Multiplayer brings you the future in one amazing unit. But be warned: sooner or later you'll have to come up for air.

...Fill me with cream and squeeze me hard, the Q-Mann is back once again with a pot full of gaming goodies! Yours truly has ripped open the biz for the best rumors that money can buy, including info on a bundle of softs being readied for next year...Chalk one up for the opponents of violence in video games! The Q has heard from reliable sources on Capitol Hill that Dan Lungren, the Attorney General of the State of California is concerned about video game violence! Nintendo is in the clear thanks to their policy of applying generous amounts of clorox to their titles, but Sega is going under the microscope because of the excessive gore that Mr. State's Attorney says fills up the Genesis version of Mortal K. Sega's falling back on their ratings system for some coverage, but the Quartermann has yet to hear whether or not this will satisfy the appetite of the white shirt sharks that are circling. Personally, the Q-Mann thinks the parents should decide whether or not to buy the game or turn the TV off if their offspring are susceptible to the graphic images in the game. Better lock up the arcades while you're at it...

...On to other fighting games, the Q hears that Capcom's disappointed with the lack of support that their latest entry has received from fans in arcades. While yours truly still likes the update, it seems that most fans are waiting to put their quarters in Midway's latest Mortal Kombat update instead...In related news, the Q-Mann hears that progress on a new Street Fighter game that uses the characters in a new environment is on the way for '94. Details are sketchy at this point, but the Q-Mann got the inside scoop that something's up in Capcomland...Atari seems to be listening to what the Q-Meister has been saying! Look at the moves that have been made to sign on third-party licensees like Virgin, Interplay, Microprose and Atari Games. Accolade is another one who is letting the progs at Atari develop a number of the company's past titles like Jack Nicklaus Golf, Bubsy, Brett Hull Hockey and HardBall 3. Trust the Q Atari, the brass has their eye on you...

...With all the recent press he's been getting, Sega seems to be having second thoughts about developing an update to their Moonwalker game. I guess having Michael rescue small children really wouldn't be appropriate...Speaking of Michael, the Q-Mann has learned that Ed Semrad does NOT have a hairless body...Here's a hot one that the Q got as we go to press—Midway is the subject of a takeover! That's right, kiddies, the company responsible for arcade hits ranging from Mortal Kombat to NBA Jam has been in the sights of everyone from Viacom owner Sumner Redstone to Electronic Arts! With Midway now shying away from doing their own consumer games, the license to their successful series of coin-op hits has yet to find a suit-or...The connection between EA and Midway is buoyed by Steve Kaufman's addition to the EA ranks to head up their coin-op division with a beefed-out version of their 3DO super system. Steve's connections to the white shirts at Midway make him keenly aware of how valuable Williams should be...

...Look for French game designer UBI Soft to port their Jimmy Connors Tennis game over to the 3DO...While we're on the subject of tennis games, Tengen has plans to revamp their Davis Cup Tennis in '94 to include a four-player combo play that will be compatible with both EA's and Sega's multi-player adapters...While the Q broke the news last month of Sega of Japan's intentions to put the breaks on development of Mega-CD product, yours truly has learned that the starched collars in the U.S. aren't about to throw in the towel! While Japan ramps up for the coming of their Saturn system, everyone on these shores is looking to have both machines on store shelves at the same time, despite incompatibility. Or maybe they managed to fix that little problem...

...Find the pig in this issue and the Q-Mann will send you an autographed polaroid that can't be framed, but could be sold to rival magazines for publication. First come, first served...Is EA starting to slip in the sports dept.? Acclaim has really got the jump this year with NBA Jam hitting nothing but net, even when you stack it next to NBA Showdown '94...The same goes in the Baseball category, with EA opting to wait this season out in an effort to create a "good playing" game. Consequently, their killer LaRussa title won't appear until late in '94. Sega's World Series Baseball, which employs a huge batter perspective, just might end up being the hit of the year...That just about raps it up for this installment of the Quartermann hour, with the one and only Q off to Europe to set up things for Sendai's new U.K. version of EGM! What could be better? Try EGM Squared! 'Till next episode...

NEC OF JAPAN REVEALS SPECS ON NEW FX 32-BIT GAME SYSTEM!

NEC's long-awaited 'Iron Man' system has now come out from under its veil of secrecy. Now code named FX, NEC has stated that their 32-Bit system will be out in Japan by the end of 1994. Many of the old Iron Man specs will remain the same. The previously announced HU 62 series 32-Bit system board and LSI chip set are in the FX, and it now will be powered with their new 32-Bit V-810 RISC CPU. The FX is claimed to be capable of processing compressed digital images and playing them back interactively according to the player's commands at a fast 30 frames per second. Like the Sony PS-X, the FX can also display 16.77 million colors. The price of the CD-ROM only system will be about $480.

In a bold move, NEC announced that the FX will NOT be compatible with PC Engine or Duo software! They expect sales to be about 800,000 units by the end of 1994.

3DO GUN IN DEVELOPMENT!

American Laser Games will be bringing out a new six-shooter-style light gun for the home versions of its games. Best known for the real video footage arcade shooting games, ALG plans to get a lead on the Sega CD and 3DO market with conversions of Mad Dog McCree (now), Who Shot Johnny Rock? (December); Space Pirates (spring '94), Mad Dog 2 the Lost Gold (spring '94), Crime Patrol (fall '94) and a live-action strategy adventure game Santa Fe Trail (fall '94).

SONY DETAILS 32-BIT PS-X!

Sony of Japan officially announced their new 32-Bit game system, code named PS-X, last month. Here are the specs to date:

Price - under $480

Available - Japan, December 1994

Main CPU - R3000A 32-Bit RISC

Secondary CPUs - multiple DSPs and co-processors

Software: CD-ROM only

Colors - 16.77 million

Image Processing - 360,000 polygons/sec

Sound - 44 MHz ADPCM

RAM - More than 3DO

Other Features: Able to compress and decompress real, full frame video 'on the fly' at 60 frames per second using all 16.77 million colors.

SEGA OF JAPAN NOW ON CABLE!

SOJ has begun test marketing a system of distributing its Mega Drive games to homes using cable TV networks. Users will have access to 50 to 100 MD games which will be stored electronically in a host computer at a cable TV station. The user will have a large game receiver cart that will be able to store 16 megabits of game program. It will also have a battery back-up so RPG data can be saved. About 500 households will test the system and if it works out, Sega will be on the air in 1994. The cost will be between $19 and $29 per month.

NEC's new 32-Bit game system, code named the FX will be out in Japan next year!

The FX will be able to display polygon games in over 16.7 million colors!

NEW "TILT" JOYPAD FOR SUPER NES...

The JS-306 Power Pad Tilt has turbo buttons and a new feature where movement of the pad moves on-screen characters.

The JS-306 Power Pad Tilt joypad adds a uniqueness to the home gaming circuit. Actual physical movement of the pad controls your on-screen characters. The Power Pad has two settings of turbo buttons (one fast, one slow), but no auto-fire button settings.

However, the unique aspect of this pad is the "Tilt" option: If you hold the pad level with the ground and rotate it from side to side and back to front, it will move the character you are controlling on-screen! This function is more successful with some types of games than it is with others. For example, shooters like Axelay that require precision movements to survive, are not the best choice for the "Tilt" function. However, behind-the-wheel racing games like Nigel Mansell's World Championship Racing, fared incredibly well when taking the sharp curves!

Another nice feature of the pad is the actual thumb directions control which allows you to press in eight directions, instead of being constrained to the standard four directions. This allows for easier and freer movements of a character in a game. The omission of an auto-fire button is somewhat of a drawback, but the pad is an interesting attempt to insert something new to the control pad scene.

Nigel Mansell's World Championship Racing works well with the Tilt.

...AND THE SG PAD FOR SEGA!

Yes! Now you can perform Ryu and Ken's Dragon Punch with one button!

Although you may never know which system this joypad is intended for by looking at the box, the SG Programpad 2 is in fact for the Genesis and Sega CD systems. For fighting fanatics out there, take note of this pad by STD! This joypad comes with moves already programmed into it. Such fighting games as Mortal Kombat, Fatal Fury and Street Fighter II Champion Edition have the multi-pad and button movements already entered! All you need to do is simply press one button to execute them. For example, Ryu and Ken's Dragon Punch can be done by simply pressing one of the long curved buttons that circles the A, B, C and X buttons. There is also a preprogrammed code to get the bloody version of Mortal Kombat!

For fans of action games, there are also preprogrammed codes for X-Men, Sonic the Hedgehog 2, David Robinson's Supreme Court Basketball and even Jurassic Park!

The SG Programpad 2 has preprogrammed moves. You can also program your own moves as well.

In addition, there is also an auto-fire function that allows buttons to fire independently (this is especially handy for shooters!). Of course, if you are tired of all the programmed moves, you can also play "legitimately," and the pad is six-button compatible. There is also a Slow Motion function.

DRAGONBALL Z by Banpresto

Hey there everybody! Welcome back to another Arcade Action. This month's first game is Banpresto's latest fighting game Dragonball Z. Based on the wildly popular Japanese cartoon series of the same name, Dragonball Z is a fighting game with a major attitude!

Before we go any further, let me make one thing clear. The inclusion of this game in Arcade Action is kind of a first for this column. The reason being is that I don't know if this game is going to make it to the States! The reason I included it here is because this game is so cool, I had to show it to you!

Engage in some serious head-to-head fighting action Dragonball style!

Hopefully, Dragonball Z will make it to U.S. shores. Keep your fingers crossed!

Counter your opponent's attack while learning some moves of your own!

Players can choose any one of eight characters from the Japanese series.

The graphics are so good that you'll think you're watching a cartoon!

You can even play character vs. character to find out who's the best!

HUMAN CUP '93 GRAND STRIKER by Human

Human Cup '93 Grand Striker will probably not be played as much as a fighting game at the arcade, but take it from me this little gem is a blast-and-a-half!

This coin-op has everything you could ever want in an arcade soccer game: huge team rosters, fast and furious game play, a great challenge level and the graphics and sounds to keep you playing for many, many hours. Don't blink your eyes, because you may miss something!

Scoring is no easy feat against the computer. Your best bet for scoring is to drive the ball methodically downfield while passing the ball to your teammates. After a while, you will swear that you're playing a human opponent who can guess your every move. This is not your little brother's soccer game!

The game itself is relatively easy to learn, but hard to master. It requires the right mix of technique. Next time you and your friends are in the local arcade, mulling over which fighting game to play, give Human Cup '93 Grand Striker a try. I know you'll be glad that you did!

Great play control and an enormous fun factor makes this game a blast to play.

Goal! Try to work your way close to the net to set up for the finishing blow!

A handy schematic of the playing field is given at the far right of the screen.

The key here is to remember to play very, very aggressively! Go get 'em!

MAD SHARK by Allumer

Play Mad Shark with a buddy—it really tends to make your life a little easier!

Allumer's Mad Shark is a shooter with a purpose. That purpose is to send you screaming from the arcade in a psychopathic frenzy! Yes, this game is quite maddening.

You are the pilot of an advanced fighter-bomber (what else is new?) on a mission to knock out various enemy encampments strategically located at different points in each level.

Pick up new weapons like lasers and missiles to help you along the way. At the end of each mission, you will fight some Bosses that will turn your hair a lovely shade of white. They are awesome!

Seriously though, if you're into shooters like I am, you'll dig Allumer's Mad Shark. Look for it soon!

Pick up icons like this cluster-bomb to further add to your growing arsenal.

D AND D TOWER OF DOOM by Capcom

Each character has his own magic to use when the going gets rough!

This Boss is a killer. Gang up on him if there's more than one player.

Capcom has a new coin-op in the works, and its tentative title is D and D Tower of Doom. The following pictures were taken under adverse conditions: 15 sliders, a Polish sausage with sauerkraut and onions and four packs of unfiltered cigarettes. Needless to say, the pictures are...um how shall I say...a little blurry. I'm sorry, it won't happen again and I'll have a note from my mom next issue.

Tower of Doom is an action/adventure game in the same vein as Golden Axe and Knights of the Round. D and D Tower of Doom, however, makes a radical departure from these arcade favorites.

One of the really appealing elements of D and D Tower of Doom is the ability of the players to pick which direction their party wishes to go. You are presented with different "paths" to follow, and each "path" offers new battles and things to discover. This offers the players a new game almost every time they play! It's a great idea that we hope to see fostered in other games.

D and D Tower of Doom has some other really good aspects to it. For one thing, you can play with four people. This makes D and D a great game to play with friends!

Another thing that's exceptional about this game is its fantastic game play. Players can pick up a variety of weapons by smashing treasure chests that are scattered about. Each character also has the ability to use a special weapon. These special weapons are different for each character, but they are all very devastating.

You've really got to tip your hat to Capcom. D and D Tower of Doom is going to make a lot of arcade fanatics very, very happy. Slip it a couple of shiny new quarters and enjoy the ride—it's really worth it!

Because of the non-linear nature of the cart, each game is a new adventure.

You can find weapons and other items stashed in the treasure chests.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

It's me again, Terri Aki, and I'm back with more info from the land of the Rising Sun. Japan has seen a lot of changes as of late. A lot of systems have been announced. The Laser-Active systems have been released, and they have a number of really cool games, but whether or not it'll catch on is anybody's guess.

More and more games now have little collectable toys for them. Not just Street Fighter 2 and Fatal Fury 2, I mean other games like wind-up Dig Dugs, Tetris action figures (imagine Tetris blocks with legs and faces), and a bunch of famous video game characters now have their own Barcode Battler cards, like Link and Mario.

The most common trends in video gaming in Japan tend toward deep and involving RPGs, and detailed racing carts, compared to our seemingly endless fighting games. Don't you think we need a few more RPGs in the States? I do. Oh well...

I've collected a rather large number of games for this month I think you'll like. I managed to get a bit more on Phantasy Star, and I've really gotten into it. That, and Dracula X. Dracula X is simply amazing. Any Castlevania fan should want to play it. So here's the news. Enjoy!

Action

¥8,800

Wow! An action game from Square, now arguably the top Japanese maker of RPGs? Actually, not really, it's made by Hal Laboratory, known for the GameBoy and NES Kirby, and the Super NES NCAA Basketball, all released by Nintendo. However, although essentially a top-view action game, Alcahest's swords-and-sorcery setting and its RPG story, make it a perfect match for Square's own efforts including Secret of Mana and Final Fantasy II.

The game style is similar to that of Zelda or Soul Blazer. The player guides the sword-swinging hero Allen, on a quest to defeat hordes of evil beings. Along the way, Allen can pick up five partners including a white mage, a wizard, a knight cyborg and a guy that turns into a fiery dragon. Once these characters join Allen, any one of them can accompany him on the screen. Besides these characters, Allen must recover Guardian Blades, four sacred swords that represent fire, water, wind and earth.

Using these swords, Allen can unleash devastating magic or even summon forth Guardian spirits to help in fighting.

Alcahest is a great counterpart to Square's RPGs, and it should be checked out. It looks like it'll be hot, and with a little luck, it may even reach the States. We do need more games of this type.

Here's some more news of that hot RPG from Sega. I played it for quite some time, and got really involved in it. The plot is intriguing, and you'll be thrust through it at lightning speed. It seems that Leila, your partner is a bit of a mercenary. So much, in fact, that she won't go with you without money! Soon you'll be joined by Han Murray, an assistant at the academy, which has been overtaken by bio-monsters. When you go find the cause, you come to the shocking realization that the monsters were put there by a field research team. Now the adventurers must somehow find the researchers, and find out their motives. It's exciting!

You can pre-program a set pattern of moves so your characters can fight.

Capcom entered a great float in a parade in their home town of Osaka, Japan. It was designed to look like a fort. Atop the fort were Ryu, Chun Li, and other SF2 regulars as well as the four new Super SF2 characters. The float was surrounded by teams of dancers and guys on roller blades. The band atop the float blared out the theme song of Super SF2 over the two-mile parade route. Capcom's strong showing was rewarded with the Most Creative Float Award by parade officials. One thing is annoying however, considering that Capcom made millions with SF2 (the SF2 Turbo alone racked up sales of over 1.3 million units this year in Japan), they could have used better actors to portray the SF2 characters. (Just check out the photos to see what I mean.)

Can Capcom pick 'em or what?

If you ever wanted to know why a CD has more capabilities than a cartridge, get this game! Truly one of the best versions of Castlevania to come in a long time, this hot title has all the gimmicks like fancy cinemas and fantastic music—but this one also has non-linear game play! It has multiple routes to take and two different level Bosses in each stage. The animation is absolutely incredible and the levels are very long and complex, which really shows off the power that CD storage has! But if you think it stops here—you're wrong! In the next issue we're gonna blow this sucker out!

A surfing Belmont? Go down the stream on a plank of wood to reach the caves.

Where would a Castlevania game be without good old death to haunt you?

So what makes this so cool?!

1. Non-linear play! There are more than three different ways to go through a level and two ways to get out!
2. Backup RAM lets you search other levels you have visited!
3. Absolutely no slowdown or flicker!

To coincide with the release of Takara's eagerly awaited SFC Fatal Fury 2, Hori Electric launched a special SFC controller. Imaginatively named the Fatal Fury 2 Commander, this item is colored a chilling black with the Japanese FF2 logo proudly printed on it. The great part about the pad is that the power and super power moves of all eight selectable FF2 characters are programmed in so that they can be triggered by a single button. It can also be programmed with power moves from other games to gain a definite edge over competitors. How come there isn't one for SF2 Turbo? Hmmmmm.

On the Mega Drive side, Sega launched the cordless pad. Its six-button pad uses infra-red rays to communicate with the game system, so there's no more annoying cords. The receiver for it plugs directly into the MD2. How convenient.

The world's most famous puzzle game is back, this time with a heavy emphasis on head-to-head competition. The player can take on computer opponents or play a friend. In One player Mode, you can choose one of eight characters and take on the others. The cast of characters is very strange, including a werewolf, a shaman, a cute princess, elves and more. Each one has four special skills they can use when they collect colored orbs that appear among the blocks. These skills can really let you hammer on your opponent, but he can also do the same.

This is the ultimate Tetris game, and the first to let you play as a character.

Don't let the blocks get too close to the top of the screen or you'll lose.

The backgrounds on this new Tetris game are quite colorful. A nice touch.

All your old strategies will work here. Get a Tetris and mess up the other guy.

Fujitsu and its car electronics subsidiary Fujitsu Ten jointly developed the world's first car multimedia player. This unit is fully equipped with a high-end car navigation system that provides clear audio and video navigation guidance. Using an optional IC card, it will be able to use a sophisticated navigation system called VICS in Japan.

As the name suggests, Car Marty is fully compatible with the FM Towns Marty, Fujitsu's home multimedia system. Car Marty can therefore use a wide selection of software that covers over 300 titles, including tons of games. It can be hooked up with a control pad, keyboard and even a mouse for running software. Car Marty can even be detached and used in the home.

Fujitsu Ten will be handling production and sales of Car Marty. It is slated for launch in spring next year in Japan. Beware, systems like this don't come cheap. Weighing in with a heavy duty price tag of between ¥200,000 and ¥300,000 (about $1,900 to $2,900), this puppy is strictly for those with the big bucks. This mega-machine is definitely going to attract some attention.

The Car Marty is sure to attract people who must have the latest in high tech.

Perhaps the first ever Japanese anime hero gets a new lease on life. Astro Boy, known as Atom in Japan, first appeared about 30 years ago as a popular Manga comic by Osamu Tezuka. After debuting on Japanese TV as a hilariously atrocious live-action series, the original black and white anime took Japan by storm.

The game itself is a side-scrolling action game with several top-view levels where you fight more enemies. Is Astro Boy back?

At the start of December, NEC Home Electronics of Japan launched their LD-Rom2 system. This is actually Pioneer's LaserActive system made under the OEM license. The machine is priced identical to the LaserActive with the main unit priced at ¥89,800 (about $850) and the PC Engine Control Pack priced at ¥39,000 (about $370). Although NEC won't be selling the Mega-LD Pack for playing Sega games, the main unit can accept the pack. Now that NEC has shown commitment to the LaserActive format, we should be seeing some games from NEC and its licensees. Hopefully it should attract some decent games. It looks pretty good, but only if you can afford the price.

Do you remember the game Othello (AKA Reversi)? This is a take-off on that classic board game. Instead of Othello's two-color tokens (white on one side, black on the other), cute pink and blue cats are used as playing pieces. Although the rules are pretty much the same, the fact that cats are used causes all sorts of havoc. As you know, cats are very finicky and will do exactly as they wish. So sometimes, they will refuse to do as you command, or worse, wander off to join the opposing side. The cats are very unpredictable. As an added wrinkle, cats can fight for spaces. A very unique theme!

Two cats can battle for a strategic place on the board. Watch the claws!

Here's something a dedicated Neo•Geo fan won't want to miss—a realistic figurine of Mai Shiranui, the bodacious fan-wielding fighter from Fatal Fury 2 and FF Special. It's based on the character that appeared in the intense TV anime that was aired in Japan. (Now available on video for a hefty ¥9,800, about $95.) The 1/8 scale figurine is about 8 inches tall. Unfortunately we don't know her measurements beyond that. Made of soft vinyl, this figure comes unassembled and unpainted for a princely sum of ¥5,500 (about $50). Not cheap, but if you can afford a Neo•Geo...

Besides figures from Fatal Fury, many other characters are available in kit form in Japan including, of course, Street Fighter 2.

In the world of video games, what you don't see is often more important than what you do see. Like the stability and financial strength that lies behind every game that bears a company's name.

We've been around a long time and have released our share of hit titles. With more big hits on the way. That's because we've always been very selective in choosing which games bear the Seika name. ## Lethal Enforcers Konami / Sega CD

Tip for Defeating Bosses

There is a simple way to defeat the end of level Bosses in Lethal Enforcers for the Sega CD. Simply aim at the Boss's weapon for an easy victory. This still damages him, but makes it difficult for him to get off a shot. For example, the Level 1 Boss fires a shoulder rocket launcher, so just shoot at the launcher. The Level 2 Boss throws knives, so aim at his hands, and so on. Keep your aim steady and reload quickly. You'll be able to dust 'em off in a hurry.

MOST WANTED TRICK

Now, Mortal Kombat II comes into play as the game of choice for the Most Wanted Trick (we should call this section Most Wanted Kombat Trick). In any case, this hot, new fighting game is already in many arcades and it's taking off like a streamlined jet. The fatalities in the new version are incredible and there is more than one fatality per character! The question lies therein...how do you do each character's fatalities? Anyone who has played the game for any length of time will know at least one of the fatalities for a certain character. Do you know of any fatalities for Mortal Kombat II? Any information on this will be greatly appreciated. If you send in the methods for any fatalities (no bogus letters please), and they're good enough to make it, you'll get your name in print and a game for your system of choice, from the magazine of choice, EGM!

There are great moves in this game. Find the fatalities!

NEW SOFT NEWS

Some hot happenings are goin' on. A whole bunch of cool games are coming out, and a lot more are in development or under production.

The company Sunsoft has announced Kung Fu—The Legend Continues. That cart is based on the show of the same name. Another game is The Death of Superman. You will be able to select from three of the "Supermen": Superboy, the Eradicator and Steel. It's based on the monumental comic series, and is just as action-packed. And the really big news is Zero the Kamikaze Squirrel, a sort of follow-up to their cart Aero the Acro•Bat.

Who Shot Johnny Rock? is on its way to the 3DO from the people who brought you Mad Dog McCree: American Laser Games.

As usual this year, the companies are being rather hush hush about a lot of their projects. What, with CES coming up (Oh joy oh joy! I can't wait!) everyone is holding all their big surprises till the show.

Wait till you see what I've got for you next time. By then, the Las Vegas show will be over.

Enix

Gaia Fantasy*

Super NES

Action/RPG

Surprisingly, Enix is going to be releasing their action RPG Gaia Fantasy in the States. The hero, Tem, is a young boy who must use all his fighting skills, ESP, and wits to overcome a forbidding force of evil that is taking over the world. Unlike typical RPGs, Tem can only level up by defeating all the enemies on a map and collecting magical orbs left by the defeated monsters. In spots, he is transformed into other beings such as a powerful knight to get past certain obstacles. Like The Legend of Zelda, Gaia Fantasy requires you to solve certain riddles and puzzles.

The story is really intriguing. Tem lives in a small village with his grandparents who took him in after his father disappeared on a treasure hunting expedition ordered by the king. One day he is summoned by the King. On that day the King orders him to return the treasures that he does not even have. When Tem explains his situation, he is cast into a dark dungeon cell. While despairing over his plight, Tem is visited by his Father's spirit that tells him to go around the world's ancient monuments and seek out mystery dolls. When the spirits disappear, Tem is visited by the Princess who sets him free on a promise that he must take her with him. She suspects something is wrong with the King, but doesn't know what's wrong with him. And thus begins a long and inspiring journey to all points of the globe.

Gaia Fantasy is a really intense RPG. The action elements are a lot of fun, too. If you like games like Zelda, you'll love this one.

The King has something wrong with him. He seems possessed.

Alas, you have been tossed into a dark and gloomy jail cell.

The action sequences are really intense with attacks coming from everywhere.

Night Trap

3DO

Action

Night Trap is considered one of the best Sega CD games, not to mention one of the most controversial games around the world. It features full-motion video that was interactive. The plot was cool, and it featured vampire-like beings called Augs which drained the blood from hapless girls. The player had to catch these evil beings with a number of deadly traps.

The new 3DO version is a great improvement over the Sega CD version. Are you good enough to stop all the Augs and save the girls?

This nice lady is seeing if that girl is ripe enough for her tastes.

The Aug breaks in, hoping to catch a little late night snack.

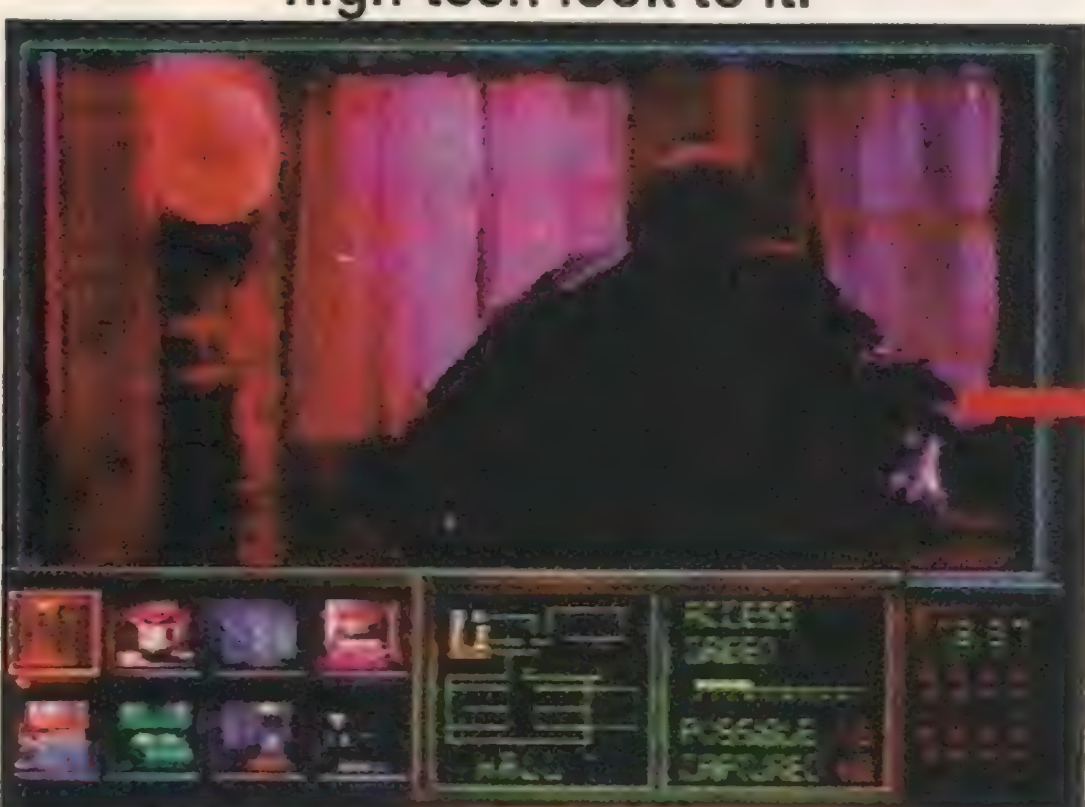

The people at the manor are quite strange. Some may be killers...

The poor girl is about to be captured by the Augs! Better trap 'em.

The control panel has a high-tech look to it.

The Augs are still as terrifying as they were before on the Sega CD.

If you look carefully, you'll see that the video screen is smaller.

The Sega CD version shows its age and color limitations.

Night Trap is still considered one of the best Sega CD games around.

DARE TO COMPARE: 3DO VS. SEGA CD

Take one look at the pictures above, and you'll see how much better 32-Bit looks. The 3DO version has a much bigger screen, and the setup is a little different. The full-motion video isn't as pixelized either. So the clear cut winner definitely is the 3DO. How about a Sewer Shark?

Viacom New Media

Rocko's Modern Life

Super NES

Puzzle

Based on Nickelodeon's new hit animated series, Rocko, comes Rocko's Modern Life: Spunky's Dangerous Day. This game is targeted at kids 6-14 with a special emphasis on puzzle solving. You must control Rocko, a wallaby, who must keep his lovable, but not so smart dog, Spunky safe.

This game is great for the kids, but older players may like its challenge as well. The graphics and bizarre scenes are directly from the popular series on Nickelodeon. This, by the way, is Viacom New Media's first entry in the video game market. It looks to be a good one. It sort of makes you wonder what other Nickelodeon shows will be translated onto video game format. Rocko seems to be a good start.

You'll face some weird squids and other really nasty sea creatures.

That wacky wallaby uses his friend Heffer as a trampoline to save Spunky.

GameTek

Brutal

Sega CD

Fighting

An unusual fighting game is making its way to the Sega CD (and Genesis later on.) It's called Brutal and it takes cartoon characters and puts a story around each one. The fighters range from Tai Cheetah, to Rhei Rat the Kick Boxer. Each has his own path and way of life. The winner of the tournament will go on to face the Dali Llama in a test of skill. Can you defeat the famed warrior?

Brutal looks really good, and there are plenty of cinematics to show the aspects of each fighter. The plots behind each one are great, and the moves are really cool. This cart stands out from the rest.

The graphics of this game are simply stunning. Drool over it.

Kung Fu Bunny smacks Rhei Rat with a real wallop of a punch!

The panther has mastered the secret arts, and he has some special skills.

Addams Family Values

Action

Ocean is hard at work on a game based on the new film of America's strangest family: the Addams Family. You assume the role of Uncle Fester, that balding weirdo who just wants a girlfriend (like Cyberboy). He has some magic tricks up his sleeve which he uses to deal with the many ghosts and goblins which have escaped.

Like the film, this game has some very funny moments. The graphics are really well done, and it looks to be a winner. If you ever want ooky spooky fun, this is where to look.

Uncle Fester has some business with a giant spider on the hill.

Explore every nook and cranny for hidden power-ups and secrets.

You've got ghosts in your garden. Better find a way to get rid of them.

Mighty Max

Action

Look out, here comes Mighty Max. He's a young boy with some unusual talents. Mighty Max is a fun spirited action game where you jump and shoot your way through a number of colorful levels. Mighty Max is another cool action cart for the Super NES.

This place sure gets confusing. You might even get to go underground.

Collect the various items in the trees, but watch out for bad guys.

Wander about in a maze of trees and vines. Don't get lost or you're doomed!

Ocean

Eek the Cat

Action

The non-stop comedy of Eek the cat hits your Super NES with all the humor from the popular cartoon. This cart by Ocean has all your favorite characters from the show, like the Shark Dog. Eek is your standard purple housecat, except for one thing: he has horrible bad luck. This walking death wish will find himself in the worst situations with hilarious results.

Eek the Cat has a number of wonderfully animated cinema displays which are really a sight to see. The game is a great way to relax, and let the cat take the injuries. This cart is very much like the show. If you've seen it, you know what I mean.

Guide Granny along, but make sure that neither you nor she gets hurt.

Meet your darling Annabelle. She's a big pink cat who is very lovable.

The dreaded Shark Dog will make an appearance, and possibly eat you!

This game is no walk in the park and it can get pretty rough. You can punch and smack the ball away from the other player. But watch it, he can call a foul on you. When you leap for the basket, a close-up shot shows you the heat of the action.

This cart has cool digitized voices, and is easy to learn how to play. If you want a sports title that's a little different, move to this.

Try to knock the ball out of his hands when he goes for the layup.

Take the ball back court, and try to shoot from a distance.

Try to get in close to make your shot. You'll score a lot more often.

James Pond III

Genesis

Action

James Pond is back in Operation Starfish. That secret agent fish may have lost his cybernetic stretching parts, but he has new skills to help him. Dr. Maybe is stealing cheese from the moon, and you must put an end to this evil twisted plot.

James Pond III is sort of like a Mario game, and it's faster than Sonic! This adventure is totally huge, and most players will enjoy it for a long time. It even has some really cool digitized voice in it. Overall, it blows the first two Pond games away!

Plot your progress on this overhead map. This game is very big.

Travel along the cheesy moon. Look for hidden icons for points.

James Pond must somehow find the ruthless Dr. Maybe on the moon.

Skitchin

Genesis

Sports

Skitchin is a new sport where you are dragged by a moving car, while riding on a skateboard. Sounds strange? It is! This very different pastime is now making its way to the Genesis. Try to do aerial tricks and amaze your friends. A strange game!

Test your skill by weaving in and out of the line of cones. Be careful.

If you get really good, you can do aerial flips and ollies. Be a poser!

The Incredible Hulk

Action

Bruce Banner, a famous scientist, has accidentally turned himself into the enormous Incredible Hulk. Whenever he gets angry or is exposed to Gamma rays, he's transformed into an unstoppable green behemoth of destruction.

Just like in the comics, the Hulk can pound enemies into the ground. This side-scrolling game has you fighting all the famous super villains, including the Rhino. The Incredible Hulk is an unstoppable force, but will you be able to get through all the levels?

U.S. Gold brings us this cart with all the action from the comics. This game will really turn you green!

These guys are no match for your awesome strength and speed!

The Rhino runs back and forth while trying to gore you with his horn!

You can play as the normal Bruce Banner until you get hit with radiation.

ElectroBrain is developing a brand new F/X chip game for the Super NES entitled Citadel. In it, you control a giant battle system robot that can change into four different forms. You can be a lumbering Walker, a Zippy Land Burner, a sleek Sonic Jet or a powerful Hard Shell.

In this robot you must take on the Aki-Do armies and save the Artificial Intelligence which is keeping the Galactic Empire in peace. You have a lot of weapons and the action of this cart is hot. Stay tuned for more...

Battle huge enemy robots with your transformable mech fighter.

You'll travel across the galaxy to restore the AI Core.

You get to travel anywhere you want on the levels. How cool.

Stage Select

At the Title Screen, Press Up, Down, Down, left, right, then the b button. You can then choose the stages.

Here is a simple trick to select the level of your choice. When you get to the Title Screen where the clouds are scrolling by, press up, down, down, left, right and then the B button. You should hear a ringing noise, and the screen will flash to reveal the words Stage Select, and a series of numbers. Each of these corresponds with one of the levels. Press the Start button when you get to the one you want.

You can only play the level you choose however, as the game automatically resets after you have beaten the chosen level.

Do the code at the Title Screen to get to the Stage Select.

Now you can select any of the Sonic CD levels.

EGM EXCLUSIVE PREVIEW!!

PLAY THE MOST AWESOME TWO-ON-TWO B-BALL GAME ON 3 SYSTEMS

The first arcade game ever licensed by the National Basketball Association slams its way onto the video game scene with Acclaim's NBA JAM.

This popular quarter-muncher features 54 of the hottest players from all 27 NBA teams including: Pat Ewing, Clyde Drexler, Karl Malone and Scottie Pippen—complete with all their signature moves. There are even digitized graphics of live NBA games!

It'll soon be available for the Super NES and the Genesis with 16-Megs of slam-jammin' power! For portable hoopsters, there will also be a Game Gear version coming out. Each version retains much of the arcade original game that made it so fun!

The graphics have remained true to the arcade. Even the digitized pictures of the players are a near-perfect portrait! The voice of the sports announcer is as real as the game being programmed for the CD format.

Of course, what really made the game were the awesome plays you can do. The Turbo Feature allows the player to execute some incredible moves such as super leaps and dazzling dunks.

Imagine jumping as high as three or four stories! How about doing 720° spin in the air and slamming it home, three or four flips and a two-handed jam, or a downtown slam from the three-point stripe? Only in a video game, but this is just too fun, man!

NBA JAM

JAM RULES AND CONTROLS

An NBA Jam game is divided into four quarters of three minutes each. A game begins with a tip-off, as two players leap for the ball in order to gain control. Possession of the ball at the beginning of the second and fourth quarter goes to the home team (team two), and to the visiting team (team one) starting the third regardless of who wins the initial tip or who possesses the ball when the previous quarter ended.

The object of the game is to have outscored your opponents when the final buzzer sounds. A basket counts for two points, when it is shot from inside the three-point line. Three points are scored when shot from behind it.

A defensive player can block a shot, but only when the ball is on the upward part of its arc. If it is touched by a defender on its downward flight, a goaltending call is made, and points are awarded whether or not the basket was going in. Once the ball touches the rim, however, it can be grabbed by any player, either offensive or defensive.

To make identifying a ball-handler easy, whenever a player has possession of the ball, an orange basketball indicator will appear behind his name at the top of the screen. If nobody has possession—the ball is in the air or has been knocked away—there is no indicator.

If a player scores three baskets in a row, he's "on fire!" During this time, he has unlimited turbo, and a much better chance of sinking shots from anywhere on the floor! Only one player can be "on fire" at a time. Being "on fire" lasts until the next opposing basket goes in, meaning that a teammate can score without disrupting the fire. Even if the opposing team cannot score, however, your fire will eventually go out by itself. The ball glows when the player "on fire" holds it and smokes when he shoots it!

Beyond these, there are very few rules to an NBA Jam session. There are no fouls—no reaching in, no hacking, not even a pushing foul—so play strong and take no prisoners!

SPECIAL FEATURE!

EA HAS A NEW LINE OF SPORTS GAMES THAT ARE SURE TO BLOW YOU AWAY!

EA, the leader in sports games, has done it again with new games that are better than anything you've ever seen before. Games like FIFA International Soccer and EA SPORTS Baseball feature better graphics, more options and more intense game play.

They also have rosters full of the games' greatest players. Games like NHL Hockey '94 for the Sega CD feature full rosters and they also have hockey cards in the game showing the players' stats, giving some tips on game strategy and game play as well.

In this special feature, we salute the people at EA as we preview this new lineup of awesome sports games. So strap on your gear and get ready to play!

EA
SPORTS

The sports announcer adds new depth and realism to this baseball game. It makes you feel like you're in the majors and just about to step onto the field.

GAME OPTIONS!

This game is filled with a lot of option screens which make the game more versatile and fun to play—like going straight to the league playoffs!

Select which teams play each other and where they will play!

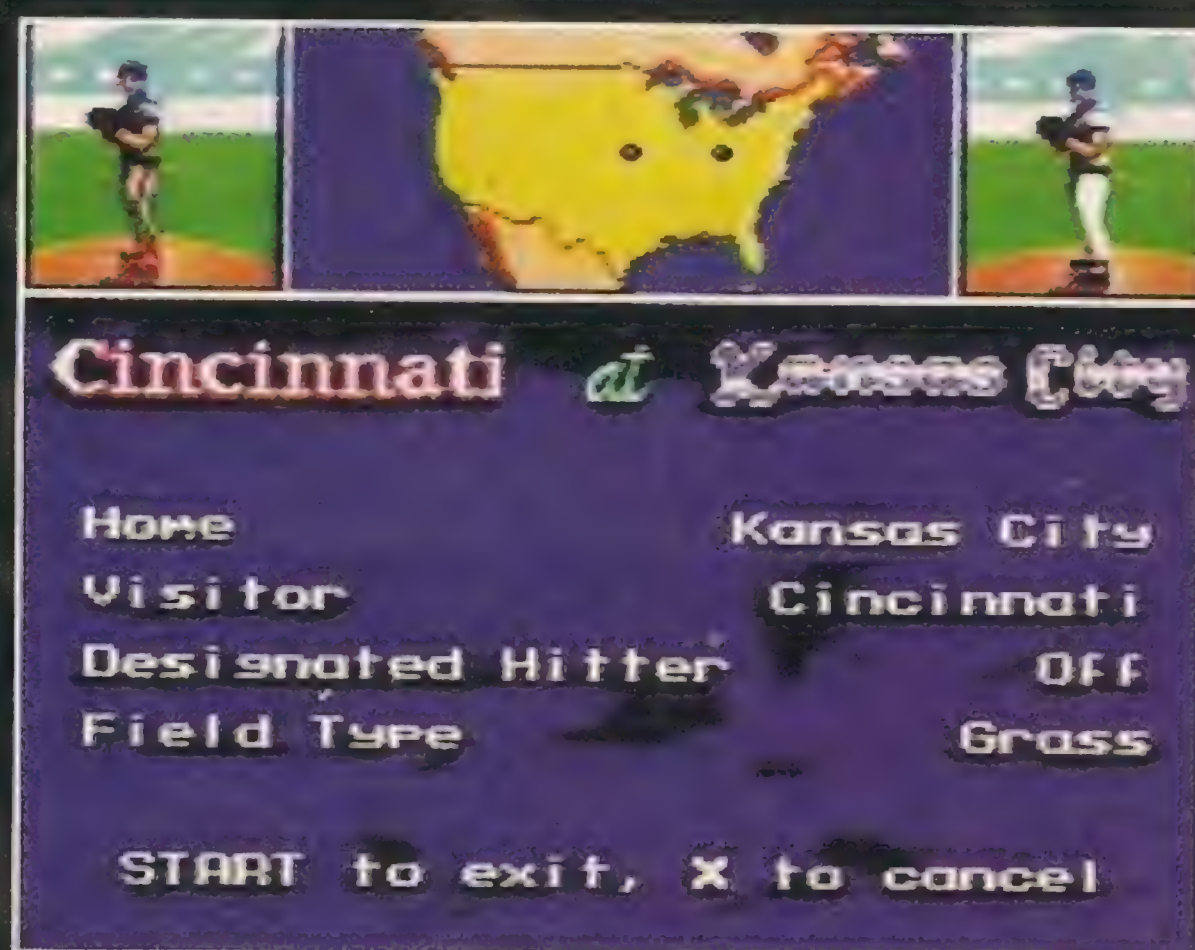

Select what type of game format to play, like regular season or the playoffs.

After you have your teams, adjust the rosters to your liking.

In this menu, select your defensive style to fit the other teams' offense.

Here you can pick designated hitters and the type of field for the game.

Change your game plan in this menu. It could mean the game!

TIME TO PLAY BALL!

This guy has got it in the bag. Make sure you call it so that your guys won't get confused and miss it!

Your back catcher will run and try to save balls that are fouled out. He'll even chase the ones that are way out!

This guy has got nothing but air on that swing! It takes a good eye and fast reflexes to hit one off of this pitcher!

It doesn't look like the ball is going to drop anywhere in the park!

Looks like this one got away! Better hurry and get it before they score.

Keep your eye on the ball and take only the good pitches!

MARIO ANDRETTI RACING

You have the option to race on three different circuits in this game.

Mario Andretti Racing by EA Sports is a new type of racing game for the Sega Genesis that features three types of race cars: Sprint, Indy and Stock, with the option of tearing it up on three circuits with five tracks per circuit. The game is one- or two-player head-to-head and features some great options such as an EA Sports garage where you can upgrade car parts from race to race, and also a Career Mode where you and another player can track your stats for all of the different cars and courses.

At the Car Selection Screen, you can pick your team, transmission and even color.

At the Track Selection Screen, get advice from Mario himself on race tips for the track of your choice.

Check out the cinema after your pole position to see where your team will qualify for the next race.

At the custom performance center you can upgrade your car parts such as brakes, tires, engine size and even your pit crew.

There are many views to choose from when racing, such as the Split Screen, Map View, Full Screen and Race Leader View.

After each race, check your team's standings to see whether or not you can afford to buy new parts for the next race.

Take it easy on the corners, and watch your gauges, or else!

With a lot of practice, hard work and determination, you can bring home a victory, and the checkered flag.

NBA SHOWDOWN '94

If intense NBA basketball is what you're looking for, then NBA Showdown '94 is the game for you.

All the aspects of the game are kept intact, and if you're not careful you might even get slammed on.

NBA Showdown '94 from EA SPORTS, for the Sega Genesis, is not just another basketball game. With the option of 4-way compatibility, six-button controller compatibility, and the numerous play options, this is one basketball game that will stand above the rest. To start, NBA Showdown '94 features all 28 NBA teams with a rating system that features over 5000 individual player ratings for every NBA player from the 93-94 season. That's just the beginning; the cart has a battery backup to play reduced or full season, and keep track of team standings and league leader stats. In postseason play, you and three other players can design your own dream team and see if you have what it takes to go all the way!

Check out the digital scoreboard. The coaches even jump up and down when they get frustrated.

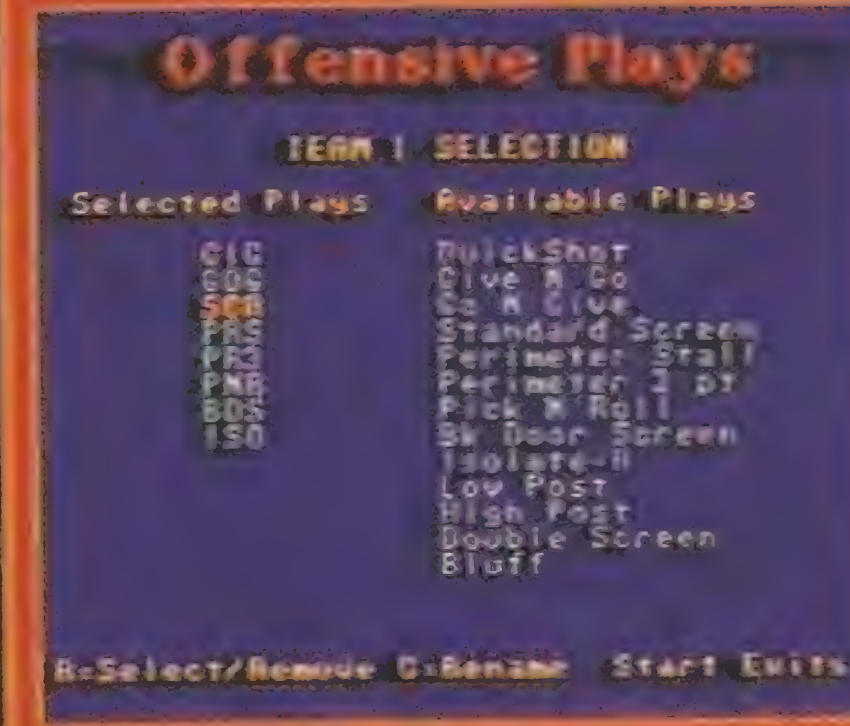

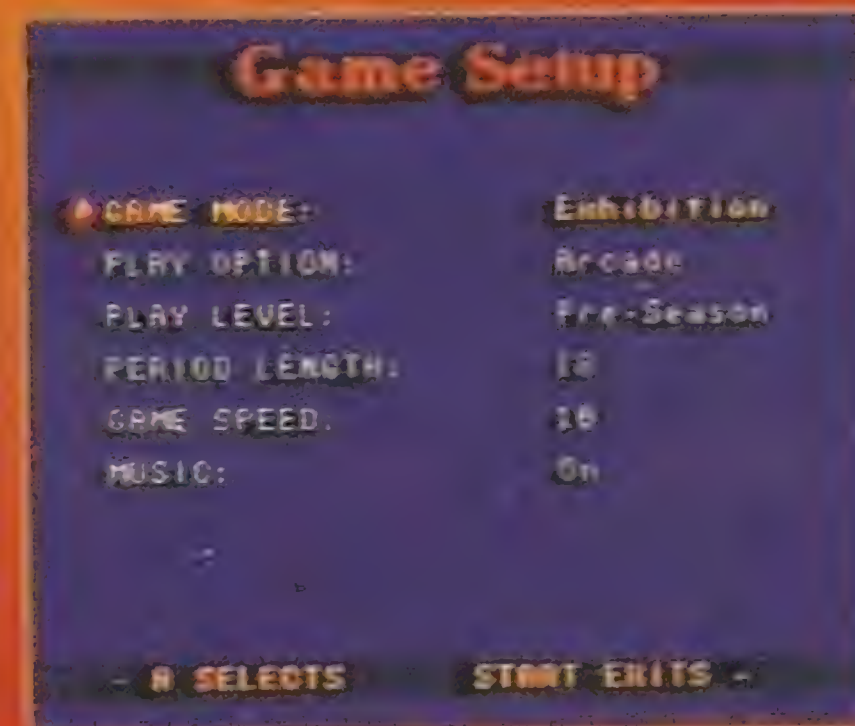

NBA Showdown '94 features a new free throw perspective. Watch the fouls, or you'll see a lot of it!

At the Team Select, Player Control Setup and Game Setup Screens, there are a variety of options, such as choosing between one to four players, selecting between any of the 27 teams, and picking either Exhibition, Season or Playoff Mode.

One of the most unique options is that you can not only call offensive and defensive plays on the court, but you can choose which ones you want to use, and you can also rename them in your own code to keep one step ahead of the other players.

What's a basketball game without a slam fest? Quick, grab your camera!

You can even check out the EA SPORTS hustle board for the most important stats.

Whoomp! There it is! Over 20 signature slams are featured in NBA Showdown '94.

Ron Barr's voice on the Sega CD will add an extra sense of realism to the game.

Is that the '93 model of the Zamboni, or the new improved aerodynamic '94 model?

NHL Hockey '94 features authentic arenas with 70 different pieces of CD organ music.

NHL HOCKEY '94

Sharpen your skates, throw on the pads and face off!

Keep your cool or you might end up on your back!

The referees are very particular when it comes to penalties.

Check out the awesome hat trick. Nice play!

During the game, you can pause and go to the main menu and access over 15 different options. Here's just a few: change goalie, edit lines, team roster, instant replay, game and player stats, record holders and even a crowd meter.

EA SPORTS, the company that brought you NHL Hockey '93 for the Sega Genesis has now branched out to the Sega CD with its new release, NHL Hockey '94. The new '94 version features all the real teams and logos of the NHL, with updated player stats and team rosters. One of the more noticeable changes from '93 is the option of having full goalie control, and the ability to play two-against-two with the new four-player hookup for the controller. The CD sound and improved game play will satisfy even the most hard-core hockey fanatic.

NHL Hockey '94, is loaded with just about any type of stat you could ever imagine. You can preview stats for each team, player and arena. Plus, there are 300 video clips of live NHL action, and digitized cards of each player.

GREAT CINEMAS

THROUGHOUT THE GAME!

All through the game you will see fantastic cinema shots like these. They add a sense of realism that you can't get anywhere else! It's great to see players that you know in your game.

JOHN MADDEN FOOTBALL

The second you fire this cart up you're not going to believe your eyes as you see the awesome graphics being thrown at you. It's so intense you can actually see the reflection of the Lombardi trophy as it rotates.

The man who has provided some of the best commentary for football games in the past is making a new debut on the 3DO system. Madden will give you tips on choosing between 38 teams: 28 from the '92 roster, 8 greatest and two Madden.

John Madden Football features very realistic players that are fully digitized, along with a real 3-D stadium. If you're looking for genuine NFL action, this is the closest you're going to get without being at the game.

One of the bonuses of the game is all the information that is at your fingertips about each team and individual players. John Madden Football also has a huge assortment of plays, over 100 for each team. Excellent!

One of the greatest options of this game is that Madden will give his own scouting report of each team by previewing real films of some of the most incredible plays ever made.

Madden gives his scouting report on the eight greatest and two all Madden teams.

What good would a football game be without referees? Madden has it all!

John Madden and EA SPORTS, two of the most important names when it comes to sports and video games, have teamed up to bring one of the most impressive football games to the new 3DO system. If you've been a fan of John Madden's earlier football games then you're going to fall in love with this one. It features some of the most incredible graphics, such as NFL video footage from each team and digitized audio and video commentary from the gridiron genius himself, John Madden.

Every aspect of the game, down to the coin toss was made realistically by digitized video.

Madden carries on the tradition of NFL football with dancing celebrations after each touchdown.

John Madden features real NFL teams, logos and player numbers. The instant replay feature lets you scan on any player and also has a cool tilt zoom on the camera.

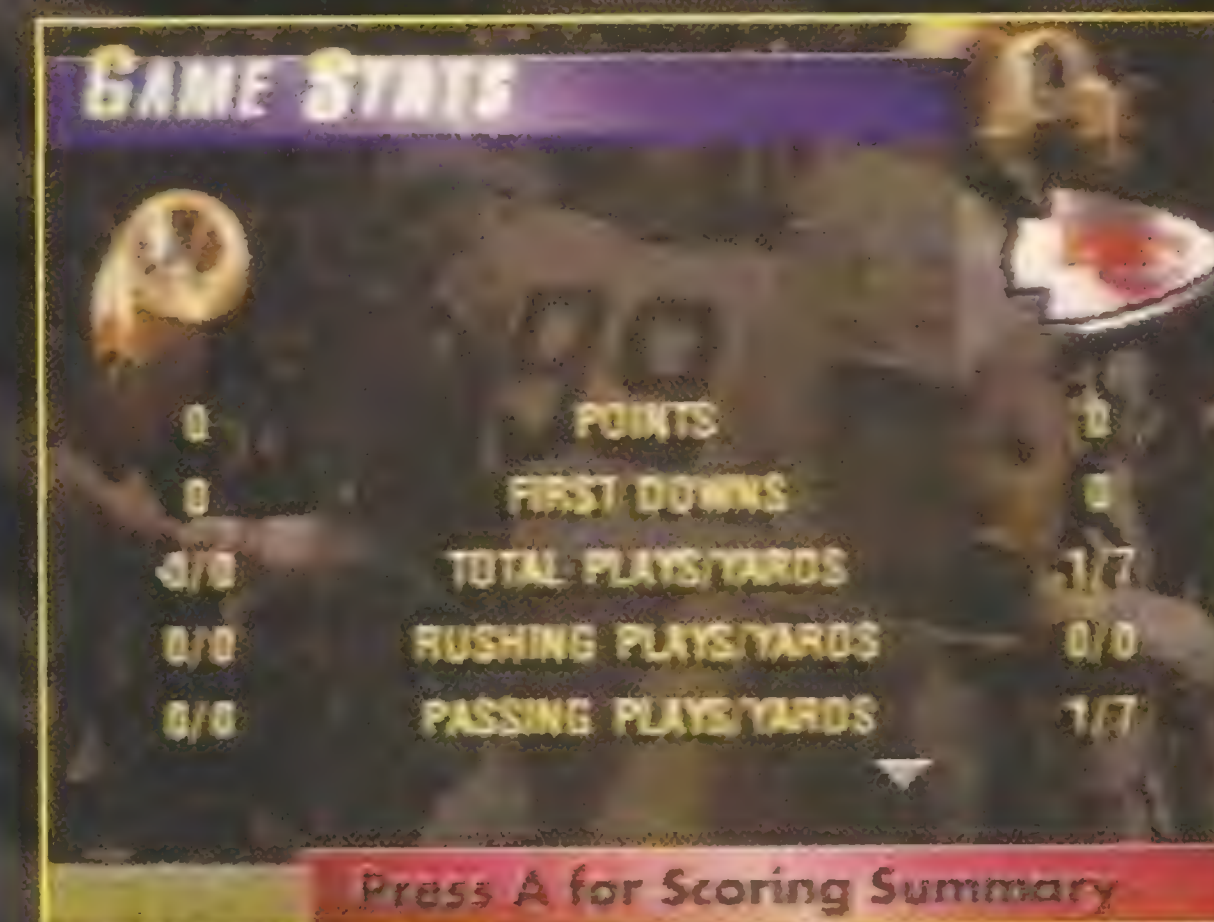

Watch the digitized background shots of the teams. Check out the stadium shots: Denver's Mile High, and Washington's R.F.K. Could Dallas be playing a Monday night game?

At the Game Set-Up there are many options such as time, weather and sound.

In this game, number 19 plays—unlike in the real NFL.

There are plenty of stats for each team and player. You can also sub QBs!

FIFA INTERNATIONAL SOCCER

After the coin toss, pick a side and hope you made the right choice.

This goalie is awesome! Watch the crowd go nuts for him.

If the ball goes out on you, the other team will have to throw it in.

The play goes on, even if there is a man down on the field!

After a blocked shot on goal, the ball flies out into the crowd.

Your player is always highlighted by the yellow star surrounding him.

GAME OPTIONS!

This Genesis game has many options: the choice of game play, teams, time limits and many other options. All of these options make this an intense and involving game to play. There is also an instant replay feature that lets you watch your plays!

In the game Setup Mode, you can choose language, Play Mode and other unique options to spice up the match.

This mode lets you view the stats of the teams that you can choose from, so you can make a wise decision.

When you pause the game, this menu allows you to see aspects of the game, like instant replay and change formations.

A BRAIN IS A TERRIBLE THING TO WASTE.

Take a journey to the center of the mind. This situation is deadly serious. You are coursing through the body of corporate mogul Tiron Korsby in search of a brain manipulation droid planted by a rival company. Time is running out and you're forced to play a fast and furious game of hide and seek. Waste the droid before it wastes Korsby's brain.

Surging through veins, arteries, and other body organs, you blast attacking viruses and your enemies' defensive probes. This struggle for control features non stop action, unparalleled cinematic style imagery, and incredibly smooth gameplay. Over 500 MB of graphic and sound data, coupled with an original soundtrack from Rick Wakeman brings you the look and feel of a true inner-body experience.

YOU MAY BE BRAVE ENOUGH,
BUT ARE YOU
SMART ENOUGH.

If this quest was simply a test of physical prowess, you would be all set. But the truth is, your journey will be filled with diabolically challenging puzzles. In order to save your sister from the evil Beast Master Zelek, you need to scour Kara-Moon and confront him face to face. But, to succeed you must master the most deadly weapon: your mind.

A sinister, intelligent game, filled with fiendish puzzles and challenging battles, Shadow of the Beast II is not your ordinary role playing game, stressing brawn alone. Beast II features an essential blend of strength and brain power. Well orchestrated music tracks, eight-way scrolling and cinematic animated sequences transport you to Kara-Moon, the land of the Beast.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

THE SPORTS WARFARE STARTS ONCE AGAIN AND SEGA HAS DEVELOPED A NUMBER OF INCREDIBLY INTENSE GAMES. WITH THE INTRODUCTION OF THE NEW DSP CHIP TECHNOLOGY, SEGA LAUNCHES VIDEO GAMES TO NEW HEIGHTS.

With many companies making sports games, it is hard to pick from the huge (I mean immense) variety of sports carts. One company that you can really look up to is Sega Sports.

Sega has released a wide assortment of sports games in relation to baseball, football, racing and many others that you can play on the Sega CD, Genesis and Game Gear. In the following pages, you will see the screen shots and decide on your own how intense you think they really are. Sega's new lineup is: NFL's Greatest: S.F. 49ERS vs. Dallas Cowboys CD; Pebble Beach Golf Links; NBA Action '94: Hosted by Marv Albert; World Series Baseball; Greatest Heavyweights; NFL Football '94: Starring Joe Montana; Wimbledon Championship Tennis; GP Rider and finally the long-awaited Virtua Racing.

With other great games coming and with the New DSP Chip technology (which is being used in Virtua Racing) allowing graphics (especially polygon graphics) to go even faster, no one knows what Sega has in their pockets. Hmm...VR Basketball?

Like the arcade version, you can pick from a number of views: cockpit, chase, overview, etc.. Keep track of your speed, lap time and standing throughout the race. Pick from Beginner, Medium or Expert Mode. But remember to watch for incoming cars or you'll be eating dirt.

Virtua Racing has been the hottest game in the arcades. With the new DSP Chip technology, you can now save your quarters and play this intense game right in your living room. Very smooth polygon graphics are maintained in this version. Race through multiple courses and view the action from different perspectives.

Virtua Racing

Pebble Beach is considered as the most famous and incredible golf course in the U.S. The map of the course in the Genesis version is not quite as accurate in details (such as the trees, and size of the course), graphics and animations are highly commendable. This golf game differs from others because of this, but it has multiple options improving the way you play on screen.

A sequel to Sports Talk Baseball, World Series Baseball is the only baseball game licensed by Major League Baseball and the Players Association that supports all 28 teams, nicknames, logos and stadiums. You can even play the new Colorado Rockies and the Florida Marlins. All the actual stats and skill attributes from the '93 season are here. Full season action commences with the choice of League Play, All-Star Game, League Championship Series and the World Series. With the all-new "In the Batter's Box" view, you can really see the ball coming right at you. Sports Talk's play-by-play and color commentary has been improved. Battery backup enables you to record your full season stats and standings. Incredible graphics really show off the game by the way the players bat, run and throw like the real baseball players. Play against the computer or against a friend. Look for it this spring.

NBA ACTION

HOSTED by MARV ALBERT

During play, you can press for speed bursts to catch up to the person who has the ball. Multiple "in your face" and "brag dunks" makes this game more exciting than others. But, watch out for the "not in my house" blocks. A becoming feature in a sports game is the battery backup, to save your stats and standings throughout the season. Get the tape because it's a four-player game. Awesome!

NBA Action '94 delivers everything you want in a basketball game, plus it's hosted by sports commentator, Marv Albert. What more could you want in a game? Well, let me tell ya somethin'! NBA Action '94 has all of the real 27 teams, players, logos and full season play and stats. There are five playing modes you can choose from such as: NBA Exhibition, Season, All-Star Game, Playoffs and NBA Finals. Just imagine if you had the best basketball team ever? Well there is an option in the game that allows you to pick a team out of 30 all-time greats from the Hall of Fame. Blistering graphics and animations of players doing dunks like tomahawk jam, backdoor pass and cross-over dribble makes you think you are in the game.

PRIZE FIGHTER

Picture an interactive boxing game that uses full-motion video directed by Ron Stein (creator of the boxing sequences in Raging Bull and the Rocky series) with the help of TruVideo technology. Then, add in some trainers, cornermen, referees and hecklers shouting at you during the boxing matches and there you have it—Prize Fighter for the Sega CD. For more information look at pg. 260.

This cart is similar to the layout of Evander Holyfield's "Real Deal" Boxing. Yet you can't beat the lineup of the best boxers of all time: Jack Dempsey, Joe Frazier, Muhammad Ali, Larry Holmes, Evander Holyfield, Joe Louis, Rocky Marciano and Floyd Patterson. Improved digitized backgrounds and sound make every jab, block and punch quite realistic. This one's a real knockout.

NFL FOOTBALL '94

Joe Montana is back again with the new NFL Football '94. This game now has all 800 plus NFL players. Choose from 28 NFL teams, logos and colors. New "Behind the Quarterback" view changes the overall game perspective. Animations of players in the game are as close to the real players throwing, running or tackling. New feature "speed bursts" add excitement to game play.

Interactive football, what can Sega think of next? This cart has real NFL film footage of the San Francisco 49ERS and the Dallas Cowboys. Many fans of the two teams should pick this one because of the full-motion-video. Choose among 28 greats like Roger Staubach, Troy Aikman, Emmitt Smith or Tony Dorsett. Play like a coach where you can call the winning shots.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

TENGEN

Tengen's new game lineup is going to prove once and for all that they are a force to be reckoned with in the video game industry. Never a company to rest on its laurels, Tengen has some truly impressive games slated for the upcoming months. Here are just a few of the Tengen titles which will be released soon on the various gaming platforms.

The first game, Prince of Persia, is an extremely popular title which will be released for the Sega Genesis. Featuring unbelievably fluid animation combined with a great story line, Prince of Persia will situate itself as one of the more popular of the new carts for the Genesis.

The second game is Bubba 'N Stix which is an action game for the Genesis with a twist. Here, you control the actions of Bubba who uses his pal Stix to wipe out enemies, climb walls and perform other assorted tasks. Stix is, quite literally, a stick with a certain...how shall we say it...utilitarian value. This looks to be a very fresh concept as well as a really fun game!

The next game is a Sega CD shooter called Soul Star. Following in the paths of StarFox and Silpheed, Soul Star uses special effects and rough-and-tumble game play to blast you through the cosmos. The scaling effects are among the cleanest, most precise ever seen on the home gaming market. It's a real killer!

The final game, which is showcased in the following pages, is a battle simulator/shooter called Battle Corps. Here, you pilot a combination aircraft/tank through different battlefields while using sophisticated instruments and weapons systems to guide your way.

Tengen looks to make its mark in the upcoming year with a barrage of high-quality, intensely realistic and downright fun video games. Look out world!

TENGEN

Prince of Persia

In Prince of Persia, time is of the essence. If you waste precious time, you'll be dead!

Throughout the various levels, you'll have to fight several sword-wielding enemies.

You'll encounter many tricky booby traps like this spiked pit during your adventure.

After you drink the magic potion, part of your precious life-energy is increased!

There she is! The king is holding your princess hostage (notice the hourglass).

Prince of Persia has finally made its way to the Sega Genesis! Fans of this game who have been waiting patiently for its arrival to the Genesis will not be disappointed.

The story centers on the kidnapping of the Princess, who is being held hostage by an evil Sultan. The Prince has a set amount of time to find her before it's too late! Sounds easy, huh? WRONG-O! The path to the Princess is strewn with booby traps and armed enemies who would sooner lop off one of your ears rather than ask you the time of day!

Highlighting this cart is the incredibly smooth animation of the characters that made this game so popular on other formats. The challenge is high and the action is very intense. This game is no cake-walk, so be prepared for a challenge that will make your Genesis begin to smoke. Right on Tengen!

The animations in Prince of Persia will really blow your mind! They are incredible!

Use Stix in a variety of situations. Here, Bubba uses Stix to roll a large rock.

Customize your controllers to fit your individual playing style.

You can also use Stix to help you climb walls. Just put it into a wall and hop on!

OK everybody, here comes a game with big time personality! It's Tengen's Bubba 'N Stix for the Sega Genesis. This cart is definitely unique.

You play the part of Bubba, a hapless youth who uses his friend Stix to get himself out of some rather interesting predicaments. Stix is a stick (duh!) which can be used for several different purposes. Among these are killing enemies, climbing walls, turning over boulders and other wild stuff! Bubba 'N Stix is not all fun and games (wow, what a hideous pun!). Your adventure is filled with hidden dangers. For one thing, there are enemies everywhere! Use Stix to dispatch these creatures quickly. Also, you must discover ways to cross various obstacles by using Stix. This is a game with a learning curve!

Bubba 'N Stix is a very unusual game that offers gamers big fun wrapped in a small package.

Bubba can throw Stix at enemies. Stix will then come back like a boomerang.

Bubba 'N Stix is an action title which will appeal to a large cross section of gamers.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

There's a new game coming to the Sega CD which could quite possibly redefine the way you look at shooters. It's called Soul Star by Core, for Tengen, and it's really something special. Taking its cue from the likes of Silpheed and StarFox, this dynamo is a blaster extravaganza!

You are the pilot of one of the most advanced pieces of technology to ever blast past a dark nebula. You will fly at neck-breaking speeds through all manner of alien assaults. As the battle wages painfully on, you will blast onto the surface of various planets for some close contact, air-to-surface bombardment. Your pulse will instantly climb to heart attack levels, as you duck in and out of obstacles and enemy fire.

Soul Star takes full advantage of the advanced capabilities of the Sega CD system. The scaling effects are among the best seen in a game of this type. They are smooth and flowing with minimal chop. These effects are not just for show, either! They really enhance the play of the game, as well as the feeling of actual participation. You will feel every twist and turn that your spacecraft makes!

Tengen's Soul Star is a shooter which uses special effects not just for the sake of show, but rather to draw the player into this parallel universe where just about anything is possible. This is one shooter you really don't want to miss. Fans of the latest breed of "specialty shooters" will especially be pleased by the special effects melded with strong game play.

You will be instantly blown away by the special effects in Soul Star!

SOUL STAR

Use your instrument panel (at top) to gauge how much energy you have left.

Weird enemies will quickly come at you from all angles, so be prepared!

Battle Corps, also by Core for Tengen, for the Sega CD is another game with plenty of action to keep even the most serious game player happy for many hours. Set in a futuristic landscape, you are the driver of an advanced fighting machine that is two-thirds tank, one-third jump jet.

As you tool about, you are under a constant barrage of heavy enemy fire. You must count on your wits and keen aim to make it through each progressively harder level. Robotic battle droids will make your life a living nightmare as they are launched at you from underground.

BEHIND THE SCREENS AT UBI SOFT OF FRANCE!

Two months ago we announced that the British software companies were coming to the U.S. Now they are being joined by the French! One of the newer Nintendo licensees is Ubi SOFT whose main headquarters is in Paris, France.

UBI SOFT?? Who are they? While relatively new here in America they are best known to us for the games Jimmy Connors Tennis and F-1 Pole Position. In France, Ubi SOFT is one of the major players. In fact, Ubi is THE biggest distributor of video games in that country!

Led by their president Yves Guillemot, Ubi's roots date back to the early 1980s when they got their introduction to software by programming games for the then popular Commodore 64 and MSX machines. Shortly thereafter they expanded into the distribution end of the business when Yves and his brothers noted that software was quite a bit cheaper in Yves Guillemot, Ubi SOFT's president heads up one of France's largest software companies.

England than in France. Starting first with a small mail order business, the staff quickly expanded to 40 people in order to keep up with the demand for games. After learning the distribution end of the business, it was quite easy to expand again, this time to the wholesale side. Now, as the major distributor in France, Ubi literally can pick and choose which companies they want to distribute for in France. With major players like Lucasfilm, SSI and EA, it's no wonder that they are number one in France.

Not content to rest on their laurels, Ubi continued to expand in the game development area. In 1989 Yves recognized that Nintendo had the potential to start another video game revolution and Ubi started to develop games for all of the Nintendo game systems. Star Wars for the Game Boy was one of their first products followed by Jimmy Connors Tennis and F-1 Pole Position for the Super NES.

There's even more to the Guillemot story as there is another brother. Gerard is the Managing Director of Ludi Media. Where Ubi will develop, produce and distribute software, Ludi, a completely independent company, will only take a finished product from a developer in another country and distribute it in France or Europe. And the story doesn't end here—there are still more Guillemot brothers, but that is a whole different story for another time.

Having taken over the French market, Ubi, like many other European producers, moved on to greener pastures and opened up an American office in the San Francisco bay area. Headed up by Christine Quemard and assisted by Mary Lynn Slattery, Ubi SOFT U.S. has done quite well in marketing Jimmy Connors Tennis and F-1 Pole Position.

But that's the present and Ubi SOFT continues to look toward the future. Recognizing that there still are tons of NES systems in existence in the U.S., and fewer and fewer publishers bringing out software for it, Ubi is testing this market with a NES and GameBoy version of Madden Football (see the next two pages for detailed Fact-Files on these carts). Looking even further into the future, Ubi will expand its sports lineup to include one of the best GameBoy basketball games we have seen—Tip Off (see page 130 for a detailed preview). Rumors have it that Jimmy Connors 2 will probably hit our shores next fall, hopefully with a four-player mode built in!

That's only the beginning. Christine noted that they hope to get a development team over here to produce games exclusively for the U.S. market. Indications are that besides the various Nintendo formats, Ubi is again looking to the future and to meet those goals, they have gone out and secured licenses to create Atari Jaguar and 3DO carts and CDs.

Clearly the future looks bright for Ubi SOFT. With an eye for the future, Yves Guillemot has big plans for his company, and based on his past success, we believe that he will once again prosper!

UBI SOFT'S 1993 GAME LINEUP!

Ubi SOFT's new racing game—F-1 Pole Position will be coming out for both the Super Nintendo and GameBoy this holiday season.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

MATRIX Prime For SNES and Genesis!

Having dabbled in several different platforms, Accolade has proven themselves to be one of the best in the video game business. This year is looking even brighter for them! First, is the extremely exciting new announcement that Accolade is already on their way to creating the sequel to the bobcat that just won't quit flappin' his mouth—Bubsy! This title will sport many new concepts and plenty of unique features to make it a sequel unparalleled with no other! The next bit of news that was revealed is that they are currently developing a new fighting game that is destined to blow all the others out of the water! Utilizing the abilities of a Silicon Graphics workstation, and the usage of remote sensor technology to simulate actual human movements, this title is going to set the standards for all combat titles to come! Pioneering unique titles is what this company does best—as illustrated by another title that Acclaim will be producing. It's known as Fireteam Rogue, and is said to combine all the most popular genres of games:

Action/Adventure/Flight simulation and RPG elements! The story is complex and intricate, having you sit with a band of "rogues" that are brought together by circumstances. The plot is novelistic, opening many other possibilities to comic books and other fantasy/sci fi products in the future!

Lastly is that oldie and moldie cartoon that everyone still loves—Speed Racer! It will take its stride onto the Genesis platform straight over from the IBM PC version, and will be leaping onto the Super Nintendo platform with a completely different version! Accolade is going ballistic this X-Mas with an extremely impressive lineup!

ACCOLADE
GAMES WITH PERSONALITY

Accolade is proud to be one of the video game companies pioneering the way for advanced technical capabilities with Matrix Prime! This incredible fighting game will have a lot going on behind the scenes. First of all, the movements of the characters were based on live martial arts experts and other dexterity skilled actors. Remote sensors were placed around the actors' joints and other points on their body to record their actions in a 3-D environment. This provides the programmers with a "render skeleton" so-to-say, where it then goes on to the next step. By utilizing the capabilities of a Silicon Graphics Workstation, the bodies of all the characters will be rendered onto the wire frames.

The story behind this cart is that the government found a gene that causes genetic special abilities, and began selecting characters with that gene to make a band of superheroes. The "Good" side has Recoil, Eric Reves, Pitt Bull and Hot Shot, all of whom have their own unique story and powers. Also involved is the "Bad" side, or the superheroes that have gone bad. Those are Arsenal, Ground Zero, Banzai (a woman who is not augmented, but still a good fighter) and Shockwave. The levels will be huge in size, so that an attack can come from a distance and knock you back quite a ways! It is scheduled for a 2nd quarter '94 release.

Using sophisticated 3-D rendering, Matrix Prime looks different and still cool!

Here is a mock-up of the Character Select Screen. Lots of options will be present.

What you see above is an actual shot of the character Ground Zero. His rotating mug will appear in the Character Select Screen, as will all of the other seven characters.

Enter a whole new realm of fantasy and science fiction game play with Fireteam Rogue. The plot of the game is set far into the future where the Spiral Arm Empire and the dark forces of Umbra have clashed for many centuries, spiraling a history of heroism and bravery, as well as tragedy and death. And leading the fight is a band of outcasts infamously known as the Fireteam Rogue.

The game revolves heavily around the plot, of which the characters are focused on as an intricate part. This title will have the characters going through lengthy action sequences and intricate flight simulation spaceflight sequences to name a few of the things that you will be doing. The team consists of four unique characters, each with his own abilities. One of the characters (the lead character, Chance) also has a special ancient weapon created a long time ago by the Umbria empire, a Zeut. This is a creature that can morph onto his body to create a special suit for battling seemingly unstoppable foes! Each character has a plethora of weapons and skills, and all will be needed when this cool cart hits the market.

The halls of this particular world are well guarded. Be careful where you tread.

These triceratop-like characters will try to stop your party at all costs!

For the Super NES and Sega Genesis

The levels are vast and filled with many hidden surprises!

Chance

Once a farmer, Chance is from a proud family.

ShadowBlade

His skills are swift and skillful like the cat he is!

Broc

Broc is the most intimidating of the whole motley crew!

Aia

BUBSY 2

For the Super Nintendo and Sega Genesis

Yes, it's true! That cat with the cheezy speech is back in a whole new adventure set at a much larger scale! The pig professor, Virgil Reality, has created a unique museum that simulates actual historical events. When Bubsy takes his bratty nephew and niece there, they race in and suddenly become lost in the time zones. So naturally, our cat goes to the rescue. This cart is filled with many more hidden surprises than its previous attempt. Also an addition is the fact that Bubsy has a whole new slew of different cartoon animations. Also present will be tons of little bonus games hidden throughout the game. There will also be a Two-Player Option, but the details behind this are still sketchy. More on this in later issues!

Find the particular level that has your nephew and niece captive within the Amazatorium!

You'll find all kinds of kooky backdrops in this game.

Oinker P. Spamm and Virgil Reality

The halls lead all over the place and have well hidden levels.

Ape Scott

Ba Ba Blacksheep

Bubs Rogers

Bay Toven

Behold! The new team dedicated to the creation of the new Bubsy!

Egypt, a temple full of ancient treasures and traps galore!

The atmosphere is quite chilling in this room. All through the level, the statues in the background will be staring at Bubsy, and eerie Egyptian music will be playing as he moves all around the level searching for a way to get to Sahara Burnheart—the snake that is the particular Boss of this zone. Find her and you can escape from this dangerous place!

It's really creepy in this level!
Every eye is on you!

Many miniature games are present so that you can win big bonuses!

Here is but one of the many different kinds of bonus rounds and mini games you can play. This one in particular is really bizarre! You have to pull back a plunger to send a frog flying into the air and land on a particular floating object or person. It all depends on the amount of pressure you apply:

The frogs go flying up into the air and land in the water area.

You must first determine the amount of pressure to send the frog flying.

Then release and hope that your eyesight is as keen as that of a talkative bobcat.

Go! Speed Racer, Go!

The characters and enemies are straight from the animated series—right down to the familiar cars and voices. All of the Mach 5 cool special features will be built in. You can purchase items as well, like the airjacks and turbo speed. This game looks as hot as the roadway Speed races on!

SPEED RACER

For the
Sega Genesis!

Speed Racer is heading straight into the Sega Genesis platform! For those who are fans of the old TV show, you will be happy to know that this game is faithful to the original in almost every aspect. There are several different courses to choose from, all harboring a great many perils ranging from vast streams of water to obscenely huge ravines to the ever popular Racer X! But these aren't the only dangers Speed will be up against—for all his other adversaries are present as well!

Such wonderful faces as the infamous Racer X, Snake Oiler, Captain Terror and many others will pop up from the nostalgic past and the history of Speed Racer.

Also, one last bit of info—for some reason, the Super NES version will be completely different. We'll report on it when more comes in!

Accidents are quite frequent. Most of the time, they aren't really an accident.

What about the Super Nintendo Version of Speed Racer?

How will the Super NES version look?

So far, all we have to say is that it will be different from the Sega Genesis version.
More on this later!

MORE MORTAL KOMBAT!!!

It's back and better than ever! The one game that took Street Fighter from its unchallenged reign of fighting games. This time around there's more of what made it great and a few new surprises. Play seven new characters on brand new, multi-scrolling backgrounds. The sounds have also been pumped up with DCS (Digital Sound Compression). It doesn't stop there—there's more blood, more moves, more fatalities and five times the secrets as before!

MORTAL KOMBAT II

7 NEW CHARACTERS 12 IN ALL

Master the moves of seven new guys and gals along with the new moves for the original cast, including air moves.

THE BLOOD IS BACK AND HOW!

If you thought the censors had a cow before, wait till they check out the gory moves and super violent fatalities!

Not only are there more characters and more blood, just look at the graphics! There are also great new sounds to accompany the cool look. But it doesn't end there: five times the secrets with at least three secret characters and who knows what else?

NOTE: Fatalities and moves were performed on a prototype and are subject to change.

STREET FIGHTER II VS. MORTAL KOMBAT II

The New Challengers

There are 16 characters but only four are new. The old guys get one more move.

However, Tournament isn't out and stand-alone machines don't use it.

One of the new features is the point system for tournaments.

An awesome upgrade is the Q sounds, not to mention the new colors and updated graphics. These features are matched by MK2.

MK2 also uses a new scoring system, by wins. This system is said to be the doorway to more secrets. Win your way to the many surprises in store for you.

Since Street Fighter was an upgrade, it didn't have any new Bosses or a new story. Mortal Kombat 2 is a whole new game with a mysterious story line and two tough Bosses to defeat.

DCS is right up there with Q sound. Also MK2 went one step further on the graphics end by creating all-new characters, backgrounds and cinemas.

The mystery character from the Pit Stage of the original Mortal Kombat joins the Outworld Tournament. Unlike the original, he doesn't possess the powers of Scorpion and Sub Zero. This new low fireball is a good way to keep others in check.

HIGH FIREBALL F,F,+HP

Now he can perform his regular fireball in the air to deter jumping foes.

FLYING KICK F,F,+HK

After a jump kick, throw in a flying kick for a quick two-hit combo.

This new character looks like a lone-some cowboy or traveling nomad. He has plenty of technique with the amazing control of his hat. Also look out for his teleport as a surprise tactic.

His spinning aura is a good trap on players who are stuck in a corner. He's got a lot of experience behind him—just give him a chance.

FIREBALL D,DF,F+LP

A new fireball for him, it curves to allow for more strategy.

RISING PUNCH B,D,DB,B+HP

Give a jumping opponent an uppercut like a Shadow Kick.

The Hollywood head honcho is back with his usual attitude and moves to back it up. He retained his patented Shadow Kick but dropped the straight fireball for a new bunch of curving ones. He was one of the toughest guys from the first game and he hasn't lost a thing. In fact, he gained a Dragon Punch-like move, so look out Ken and Ryu!

I FIREBALL B,B+HP

A single fireball that is large enough to cover a big area.

MULTI-BALL B,B,F,F,F+HP

Send a barrage of fireballs at your foe like in the original MK.

METAMORPHOSIS BLOCK*+U,U

Change into Scorpion by doing his old fatality from the original MK.

METAMORPHOSIS D,D+LK

You can even change into the new guy like Baraka. How about Kano?

The evil boss of the original Mortal Kombat, he has the home town advantage as you fight in the Outworld. Like the original, he can change into other characters (mostly by doing their old fatalities). In addition, he has several of his own moves including a variety of fireballs similar to the ones in the original.

SHANG TSUNG

The cold powered ninja is back with a new icy trick up his sleeve. He has the least amount of new moves but does he really need any more than the ice and slide combos he's got? Now he can freeze the ground and leave foes helplessly trying to stay afoot. He had plenty of combos last time; we'll have to see if he's still got the stuff this time around.

GROUND ICE D,DB,B+LK

Make enemies fly helplessly as they slide on a layer of ice.

FREEZE D,DF,F+LP

The good old stopper is back. Ice them and do what you want to them.

SLIDE DB+BLOCK+LP+LK

His famous slide works great in combos, especially on the computer.

SUB ZERO

KITANIA

As one of the two female characters, she has a lot to live up to. Where the original only had one woman, now there are two. She looks very similar to Mileena but fights very different. Her deadly fans are a force to be reckoned with. Look for her to make a big impact on this new version as her Fan Wave leaves foes open to combos.

FAN TOSS F,F,(HP+LP)

Twirl the fan at enemies and cut them up as it spins into them.

FAN WAVE B,B+HP

Create a breeze and carry foes in the air to set them up for anything.

AIR SWEEP F,B+HP

Borrowed from Sonya's Square Wave, she can zip across the screen.

The all-American guy is the first African American in Mortal Kombat. He's big and he's bad! This guy has range attacks like the Wave and tremendous throws and grabs. Look out for people who play this guy, because his grab can be done after most regular moves. This may be cheap but it's all too easy to do.

GROUND SLAM B,F+HP(THROW)

From a throw move, go back and forth to get a repeated slam effect.

WAVE PUNCH D,DB,B+HK

Send a wide wave at your opponent that's sure to hit almost anywhere.

GRAB AND SMACK F,F,+LP

Sort of a cheesy move, this grab does big damage and is easy to do.

EARTHQUAKE (HP+LP)*

Smack the ground and send a quake to drop your foes on the ground.

The strange looking Baraka must be something from the Outworld. His evil look, teeth and bald head give him a sinister appearance. He's got a long blade like a Wolverine wannabe. If you're playing against him, look out for his mincer move that will shred you into pieces. He's a bad guy who's got some really good moves.

SPARK TOSS D,DB,B+HP

Rub your blades to send a spark flying at foes from a distance.

SHREDDER B,B,B+LP

A devastating and very gory move that's great when people jump.

BLADE SPIN D,DB,B+(HK+LK)

Turn into a spinning slicer as the blades cut anything head height.

DEEP CUT B+HP

Use this fierce cut to do some serious damage to your enemy.

SCORPION

SPEAR B,B+LP

His famous "get over here" is back and it seems to be faster.

TELEPORT D,DB,B+HP

Try this on the ground and in the air to really confuse your foes.

AIR THROW BLOCK*

Hold block and jump at an enemy while they are jumping at you.

TAKE DOWN D,DB,B+LK

A wrestling-like move that takes them down up close and in front.

The specter ninja and rival enemy of Sub Zero has gotten several new moves. His Air Throw gives him a new edge but nothing compares to the power of his aerial teleport. This variation allows him to attack twice in the air. He has also gotten a close take down move that works if you can surprise your opponent.

TORPEDO B,B,F

Try this one in the air for a new twist on the Torpedo move.

LIGHTNING D,DF,F+LP

A wide spread of electricity that has a new look but same style of use.

TELEPORT D,F

Like before, disappear and reappear behind them for a surprise.

SHOCK THERAPY HP*-RELEASE

Hold and release for a grab that will shock enemies for a while.

The immortal Thunder God has returned to the tournament. After being personally invited by Shang Tsung in the first MK, Raiden has assumed human form to prove the power of the gods. He's got all his old moves along with a new electrifying grab. The mid-air torpedo is also very useful this time around.

The other of the deadly women, she can hold her own against any of the men in the game. She has lightning speed and those deadly Sias. Her Sia shot can be good for combos since it is a hold down move. Look out for the drop from the sky that leaves her open to attack if blocked. Use her speed to overcome other players.

SIA SHOT HP*-RELEASE

Hold the button even if you block. You can release it anytime.

DROP KICK B,F+LK

Fall from the sky and kick foes from air moves. Watch out if they block.

THROW F+LP

Not a special move but her speed makes her throws devastating.

MEGA MAN X

After years of anticipation and rumors, Mega Man is finally going to 16-Bit! If you anticipated an excellent game, then Mega Man X is definitely for you. Get ready for tons of weapons, power-ups and armor enhancements that make this a worthy addition to the Mega Man series. The game takes place in the future where Mega Man has been recruited (with his friend Zero) to destroy renegade reploids (human cyborgs) that have turned against mankind. Like the games in the NES line, if you defeat a Boss you get its powers and can use them against enemies and even other Bosses! With the improved graphics and sound, Mega Man X promises to be one of the hottest upcoming releases—even without Dr. Light or the evil Dr. Wily.

UPGRADED ARMOR:

Check everywhere in the many levels. Chances are you will find special power-up areas that can enhance your attacks and defenses. There are four upgrades you can get: Armor, Accelerator, Blaster and Dash.

OTHER WEAPONS:

Some bad guys may have tough weapons, but you can use them too. One such weapon is the mech suit. This will make you practically invincible to attacks, just don't take too many hits. You can also jump and dash with it.

REGULAR MEGA MAN X POWERS:

Even without his Special Powers, X is quite a tough little guy. One of his most helpful moves is his wall climb: move against a wall and press jump.

CLIMB:

M. SHOT:

ARMOR:

With X's upgraded powers, he is almost unstoppable. However, as you acquire these powers, the game gets more difficult. Find all four special powers.

PROLOGUE STAGE:

The first stage (partial map above) is a horizontal (and at times vertical) run. Jump the deep chasms and beware of the giant mechanized wasps. When you destroy them, they will knock down the ledge you are standing on. Near the end, enemies in cars will attack you. At the very end of the stage is a Boss in a mech suit you cannot defeat. However, as he gloats over your defeat, Zero (the champion Maverick Hunter) will zip in and save the day. He will also give you very valuable advice.

FACTORY STAGE:

This stage takes place inside a giant assembly plant. Robotic parts will fall out of the tubes in the ceiling (1): Some will be partially functional and will shoot laser beams at you. If you attempt to complete this stage first, the ground will be covered with a river of flowing lava (2) that can do horrendous damage if you touch it. This is especially troublesome with the grabber-exploders that will pick you up, explode and drop you in the burning lava. At the end of this part (A) you will move downward to the next section.

This second part contains many dangers and equally many valuable items. One thing to look for is the stack of blocks in the roof (3) before the first platform. Take a running jump using your dash, then jump at the last minute, using your head-butt power to smash the blocks and move upward to the power charger (4). Don't overlook this niche of items (5) you can also reach by dashing and smashing. Also get the life meter expanding power up in the corner (6).

There are two horizontal stretches left in the level. The second to last (B) adds a new dimension to the assembly plant: the reject-smasher room. The giant smashers on the ceiling (7) will smash anything below—dash past these. Also remember not to stand below the conveyor belt when the junk is moved off (8)—it will fall on your head and do you harm. The last part is a run over pipes with rotating spikes (9). The dripping lava from the pipes is also a hazard (10). Also look out for the Mace-and-Shield guys (11). The easiest way to beat them is to wait until they throw their ball and chain, jump over it when fully extended, then shoot them at point blank range.

BOSS: BURNIN' NOUMANDER

Here it is—Burnin' Noumander! Essentially, it is a big mechanized elephant. The key to its defeat is the conveyor belt in this room. Burnin' can change the direction of it whenever it lifts its trunk in the air. However, if you are able to hit it enough times, its trunk will fall off. If you run away from it, it will catch up to you by pouncing on you from across the screen.

FOREST STAGE:

Tree-cutting reroids, nature gone bad and hardhat men disguised as shrubs are but a few of the many menaces in store for you here. There is also a cave where rocks fall from the ceiling. If you have the powered-up helmet, no problem.

BOSS: STING CHAMELEO

Tough Boss—especially when you can see it. Here is a new dimension: a Boss that can cloak itself. Sting can camouflage itself to blend in to its surroundings, then move in close to lash you with its deadly long tongue. This Boss attacks in several ways, notably knocking spikes on you from the ceiling and shooting bigger spikes from its tail.

MINE STAGE: Take a wild ride on a mine cart and speed to the end of the stage. Beware of the giant stone drill: Just stay behind it.

BOSS: ARMOR ARMAGE

This is a very tough Boss—it blocks your shots with its shielded body and attacks by rolling into a ball and rolling at you.

TOWER STAGE:

There is a valuable special weapon hidden in this stage, so complete this one first. Here you will also get the opportunity to get acquainted with the Mech Suit which you will need to use on the later levels.

BOSS: ICY PENGUIGO

This is one of the easiest Bosses to defeat. Icy is big but incredibly dim-witted. For a nifty effect, use the flamethrower on it if you have one (can you say Yoga Fkame?). If you do this stage first, the best tactic is to stay in one of the top corners and wait for Icy to jump up to the ring in the ceiling: it will be an easy target for powered shots.

WATER STAGE:

Mega Men aren't fish. This stage allows you to jump higher and move a little slower than the others. There are several dangers beneath the waters—some in particular to watch for are the giant sea serpents (which you can ride on, just avoid the spikes) and enemy submarines (which will either propel you away or suck you in).

BOSS: LAUNCHER OCTOPULD

This Boss uses the surroundings to its advantage. Its most popular form of attack is to constantly spin and try to suck you in. It will also try to jump on you or fire missiles and even paranahas! Its most devastating attack is when it gets a hold of you and starts squeezing your life away! Keep your distance and use charged shots.

TOWER STAGE:

Only one way to go in this level: up. Here you must battle your way to the top of this tower—on the inside and outside. Also a new element is added here: laser trip wires. Break the red beam, and the sentries will shoot at you.

BOSS: BOOMER KWANGER

Yes, it wears a funny hat, but don't let it hear you say that. Boomer Kwanger is one of the hardest Bosses to defeat. It can vanish and materialize wherever it wants, and will keep you from hiding in the upper corners with its boomerang. Its deadliest move is when it spears you and smashes you against the ceiling. Take this guy on later when you have several weapons.

POWER PLANT STAGE:

This stage is loaded with electrical sparks, mechanical blobs and lots of lightning bugs. Don't fall in the pits: that way leads to death.

AIRSTRIPE STAGE:

Start on the ground and work your way up. Ride elevated platforms and keep an eye out for items hidden behind gas tanks. Then fight on the airship.

BOSS: SPARK MANDRILLER

Spark is another tough Boss—his jumping on you alone can do terrible damage. However, there is one special weapon that will give you the edge on it.

THE GOOD

Mega Man finally goes to 16-Bit and it has been well worth the wait.

THE BAD

I suppose the only bad aspect of this game is the diminished replay value.

THE UGLY

Ugh! Mega Man looks like he is really hurtin' when he takes a hit.

BOSS: STORM EAGLEED

This Boss is really only vulnerable when it lands, so that is your time to strike. Look out, though, it can make a one-hit-wonder out of you by blowing you off the wing.

A host of evil creatures has besieged this once pristine land. From his underground palace, the Shadow King is directing his minions—the Meanies—to destroy all things of beauty. The Shadow King is winning, and all the land will soon quiver in his grasp. Meanwhile, Young Merlin was swept away by a raging river while trying to save a beautiful maiden. He awakes to find himself in an enchanted land. As you explore your surroundings, you discover the evil Shadow King's plot. Armed with an arsenal of magical items, Merlin enlists the help of the Lady of the Lake. It will take all your cunning and fighting skills, along with the help of the Lady of the Lake, to defeat the Meanies and penetrate the fortress of the Shadow King. Loads of puzzles and objects will keep you guessing and figuring your way through this colorful journey.

THE GOOD

Plenty of puzzles and maze-type adventuring to keep you busy for a long time.

THE BAD

The ending is kind of short and confusing. I don't want to spoil it, but let's just say you don't win!

THE UGLY

Those adorable (or horrible) little Meanies. The minute mongers need to get a good trashing in the end!

BASIC TIPS ON THE ROAD TO ADVENTURE

WEAPONS

Burn up the nearest enemy with the match.

Use star dust to freeze and attack foes.

Some have one use, like the Bubble Wand.

Upgrade your stars for more firepower.

Without the lantern, you can't see!

Use the balloon to float up ladders.

The bottles can hold several magic waters.

The bubble aids you underwater.

Help balloons give you hints along the way.

Some walls are fake and lead to extra items.

Several maze areas need to be fully explored.

Some rooms are puzzles with switches.

ADVENTURE AWAITS YOU IN PINEDALE AND BEYOND

In the beginning, return here to give the gems to the Lady of the Lake for items.

In the second part of the game, you'll have to use the Rainbow Gate to teleport from the other world to your home land. Instead of returning to the lake, you will use the power of nature—with the help of the Lady of the Lake—to get items. Look for this tree stump near the old Wizard's house to get additional items that will help you further in the game.

The beautiful maiden and her father are a few of the captives you will have to save.

Some scenes make you ride in a cart—watch out for broken sections in the track.

Travel to other worlds where strange plants and tunnels await you.

In the hedge maze, you'll find the Wizard's key and an extra item you'll need later.

hey,
check out the
AWESOME MAP AND TIPS ON THE NEXT PAGE!

You'll have to learn to survive under the sea as well as above.

The Shadow King has many tricks up his sleeve. Can you figure out how to kill him?

Use the gem to get the shooting star. Fight the tree and collect the items.

Use the ice and fire technique to keep attacking this big pig.

Get the lamp to light up the mine or else the whole area will be dark.

Use the gem to get a balloon from the lake, then find the red gem in the mine.

8 Retrieve the crystal and give it to the chime so you may pass into the city of Pinedale.

- A Drop all gems here. The Lady of the Lake will exchange them for an item you'll need.
- B At areas marked B, pick up the Hollow Heart to add an extra place holder by your Health Meter.
- C This area is a pig pen loaded with enemies. Use the Freeze and Attack Method to make it by them.
- D Collect the flowers at these locations. They will be needed later to get other items.

Use the orange gem to get a bag of freezing dust and ice the plants.

Use the water at 4a to become invincible and kill the tree at 4b.

Use the red gem from the cave to get the bubble maker and attack the meanies.

9 Now you must enter a whole new section of the game where the challenge and adventure go on!

MISSION 1: LOS ANGELES

JULY 11, 2029

LEVEL 1: THE BATTLEFIELD

August 29, 1997 is a day that will never be forgotten—Judgment Day. The day of nuclear fire that will claim three billion lives when the machines take over the human race. Now it's up to you and John Connor to complete two of the most important missions you're ever going to face. In Mission One, you must wipe out the cyborgs, destroy Skynet and reach the field generator in order to go back in time. In Mission Two, you must save young John Connor from the unstoppable T-1000 and help Sarah Connor destroy Cyberdyne research, the company that is responsible for Skynet and the end of the world as we know it.

Your mission is to aid the resistance by annihilating the T-800 Endoskeletons.

You better grab plenty of ammo if you want to destroy the ground HK.

Once past the battlefield, your main objective is to protect the lives of the human resistance, as you wage war against an army of T-800 units.

LEVEL 2: THE HIDEOUT

If you plan on surviving, you need to have quick reflexes to fight the war against the machines. The Model-101 T-800 will stop at nothing to terminate you. That's its only job!

In Level 3 your only goal is to make sure John Connor, head of the human resistance army, successfully completes the journey to Skynet.

LEVEL 3: TRIP TO SKYNET

With only the aid of a machine gunner, you must protect John from an onslaught of T-800 Endoskeletons and aerial HKs. Make sure to grab as many power-ups as possible.

LEVEL 4: SKYNET

On your way to Skynet, you're confronted by an onslaught of enemies. Waste 'em!

You will meet up with the ground HK again as a Mid-Boss; don't waste any time!

Skynet is your only chance to reach the field generator and be sent back in time.

TERMINATOR 2

THE ARCADE GAME

MISSION 2: LOS ANGELES, TODAY

LEVEL 5: CYBERDYNE

Help Sarah Connor destroy as much equipment as possible to put an end to the future of Skynet.

The history of the world lies in the hands of young John Connor!

Grab the falling shotgun shells in the beginning or you'll never have a chance.

THE GOOD

I like the option of being able to play the game with either the controller, the Super Scope or the mouse.

THE BAD

Unless you own a Super Scope, it's very hard to get the arcade feel, and even then you're pushing it.

THE UGLY

Arnie wins hands-down for all three: the good, the bad and the ugly, especially when his skin peels off.

LEVEL 7: THE STEEL MILL

Keep the T-1000 away from John Connor in order to prevent Judgment Day.

LEVEL 6: THE FREEWAY

Upon fleeing Cyberdyne, you are chased by the advanced liquid metal T-1000 who has a bad attitude!

It will take a lot of firepower to stop this tractor-trailer and the T-1000.

The T-1000 can take many shapes and forms, but can he take the heat that you're about to give him? Finish him!

SUPER NES

Dennis the MENACE

Dennis the Menace has finally made his way to the Super NES thanks to the folks at Ocean. Rest assured, Dennis' new adventure was worth the wait.

Sporting some of the weirdest Bosses you're ever likely to see, this wonderful adventure cart is a blast to play. The graphics and backgrounds are exceptionally well-rendered. Ocean's use of colors will really blow you away.

Dennis has his choice of three weapons that he can switch between at any given time. The enemies you encounter will definitely leave you slack-jawed.

Dennis can also pick up a variety of items like power-ups and golden coins. Hats off to Ocean for a really fun cart!

Colorful graphics and fun game play make Dennis the Menace a blast to play!

The Options Menu lets you customize many key aspects of your game.

DENNIS IS ARMED TO THE TEETH!!

PEA SHOOTER

The pea shooter is an excellent all-around weapon. Use it for all enemies and for distance shooting.

SLINGSHOT

The slingshot works the best in close-contact situations. This has less range than the pea shooter.

WATER PISTOL

Water pistol is Dennis' standard weapon. It will freeze smaller enemies at close range. Not too effective.

LEVEL ONE- MR. WILSON'S HOUSE

There are a bunch of things to find in Level 1. Mr. Wilson's house is loaded with goodies for Dennis to pick up. Dennis can find weapons, power-ups and coins simply by exploring the house. Be careful, though, Mr. Wilson is upstairs waiting for you!

Start by grabbing the slingshot (1). This will come in handy almost immediately as you progress through the house. To get into Mr. Wilson's basement, go through this door (2). In the basement, you can find a pea shooter which is a really choice weapon! After you have completed the level, and found the four big coins, you can activate the coin symbol (3). Upon doing this, you will be allowed to exit the level. Good luck!!

ITEMS FOR DENNIS TO PICK UP!

Gold Coin- These are strewn about everywhere! Collect lots of them for tons of added points. At the end of each level, the amount of coins that you collect will be tallied into your score.

Big Gold Coin- You must collect four of these per level in order to get to the next level. These suckers are generally much harder to find than their smaller counterparts.

Blue Candy- When Dennis grabs one of these little marvels, his courage (life) meter is boosted back to full. If you are low on courage, find these at all costs. They are fairly abundant and easy to find!

Exit Coins- After you pick up four of the large gold coins, you can activate these coins and progress to the next level. Try to find these coins as soon as possible so you have an idea where the exit is.

Be on guard for the many hidden booby traps which occur in each of the levels.

When you are running across the planks between trees, the walkways will collapse!

LEVEL 2- In this level, Dennis must ride the wagon amidst the various obstacles. Hop over them to make it through. Be careful!

LEVEL 3- In the boiler room, be on guard against the booby traps and enemies that you'll encounter. This is a level which demands a lot of jumping.

LEVEL 4- Here you have to jump on the green bubbles and ride them up. This is much harder than it sounds.

When I get my hands on that kid, look out!!

Mr. Peckles quickly summons Alfred Chicken who immediately sets out to rescue the eggs.

This game is full of funny animations, colorful backgrounds, cool attacks and plenty of strategy! In every level, there is a secret room to be found, where you will talk to Mr. Peckles. He will give you something you will need at the end of the game. Keep your eyes open!

ATTACK!

Your main attack is to dive bomb on your enemies. The longer you fall the more powerful the hit!

THE GOOD

Cool concept with a lot of funny enemies. There was a lot more strategy involved than I expected.

THE BAD

Even though this game gives a password, it is not given often enough.

THE UGLY

The only thing ugly about this game is the way Alfred explodes when he's hit. Feathers everywhere!

Help! Save us before we are turned into robots!

STAGE 1

On this stage you will learn the basics of being a chicken, like how to peck and dive bomb.

Start this level by being outside with the intriguing moon. Then, follow the sign to the door that allows you to enter.

Dive bomb the mechanical mice before they get you. Make sure to peck the balloon or this is where you start if you die.

At the end of each level, you will find a huge balloon that you have to peck. Once you do, it will take you to the next level.

THE HIDDEN WATERING CANS

These cans are found on every level in hidden spots. If you find 18 of them, something special will happen at the end!

By finding hidden blocks, you can find the cans.

There is usually one free guy along the way.

When you get to this room, answer the phone.

STAGE 2

On this stage there is a little more strategy involved and there are also more power-ups!

Be careful here because you have to do a double attack to get through. Watch your timing—when you think you've got it, go!

Remember to search everywhere for icons, because sometimes they are in places that are not so obvious.

Here, you will have to peck through the ice in order to reach the jewels and find a way to the exit.

Al Capone and The Mob are up to no good. And it's up to The Untouchables to put a stop to it! As an Untouchable, your mission is to eliminate the enemies while acquiring the critical evidence to indict Al Capone.

As you relive the dangerous Chicago crime-fighting drama of the 1920s, you'll venture through treacherous warehouses and alleys loaded with danger and rapid-fire shootouts. You're up against the most evil of villains—and only an Untouchable can stop him!

ASSIGNMENT 1 DOWNTOWN SHOOTOUT

Dynamite will be thrown at you.

Guys will sneak up on you as well.

BOSS 1

ASSIGNMENT 2 COUNTERFEIT OPERATION

Al's men will attack from everywhere.

Move quickly when this guy fires from above.

BOSS 2

ASSIGNMENT 3 THE GUN RUN

Take aim at the thug coming out of the truck.

Run for your life from the crossfire.

BOSS 3

The local newspaper will print any news, good or bad, regarding your hunt for the notorious villain.

HELPFUL ITEMS

CLOCK

Allows extra time to clear level.

HEALTH

Replenishes your health.

RAPID FIRE

Allows multiple shots.

THE GOOD

Good variety of game play, played through different perspectives from a first-person to a top view.

THE BAD

Some of the controls are rather awkward, like where the jump ability is on the X button.

THE UGLY

In general, the play control takes some time to get used to and the speed of the game is slow.

Four hundred years ago, a powerful ruler arose and sought to bring all the land under his control. He was then defeated by two brave and valiant warriors. The wicked ruler promised to return to conquer again. Now, in a strange twist of fate, you and a friend must step forward and oppose the ruler.

Choose from two fighters and take on the ruler's henchmen in the streets. On the way, you'll find some useful items that will power-up your characters to be strong fighters with special abilities. The time to save the world has come again!

THE GOOD

Although a bit awkward, the controls aren't bad, giving you some nifty moves.

THE BAD

There aren't any intermissions that get back into the interesting story from the beginning of the game.

THE UGLY

The screams of the enemies as you kill them off sound close to dying animals.

THE GOOD

A nice variation on the Castlevania theme! The blood is a nice addition!

THE BAD

The animations of the characters need a bit of work.

THE UGLY

The bloody demise of some of the Bosses—like the first one that is half skeleton and half dog!

In the year 1897, the evil Count Dracula was put to sleep by Quincy Morris of the House of Belmont. Years later Elizabeth Bartley, who was executed years earlier as a female vampire (800 girls lost their lives to her appetite for blood), is brought back to life by a witch named Dorothea Swentes. Swentes' ultimate goal: to revive her uncle, the great Count Dracula!

Castlevania Bloodlines is finally here! And to warn fans of the series, this is a very different game. The mood is creepier, and you can choose from one of two heroes: Johnny Morris, who uses the standard Castlevania weapon (a whip), or Eric Lecarde, a warrior whose girlfriend was turned into a vampire and is out for revenge. He carries a lance. There are plenty of weapons to be found, and there are ways to power-up your weapons. Stay tuned to EGM for more coverage!

A LOOK AT OTHER FORMATS...

Castlevania: Bloodlines (below) is a much darker Castlevania game than its predecessors—like Castlevania IV for the Super NES (above). There are also two different characters to pick from this time!

THE MAIN MAP:

A map will appear before each stage telling you where to go. However, at times, Eric can only go one way, and John can only go another way!

PLAY IT IF YOU DARE

Few have faced Dracula and survived. Now it's your turn! Based on Columbia Pictures' blockbuster thriller, Bram Stoker's Dracula goes straight for the jugular. Photo-realistic graphics, camera rotation, digitized scenes from the film and an awesome digital soundtrack on the CD version plunge you deep into cold, dark dungeons crawling with spiders and packs of bloodthirsty rats. On every platform you'll experience thrilling game play and battle your way through the treacherous mountains and forests of Transylvania to Castle Dracula. And just like in the movie, the evil Prince of Darkness will rise and attack — as a bat, a wolf, even an old man. But whatever form Dracula takes...make no mistake, he must be stopped!

Available for all Nintendo and Sega platforms.

JOHN MORRIS

BORN: Dec. 12, 1895
Texas, USA
WEAPON: Whip

A descendent of the famous House of Belmont, John uses his trusty whip to hunt and destroy vampires.

John can power his whip up four times each time he gets the weapon power item!

John can also swing by attaching his whip to overhead blocks to swing over pits!

Destined to destroy vampires after his girlfriend became one, Eric uses his long spear to slice his enemies!

ERIC LECARDE

BORN: May 3, 1892
Segovia, Spain
WEAPON: Alcarde Spear

Eric can use his spear like a pogo stick for a really huge jump up!

Eric can also power-up his spear four times! The flaming spear is the highest!

STAGE 1: DRACULA'S CASTLE

Castlevania fans will surely recognize this stage—it is very reminiscent of the first stage from Castlevania for the NES system. The ground rules are basically the same here: Destroy all the ghouls and look for "suspicious" walls for there may be valuable items hidden!

STAGE II: SHRINE OF ATLANTIS LOCATION: GREECE

Battle across a sinking city! There are several mid-Bosses here that will require skill to defeat! Some areas will require you to smash structures to make safe passages! The Boss is a giant statue!

STAGE IV: SOLDIER FACTORY LOCATION: GERMANY

This factory has been producing evil soldiers. The factory is filled with skeleton workers that will stop at nothing to destroy you. There are also more areas with tight pinches you will need to carefully navigate. The Boss is a group of gears. Hit it in the center (where the white bat is) to kill it. This Boss will dance with glee when you get hit.

BLUE JEWEL:
Gives you
five jewels.

RED JEWEL:
Gives you
one jewel.

REAL MIRROR:
Will damage
all enemies.

ORB:
Temporary invincibility.

WEAPONS TO HELP YOU ON YOUR QUEST:

HOLY

SILVER
BOOMERANG

CRAZY AXE

These weapons can be charged up two times and can do massive damage! However, each time they are used they take up some of your jewel supply!

WEAPON: Increases weapon level.

MEAT: Fills half of Life Meter.

BOOK:
Gives you
20 jewels.

1 UP:
Gives you an extra life.

There are more sections to Stage 1, climaxing in a battle with an armored knight (right)! You must defeat this Boss by destroying it, limb-by-limb. Careful, though because it will charge you and at times jump in the air and try to land on you. When it is destroyed, it will give you all your health back.

STAGE III: LEANING TOWER OF PIZA LOCATION: ITALY

This level is going up the tall mysterious tower! This level is constantly moving, with tilted and moving rooms. There are also areas where you must jump gaps while high in the sky. The Boss will fight you atop the leaning tower itself! It will use its long tail to throw rocks at you, or it will wind its table up and snap you hard with it.

STAGE V: PALACE LOCATION: FRANCE

Start in the jungle and move toward the palace. When you get inside, there are several ways you can go, so feel free to wander! The Boss is a giant moth that will drop little moths and gas on you.

Not since Herzog Zwei have Genesis owners been treated to a strategy game quite like Dune. The story involves three houses: the noble Atreides, the sneaky Ordos and the sinister Harkonnen. These three houses are competing to take over the planet known as Arrakis. The Emperor won't give up Arrakis easily and will put up a fight.

Basically, the game begins by choosing which house you wish to play as. Each house has their own strengths and weaknesses which will be discovered on the battlefield. Speak with your Mentat often for he can give you valuable advice on

THE GOOD

This game will keep you content for weeks. Strategy buffs don't want to miss this one!

THE BAD

Even though the original version wasn't, this would make a great two-player simultaneous game.

THE UGLY

the upcoming mission.

Once on the battlefield, there is a plethora of things to do. You begin only with a Construction Yard and a few troops. But as the game gets further, you'll start out with more powerful tanks and Quads. Begin by placing concrete over the areas you're going to build on to strengthen the buildings. This helps to absorb damage from enemy fire and natural erosion from the flying sand. You can construct buildings that let you build vehicles, more troops, radar outposts, spice harvesting stations and repair facilities.

The basic ingredient needed for success is obviously money. The only way to obtain cash is to harvest the vast amounts of spice covering the surface of Arrakis. You can have as many Harvesters and stations as you can afford, just be sure to have ample storage space or you'll lose whatever the Harvesters bring in. The biggest threat, besides the enemy forces, are the sandworms. These hulking beasts slither under the sand and eat whatever hapless

THE BATTLE FOR ARRAKIS

HOUSE ATREIDES

Mentat - Cyril

The rule of the Atreides has always been fair and just. They are anything but soft, however. In order to protect those whom they rule, the Atreides have developed a strong military that wins by playing fair.

HOUSE ORDOS

Mentat - Ammon

Trickery and deception have long been the rule in House Ordos. Only when pushed to their limit will the Ordos take to open conflict. Even in combat the Ordos never abandon their sneaky ways.

HOUSE HARKONNEN

Mentat - Radnor

The Harkonnen rule their territories with an iron fist. In a Harkonnen command, there is no room for weakness. There is never an excuse for failure. The Harkonnen always choose to fight.

UNITS COMMON TO ALL HOUSES

HARVESTERS

Harvest spice once you have a refinery. In later missions, they can be built by Factories.

MCV

Used to deploy and create another Construction Yard at a remote location.

TRIKE

This rapid moving vehicle is equipped with a cannon and is lightly armored for protection.

QUAD

This unit is slower than the Trike but has a more powerful gun and is more heavily armored.

MISSILE TANK

This tank launches missiles which are inaccurate at short range but very deadly overall.

COMBAT TANK

This basic tank is pretty quick, plated with armor and wields a powerful cannon.

SIEGE TANK

This tank is more powerful than the Combat Tank, but has a slower movement speed.

CARRY-ALL

Used to carry damaged vehicles, Harvesters and other units around without danger.

WHAT TO DO?

Mastering what each of your combat units can do is hard enough, but what about the land you're about to fight on? A constant threat to your equipment are the sandworms. The beasts will gladly gobble up every machine that sits on the sand. Naturally, the type of terrain around also affects your performance. Study the map on the right for a quick glimpse of what you'll see during a typical battle.

ORDOS SPECIAL UNITS

The Ordos' sneaky ways give them an advantage with specialized weaponry. The Deviator Tank launches a mind-altering gas to cause units to switch to your side. The saboteurs have a habit of bombing buildings.

ATREIDES SPECIAL UNITS

While not as sneaky as the Ordos, the Atrides have a few tricks up their sleeves. The cool Sonic Tank launches sonic blasts instead of conventional rounds. The Fremen can be deployed to attack enemy structures you'd prefer to have out of the way.

HARKONNEN SPECIAL UNITS

The vicious Harkonnen also have some specialized weaponry. The powerful Devastator tank is a real powerhouse that can also self-destruct if badly damaged. The Death Hand Missile can be launched at the enemy base, destroying anything it hits.

- A This mound is where the sandworm resides. Keep units away or they'll get eaten.
- B Spice Blooms wield a large crop of spice. Simply shoot at the bloom and enjoy.
- C Sand Dunes slow down the travel speed of infantry, troopers and vehicles.
- D Keep your Harvesters going strong on large fields of spice.
- E Rock formations let you build structures upon them.
- F Black areas on the map signify places you have not yet explored.

UTILIZE THESE STRUCTURES

HI-TECH
Offers more powerful weaponry.

WIND TRAP
Used to power all structures.

SPICE SILO
Stores up extra spice for later use.

TURRETS & WALLS
The regular turret fires rounds at short range, the rocket turret fires missiles at long range and the walls offer defense.

VEHICLE FACTORY
This place builds all the vehicles needed for the missions.

PALACE
Allows you to launch specialized assaults.

BARRACKS
Outfit troops to send into battle.

OUTPOST
Provides a radar view of the map.

CONST. FAC.
The heart of your entire base.

REFINERY
Harvesters bring the spice here for conversion to credits.

REPAIR FACILITY
Any damaged vehicle should come here for a full repair.

SPACE PORT
Order units from space, sometimes at a discount.

During the course of the game, you'll make decisions about which buildings are required for the mission. Below is a brief description of what each structure is used for.

The Sandworms are a constant threat, since they're not picky with what they eat.

THE ATTACK OF THE SANDWORM

Feeding the worm three units will send it away.

Repeatedly firing at the worm will scare it away.

Lead the worm toward tastier enemy units.

The Sandworm can be a nasty foe, but there are ways to discourage it from hanging around your base. Just look at these examples.

Your house Mentat offers advice on the upcoming mission. He will also express his opinion on your mission progress, whether good or bad. Be sure to pay attention when he speaks about the final mission.

Your Mentat can become quite concerned with your actions.

THE MENTAT SPEAKS

The Mentat gives you a description of your next mission objective and shows a map of the territories you own.

If you need helpful advice, don't be afraid to ask your Mentat.

Too many enemy infantry? No problem, just run 'em over with the Harvester!

Building your structures far apart can reduce the damage from many attacks.

Build another Construction Facility near the enemy to amass troops and units.

Keep troops stationed on mountains for sniper attacks.

Be sure to see what the enemy is doing every so often.

Shoot at spice blooms to release its contents.

Get rid of the worm by feeding it three groups of infantry.

Each palace has a special ability that costs nothing to use and can be very helpful.

USE THE PALACES TO STRIKE

The Fremens can be sent to attack any enemy unit.

The Saboteurs are perfect for wiping out structures.

The Death Hand Missile can wipe out several buildings.

THE FINAL BATTLE WITH THE EMPEROR

The final battle takes place against the ruthless Emperor Frederick. He wields all the weaponry of every house and uses every bit of it while attacking you from every side. Remain strong in your quest to conquer Arrakis.

Have the launchers take out the minor targets...

...while your tanks focus in on the major structures.

Build a mini base nearby to amass units and troops.

Here we see Frederick's base nearly wiped out.

Sylvester and Tweety

IN CAGEY CAPERS

Use the binoculars to locate where Tweety is hiding out.

Locate the bird so you may dine!

You only have nine lives to live!

Remember, you only have nine lives! Use them sparingly.

A mallet a day keeps the robotic canine away!

Just like the boxing gloves, but meaner.

When there's a problem, just hit it.

Nab a pair of boxing gloves and duke it out with the bulldog.

Hide in objects to avoid enemies. Very cute!

There are all kinds of hiding places!

Stack up furniture to get up high.

Stacking up items will help you reach high places!

SYLVESTER'S CRAZY CATLIKE CARTOONY MOVES!

Carrying
Lift and place objects all around so you can get to da bird.

Pushing
Some objects may just be too darn heavy to carry around.

Running
Need to get somewhere fast? Cats are known for their speed.

Scratching
Hack and slash the bird into fluffs of yellow pillow stuffing.

Sneaking
When sneaking up on prey, this is the way to do it right.

Sunsoft beware! There is a new player in the looney bin—Tecmagik. They are now entering the Genesis platform with their Warner cartoon-to-game with the antics of Sylvester and Tweety, and have they got it right. The animation is fantastic—having you do all the comical things that Sylvester does to get Tweety. Some examples are: stacking things up so that you can reach Tweety, hiding in lampshades, and dodging all other kinds of pests. The sounds are great and the music actually interweaves with what Sylvester does. An example of this would be when he goes up a flight of stairs—the music does a melody of rising notes, just like the cartoon! There are plenty of items to get, and the unique game play will really catch your attention—having you chase Tweety all around the level back and forth into different areas until he reaches a point where you can finally nab him. This (plus all the clever little animations, gags and interactive music that have been thrown in) will make the title soar high above all the other cartoon-to-cartridges made.

THE GOOD

This has got to be one of the best Looney Tune carts out there. The animation and music are top-notch!

THE BAD

This cat does seem to have really weak knees! Sylvester is constantly about to fall when far from an edge.

THE UGLY

The look on the Sunsoft Looney Tune programmers' faces when they see this great cart!

DOMESTIC DEVILS

Tear through the house—from chandelier to mantel-piece—trying to get Tweety in your claws. Then chase him all through your backyard! Beware of Granny and the bulldog—and watch out for those extremely safe power lines!

Knock plenty of stuff off of the shelves and the ceiling. There could be a surprise broom in the forehead by little old granny!

HYDE AND SHRIEK

Well, now here you get some serious problems! Tweety drank some Hyde formula and constantly changes into the monster. You must find the antidote bottles scattered all through the levels, while dodging him and the robotic guard dog!

Experience a double whammy with the hyde version of Tweety and the robotic guard dog. Find the antidotes quickly!

OCEAN OF TROUBLE

Here you meet all your familiar foes, like the bulldog, a vacationing Granny, butch the alleycat and even that pseudo giant mouse—the baby kangaroo! Head into cargo holds and up high into the masts to find the elusive little yellow beast before you go overboard!

A boot in the butt by a happy baby kangaroo could have you flying to heaven knows where! Do you think your son is proud?

THE GOOD

Cool backgrounds and enemies who are colorful and funny make this a really entertaining game.

THE BAD

With the brightly colored backgrounds, the enemies get lost and then attack from out of nowhere.

THE UGLY

The third level Boss, a banana with a spiked collar, just might give you nightmares.

Zool is a ninja from the "Nth" dimension who (while investigating a strange vortex) was hurled in his ship to a strange new world. His ship landed in a lake of custard and sank fast. Left with only his mini-field computer, he contacts headquarters who tell him that the evil Krool's forces have taken over this world and five others. Krool and his assistant, Mental Block, have been hard at work using the forces of non-imagination to turn ordinary things into monsters. Zool's mission is to free these worlds. Only then can Zool be rescued from this other world and return home.

LEVEL 1 THE SWEET WORLD

Zool is now stuck in a world that is made entirely of candy. Slide on the icing while collecting bonuses and destroying your candy enemies.

Make sure that you look before you leap or you'll end up impaled on a row of spikes! Use Zool's amazing climbing skills to get out of this big pitt.

ZOOL ICONS

Find these icons along the way to help you on your mission to get back home.

1UP

Gives one more life.

SHIELD

Zool is invincible.

TWOZOOL

Becomes two ninjas.

HIGH JUMP

Lets Zool jump high.

Zool is lucky to be on platforms floating on a chocolate river!

If Zool goes too slow on the rollers, the bad-dies will get him!

The Boss for the first world is a big bad bee with an attitude. This guy is tough and takes a lot of hits. Watch for him to change his attack after you blow his wings off.

LEVEL 2 THE MUSIC WORLD

Zool has to fight his way through this land of music. He will be attacked by instruments of all kinds, including violins and bullet proof drums.

This is just one of the many challenges in this stage. Zool has to hand walk across this bar. Be careful of where you drop; it could be your last fall.

Horns on the floor will lift you up with their musical notes. Hold on!

Secret passages are everywhere. Look sharp for them!

Stay under this Boss for too long and he'll drop fire on you.

LEVEL 3 THE FRUIT WORLD

Fight through the land of bad fruit. Watch out for rotten bananas and potatoes. Get a boost from an old fruit to go higher in the air.

Climb into the trees and take Zool sliding down to get all of the bonuses, but grapes and tomatoes will fall from the sky trying to knock you off.

Zool is trapped! Don't fret, his ninja skills will defeat them.

Be careful and go slow! These guys are lurking everywhere.

The Banana Boss can peel you. Find a pattern to beat him.

This is not your average mindless shooter! You are challenged to rescue an underground mining colony that is trapped by hostile alien invaders.

Piloting a prototype spaceship, you must traverse Sub-Terranian levels filled with laser turrets, flying beasts, large robots with extending arms, and incredibly huge Bosses that will have to be seen to be believed!

Exploration is needed to complete your missions. Find special weapons to increase the power of your spacecraft. Fuel depots and shield recharges are a must for survival. Special gear is strewn throughout each level. Pick up this gear with your experimental craft and carry it to the destination to complete each task before you can finish the level. Collect the SUB icons to eventually transform your ship into an awesome fighter. Great graphics and music complement this cart.

THE GOOD

Instead of just a mindless shooter, you have to explore the caverns, too. Strategy is a welcome addition.

THE BAD

The control takes a little while to get used to. But once you get the hang of it, it's tolerable.

THE UGLY

The ground artillery is a real pain in the butt! Try to avoid getting hit and it won't work.

AWESOME GAME STRATEGIES

1. Search the level to find the spiked ball. Pick it up and find the Reactor Core.

2. After reaching the Reactor Core, drop the spiked ball. It will destroy the Core.

SUPER STRATEGIES TO GET YOU FURTHER IN THE GAME

A. First, explore the level and find the single deflector next to the fuel depot.

B. Next, pick up the deflector with your experimental ship. Avoid the enemies that try to get in your way.

C. Look for the ground vehicle specified by the yellow arrow. Drop the deflector onto this vehicle. The large laser cannon to the left of the screen will shoot against the deflector, thus making the laser travel upward.

D. Take your prototype ship and search for the double deflector. Once you find this, bring it to the place you dropped the single deflector. Position it so the laser hits the double deflector on the left side.

E. The laser will travel left and hit the fortified wall.

F. This shot will totally destroy the thick wall completely, and it will make a new path for you to escape into, so you can finish the level.

CHECK OUT THESE BOSSES!

This Boss has a tail that whips you around and throws you across the screen!

Shoot this Boss in the head multiple times to destroy it. It will rotate in circles.

Use your mega-shots to kill this mid-Boss. Watch out for its flaming weapon!

This huge Boss is the ultimate challenge! Watch its explosive orbs!

Rescue the survivors of the underground mining colony. A large tank guards them!

Challenging underwater scenes await. If you're fully powered, it'll be no problem.

Use mega-shots to destroy the generator of this barrier. Now, you may pass.

These robots have an incredible reach with their stretching arms. Get shield power!

One of America's most popular game shows has gone 16-Bit on the Sega Genesis. Now you and your kin can participate in a friendly game of Family Feud. This cart features everything found in the real television show.

First, start off with the Bullseye Round where you and your family square off against another family. Try to accumulate money to play with in the Fast Money Round. Answer five questions starting at $1,000 up to $5,000. After that, it's off to play the Feud. Here, each family tries to take control of the board by giving the best answer to a survey. They must try to come up with all the top answers to a survey and try to gather up 300 points or more to advance to the Fast Money Round. This is a bonus round where the winning family can earn more money by answering the survey questions which are easier. Let's feud!

THE GOOD

This is entertaining fun for the entire family or a group of friends.

THE BAD

Some questions and answers will cycle around too early into your next few games.

THE UGLY

The annoying square-dancing music just stinks! Okay?!

BULLSEYE ROUND

In the Bullseye Round, get the best possible answer and build up the amount of money that your family can win in the Fast Money Round.

PLAY THE FEUD

Guess as many answers as are on the board. Don't take too long—there's a timer!

FAST MONEY ROUND

Try to get the top answers and score points that add up to 200.

Your family has two chances to gather up points and win the fast money.

CLIFFHANGER™

(sure, it's just a game.)

"Cliffhanger could send gamers over the edge." - Gamepro, October 1993

"Non-stop, pulse-pounding adventure that won't give you a break." - Electronic Gaming Monthly, October 1993

Climb, fight, and shoot your way through 7 ice-kicking levels, with unbelievable digitized film clips. The 3-D action sequences and incredible CD sound on the Sega CD version will blow you out of your chair.

Talk about rugged terrain—the mountain is a boss you'll have to defeat as you master wicked rockslides, decaying bridges, and a deadly avalanche. Learn the lay of the land, or you'll be laying under it.

Battle the heavily armed attack helicopter, rescue the hostages and finish off the sadistic terrorist kingpin...before he turns you into a blood-flavored slushee.

Hang on! For the first time ever on any video game, test your survival skills on a high-speed snowboarding level that Electronic Gaming Monthly says "has to be seen to be believed."

Available for all Nintendo® and Sega™ systems.

Goofy's job is on the line, and Pete is out to get him fired.

Level 1: Prehistoric Exhibit

Goofy's daydream through prehistory takes him on history's first wheel ride and across the backs of dinosaurs. There are all sorts of creepy creatures from before time lurking around here like bees, dragonflies and frogs.

Goofy's Attacks

If you don't have a weapon, try jumping on enemies.

Throw a goofball if you're at a distance from foes.

Use the Extend-O-Hand on the bad dudes.

It's the big opening of the Ludwig Von Drake History Museum, and Professor Von Drake wants everything just right. So he's decided to have a talk with the janitor, Goofy, to make sure there are no slip-ups. It seems that nasty old Pete has been telling the Professor about Goofy's mistakes. Goofy knows that he can do the job. His new invention, the Extend-O-Hand, can make his duties easier to perform. Little does Goofy know that Pete will switch things around the main exhibit to make Goofy get fired. There are four main exhibits in the museum: Prehistoric, Medieval, Colonial American, and Wild West. Goofy being himself, starts to daydream and knocks himself out imagining he's actually a part of the exhibit. It's up to you to travel through that exhibit world, avoiding Pete's ancestors.

THE GOOD

The animation of Goofy and the enemies is truly Disney style.

THE BAD

The levels seem to be repetitive, which gives the feeling that more should be there.

THE UGLY

What's with all of these stupid jumps? It's going to be a tough game for little kids.

There's a little town near the Mexican border that holds a horrifying secret. Sega's Ground Zero, Texas, is the latest of their action CD titles for the Sega CD.

You play the part of a special agent sent into the town to ferret out the aliens that have the ability to inhabit human bodies. You never know just who your enemies are! Along the way, you will get valuable information from other government operatives who are working undercover. Sometimes, you will find yourself in gunfights where your only weapon is your particle gun.

The live action sequences add to the eerie tension that is an integral part of the gaming experience. You can switch to any one of four different locations around the town in order to do battle with the alien invaders. You can defend yourself by using your camera shield with the press of a button. Believe me, you'll need that shield!

If you're in the mood for a game that can scare the living daylights out of you, take a trip to Ground Zero, Texas on your Sega CD. Good luck, the rest of the world is depending on you!

GROUND ZERO, TEXAS

THIS IS YOUR SHOOTING INTERFACE

Probably the most important interface that you will use is your shooting interface. This screen indicates your gunsight as a small cursor. Also, it shows your present location as well as the number of aliens in that particular location. Learn to use this screen to your advantage! Practice using the cursor to aim your gun. This is a key strategy element for being successful in Ground Zero, Texas.

THE GOOD

Great action game for owners of the Sega CD system. The action and story line go together well.

THE BAD

The way that the game is set up will immediately remind you of Sega's other CD games, like Night Trap.

THE UGLY

Nice death sequences! When you kill the stormtroopers, they explode into a gooley mess. YAY!

Good shot! When you shoot an enemy, you are treated to a brutal death scene.

Your weapon cursor will light up, enabling you to quickly spot and shoot an enemy.

THE CAMERA SHIELD

Press Button "B" to close the camera's shield. After it is closed, you will not sustain any additional damage!

EGM TIP #013

If you happen to have a turbo controller which allows you to use a Rapid Fire Option, use it on this game! It makes life a lot easier!

This schematic shows you the location of the various cameras around the town. You can access this screen and change your location at any time by holding down the "A" Button and selecting a direction on your joypad. This screen also provides you with valuable information like the number of bad guys in any one place.

You have many informants working for you through the length of the game.

These robot stormtroopers are a menace to the existence of the entire human race!

This sleepy little town near the Mexican/ U.S. border harbors a horrible secret.

As the story begins, tenants have disappeared and someone has trapped Eddie, who is in charge of the security system of the building, located in the basement. It is up to you as a player to explore the mansion, plus find the codes to free Eddie. The mansion is occupied by an eclectic group of colorful tenants, from archeology and architecture graduate students, to petty thieves and members of a techno-punk band. The plot and characters begin to unravel as a series of traps and security secrets are revealed throughout the game.

Power Boxes

Keep a close eye out for these power boxes. You have to get all four codes to free Eddie.

THE GOOD

The game is a lot more interactive than Night Trap. Also, it's easier to trap your victim.

THE BAD

It's sometimes very difficult to move from room to room, which allows enemies to escape.

THE UGLY

I can't believe I'm actually taking orders from Corey Haim! I've reached an all-time low in my life.

The Building

This is the basic layout of the building. When you start the game, you're only allowed to view six out of the seven rooms. After getting the code, you'll be able to view the basement.

Protect Alex

Alex is a young journalist looking for the perfect story to put her on top. In Alex's room, there are two main traps—one by the fireplace and one by the window.

Free Eddie

Eddie is locked in the basement, and you have to get him out. This is one of the most important rooms to guard. If the thugs get to the power, you're dead!

Protect The Band

All this band needs is one big break to make it big. Trap the goons by the mummy and the lamp, so this band can have a chance.

Protect Brutus

Brutus is an ex-con who is looking for gold in the building. He's also part of the reason why there are goons around. Trap them with the coffin and column.

Protect The Grads

Two inquisitive students are finding some very interesting facts about the building they live in. Help them succeed by trapping enemies in the floor and wall.

Protect Elizabeth

Elizabeth is the manager of the building; but if there is a problem, don't expect her to help. Use the fan in the doorway and the columns to stop the bad guys.

The same company that brought you the original WWF Super NES and Genesis titles is now testing the waters in the Sega CD market with a rockin' steel cage battle! Utilizing the CD storage capabilities, this title sports 20 characters—each with his own unique special move. Also in this CD is, yep you guessed it, FMV cinemas at the intro of the game! But they also use FMV to show you each of the characters' special moves so you can see exactly what they do. Also present are announcements for the beginning and end of each match—with many different lines spoken by the actual wrestlers themselves! Another addition is the Steel Cage Match (hence forth the name) where the only rule is that there won't be any rules except for the fact that you can only win by clambering over the top of the cage before your opponent swats you off the top of the cage!

There are also the usual One-on-One Matches and the Tournament Mode. One thing that is missing is the Battle Royal as well as the Tag Team matches—but the voice and massive amount of characters more than make up for this slight flaw.

THE GOOD

Whoa! There's a whopping 20 characters to choose from and FMV examples of their special moves!

CASTLE OF EVIL

REVENGE OF THE NINJA

The fair Princess Terri has been captured by a clan of ninjas led by the vicious Lougi! You must brave their fearsome fortress, the Castle of Evil, to save her. You are armed with a few flash grenades, a katana and a grappling line—not to mention lightning quick ninja skills. Your name is Aki and you've vowed to save the young girl at any cost.

Revenge of the Ninja is a cinematic game for the Sega CD, and its game play is similar to that of Time Gal. You play the game by pressing the control pad wherever the arrows tell you to go. Sometimes you must use your weapons. If you mess up even one movement, you'll be sent to your untimely end!

Are you good enough to survive the many dangers that are found within the massive fortress?

Overall, fans of this sort of game should like it. The animation is smooth, and the action is funny yet intense. The graphics are good, and Renovation has done a good job in keeping the colors in, even with the limitations.

Revenge of the Ninja is a top-notch Sega CD game.

STAGE ONE:

THE MOVES:

Left, Left, Down, then Up. Do this to get past Stage One.

You have been caught in a trap! Use your ninja skills to get to safety or you'll get crushed in-between some spikes.

THE MOVES:

Weapon Button, Right, Left, Right, Left and Climb Upward. This should get you past.

STAGE TWO:

STAGE THREE:

STAGE FOUR:

STAGE FIVE:

MORE LIVES AHEAD ACTION

THE GOOD

I like the Japanimation-style animation of the characters, rather than some lousy "Americanized" art.

THE BAD

As pretty much with any games of this type, the control and timing has to be perfect every time.

THE UGLY

Getting gutted by a wolf with your own sword in his mouth. What a way to go!

The Lords have hired you to stop the lurking terrors below the streets.

Most of the AD&D character classes are here. You can choose your stats.

MONSTERS!!

THE GOOD

It's really nice to be able to customize your warriors. It's just like real Dungeons & Dragons.

THE BAD

Feeling like a rat in a maze without even a piece of cheese to look forward to. Not enough substance.

THE UGLY

Rotting decayed corpses stalking you through catacombs. Hmmm, sounds like working with the editor.

THINGS TO FIND

You can find special items by searching behind gratings and in slimy pipes.

NO TURNING BACK...

This map was pried from the dead hands of a fallen hero. Perhaps, it may show a few secrets of the great underground labyrinth. Many have gone down, but none have survived.

The Lords of Waterdeep have gathered together the greatest warriors of the Forgotten Realms. It seems that an evil is growing underneath the City of Splendor and someone must find a way to stop it before it awakens.

Choose from a huge array of fighters, clerics, magic users and thieves. You can only have four characters in your party, so you should try to keep things balanced. Set out into the sewers deep below the city, and begin the search that will lead to either fame and fortune or a quick death.

You start out equipped with the bare essentials and a few hit points to your name. However, in time, you will find items that will grant you power in combat.

Are you brave enough to conquer this immense journey?

LIVE MOTION PICTURE ACTION

Outlaw Mad Dog McCree and his henchmen have taken over a wild west frontier town, locked the sheriff in his own jail, and kidnapped the mayor and his daughter. Sharp shooting is a must in this arcade classic where the player must save the town, rescue the mayor and his daughter, and triumph in a final showdown against Mad Dog himself.

It's the Rollicking '30s and someone has killed popular singer Johnny Rock in this action-packed gangster whodunit. The player will need to navigate the back streets, gaming halls, funeral parlors and the dirty sections of this city to get at the clues held by a number of shady characters and solve this murder mystery. Bad guys with machine guns provide a high level of challenge.

MEGA JOE

"If you want to stay pretty like me, don't get in the ring!"

This guy is real cocky—stay close to him and use your jab to get him.

THE GOOD

This game makes you really feel like you're getting into the ring! You might even get a little scared.

THE BAD

After you fight everyone, and beat them, and lose to them, the full-motion cinemas get a little old.

THE UGLY

You if you try to go directly to Nuke the Duke, he'll tear you up!

HONEYBOY

"You better be ready for me punk!"

You can fight this guy over and over to gain much needed stamina.

P rize Fighter is the most interactive boxing game ever created! What's really amazing is the fact that all of the on-screen images are actually composed of many pieces of digitized boxer movements. You punch, and it shows a fist hitting your opponent. All with absolutely no time lag! You are The Kid, an unknown boxer in your first big-time fight. Your ultimate goal is to get a shot at the belt, but first you have to fight your way through three tough guys. However, there are hecklers who will yell nasty things at you between rounds. Some bookies will want you to take a fall so they can make some money. Don't worry about them, just keep your head up!

QUEEN:

Fans of the board game chess (and the other previous versions of Battle Chess for the Amiga and PC systems) rejoice: this game is making the rounds and is now on the new 3DO system! This is chess with a twist; the pieces actually walk across the board. When they take another piece, you get to see them fight to the death (of course it is a forgone conclusion because you know who is going to win). There are plenty of options here: you can pick a two-dimensional or three-dimensional board to play on! The former is an overhead view where the pieces are not animated, the latter is where the characters are fully animated and your perspective is behind your pieces!

Battle Chess

For those of you not familiar with the game and how it is played, there's even a built-in tutorial where the pieces walk out on the board, introduce themselves and tell you how they move! They also give a history about themselves (like the Queen and how she couldn't always move diagonally and vertically). The CD sound and music are excellent, with hilarious animations (especially when another piece is 'taken'). There is also an option where you can configure the board and give yourself as many of any pieces as you want!

WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE

Lester's not a bad kid, he just seems to end up in a lot of awkward situations. This time he's been stranded on a jungle island being taken over by pirates. With your help he should be able to make it back home.

The only problem is Lester's personality. His survival instincts are a little weak. Plus, he always panics the first time he meets a new challenge.

Just don't panic along with him...

Guide Lester wisely and he might just come through in the clutch.

Who wouldn't panic at the sight of a mutant seagull?

Your adventure begins as Fat Cat breaks out of maximum security and steals the Urn of the Pharaoh.

Just when everything seems to be going smooth for Chip, Dale and the rest of the gang, the notorious crime boss, Fat Cat, has broken out of prison. It seems to be of no coincidence that at the same time a precious artifact, the Urn of the Pharaoh, is also missing. Now it's up to those crafty chipmunks (with a little help from Monterey Jack, Gadget and Zipper) to travel through many areas and search for any information that will help the Rescue Rangers return the Urn of the Pharaoh and put Fat Cat along with his criminal organization behind bars for a very long time.

Bonus Game

You need to have a keen eye and quick reflexes to survive in the bonus level!

The whole Rescue Rangers gang is ready to give a helping hand in defeating Fat Cat.

Crates come in real handy. Use them to throw at enemies or duck inside to hide from the bad guys.

There are many objects to throw. Once you pick them up, you can even toss the enemies!

Level 1 Boss

THE GOOD

I like the attack method with the crates, instead of always jumping on the enemy like other games.

THE BAD

The game seems to play very fast with hardly any hidden items to find.

THE UGLY

I guess Fat Cat would have to be the ugliest, but he's really not that ugly...just fat.

LEVEL 1-1

You start your investigation in a diner, where you will need to grab all the Ranger Plaques that you can find. Watch out for the angry bees!

LEVEL 1-2

It's off to the kitchen for more adventure! Jump your way over the plates and glasses in search of hidden acorns inside the crates.

LEVEL 1-3

At the end of level 3, Zipper can help you get out of a sticky situation by turning on the water faucet.

LEVEL 2-1

Level 2-1 is in the underground sewer. Make sure to keep your footing as you leap from pipe to pipe—and try not to get wet!

LEVEL 2-2

Watch out for the fish leaping out of the water and the vampire bats overhead, as you make your way out of the sewer.

Based on last summer's action blockbuster hit, Cliffhanger offers the same excitement now brought to your NES. You are Gabe Walker, Rocky Mountain rescue ace, facing the most grueling operation of your life—saving your friends plus defeating Qualen and his gang. You have to travel through dangerous mountain terrain where great ability of climbing and jumping are needed to avoid the wide crevices and the huge avalanches that await your fate. Plus, many enemies, such as rabid wolves and eagles flying overhead, will try to stop your progress. On the way, there are many items you can pick up that will help you pass the obstacles and help you survive the bitter cold.

Watch out for the rocks and boulders while walking through avalanches.

If you are just sitting there doing nothing, you will eventually freeze and die.

If you're having problems jumping over, try crossing the large gorge with a rope.

Be careful jumping on the columns. You could slip on the icy surface and fall!

Burn the money you find in the campfire and it could increase your health.

LEVEL 1-1

Find the stranded party of hikers while avoiding the wild animals and dealing with avalanches.

The plane...the plane!

PICK UP ITEMS TO SURVIVE AGAINST THE ENEMIES

Pick up the spiked boots to run on snow.

You will only have six shots. Use them sparingly.

Throw the knife at incoming thugs or animals.

Keeping the cash could increase your health meter!

Yo! Jackpot! Extra cash to burn in order to survive.

THE GOOD

Because of many happenings and enemies, the amount of health is badly needed.

THE BAD

I'm starting to get a headache looking at these small characters.

THE UGLY

Watching yourself fall from great heights and land on spikes, causing you to look like a road kill.

Talk about a rug burn! Slide down the hill by riding on the Boss you defeated.

James Pond, that fearless secret agent, has made his way to the Amiga CD 32. This remake of a popular Genesis cart has better music and more colorful backgrounds. Essentially, the game is the same. The ruthless Dr. Maybe has taken over the North Pole toy factories and has made all the toys into deadly weapons. Try to collect all of the evil toys and stop Dr. Maybe.

New to the Amiga CD 32, it has some full screen full-motion video cinemas which gives background on our favorite fish. If you want a taste of 32-Bit, James Pond will whet your whistle for non-stop action and adventure.

AGENT:
JAMES POND
AGENCY:
F.I.S.H.
HISTORY:

Pond is the ultimate underwater agent who has recently undergone mechanical enhancements. He now can stretch to incredible lengths. See Fig. 1 below for details.

TOP SECRET

THE TOY FACTORY

The toy factory is immense. Agent Pond must enter each door and clear all of the levels. After passing through two doors, a giant Boss will attack you. Don't fret though, there are many ways to clear the levels. Some of them may have more than one exit. If you choose wisely, you can clear the entire door quicker, start over on that level, or find a secret bonus area. Experimentation is the key here!

DOOR 1 AREA 2

You can skip about four areas by saving the penguins and going back to the start.

THE GOOD

This game plays pretty well despite the pitiful controller that looks like a modern art masterpiece.

THE BAD

The animation is choppy, and the full screen full-motion video is quite pixelized. Why? It's 32-Bit!

THE UGLY

Some of the backgrounds are hard on the eyes and even harder to play on. Aaaaargh! My eyes, my eyes!

A BIG GAME...

The levels are huge, and there's a lot of them. Can you find Dr. Maybe in time?

EGM TIP #012

For a sure way to kill most enemies, press down and duck while hitting them. This even works in the air, and does a lot of damage.

After you reach the top of the beanstalk, you have to fight this Boss.

Chapter 2 The Street of Clouds

Jump from moving clouds, collecting coins and avoiding missiles.

Work your way through the clouds toward the Giant's castle.

Chapter 1 The Beanstalk

This is just a small part of the first level. Make sure you collect 40 coins, so you can fight the terrible Boss.

The poor Simpsons family sends their son Bart off to town to sell their cow. On his way, Bart runs into a silly-looking man named Monty the Miser. He offers Bart some Magic Beans and a slingshot in exchange for the cow. Bart takes the offer and runs toward home. He places the beans on the table. But before he can tell everyone about his great deal, Homer pops the beans into his mouth, thinking they are candy. In disgust, Homer spits the beans out the window and sends Bart to his room. The next morning, when Bart looks outside, he sees a giant beanstalk growing up into the clouds. Bart grabs his slingshot and jumps out of the window toward the adventure of a lifetime. Bart must make his way through several levels, avoiding enormous insects, pocketing the magic coins and stopping Homer the Huge.

THE GOOD

Good game play with some interesting weapons to use on the enemies.

THE BAD

The slingshot weapon just doesn't cut it in most of the levels. It takes too long to fire and the range is bad.

THE UGLY

Homer as a Boss, enough said.

Straight from Disney's classic tale, The Jungle Book, Virgin brings the role of Mowgli, a child born in the jungle and raised by the animals he lives with. You must escort Mowgli safely through the jungle to the village, collecting diamonds along the way and finding Bagheera, the Panther. Mowgli's main goal is to defeat Shere Khan, the dangerous tiger in the journey.

BONUS STAGE

Leap across elephants collecting fruit. One mistake takes you to the next level.

THE GOOD

Virgin delivers another great translation game from the Sega Genesis to the Game Gear.

THE BAD

The game play takes some time to get used to, which can make the game a little frustrating.

THE UGLY

Seeing how long the Lizard's tongue is makes me wonder if he can get dates easily.

JUNGLE BY DAY

Mowgli must collect all eight diamonds to complete this harrowing stage.

BY THE RIVER

Mowgli has to jump from different objects to avoid falling into the river.

KAA THE SNAKE BOSS

When fighting Kaa, he will come up from the ground to start his attack. Use the spring in the center of the screen to jump over him, then hit him from behind.

ICONS IN THE JUNGLE

TWO BANANAS: When Mowgli grabs these two bananas, it will allow him to throw bananas faster.

HEART: This icon will restore some of Mowgli's life meter, which comes in handy in some levels.

BOOMERANG: This is a great weapon for Mowgli to use, for it will register two hits on your enemies.

DIAMOND: Throughout Mowgli's quest, grab all of the diamonds that appear on each level.

MOWGLI'S FACE: Grab Mowgli's face to gain a free guy. This is one of the hardest icons to find.

FIGLEAF: The only way Mowgli can continue in the game is by grabbing the figleaf icon.

THE GREAT TREE

Mowgli comes across The Great Tree, where he has to work his way up by climbing vines and jumping on springs, while trying to collect all eight of the diamonds in this level. Along the way, Mowgli will have to overcome monkeys and snakes as he battles his way to the top of the tree where Kaa, the Snake Boss, is waiting to fight him.

1-8 Shows you the location of all eight diamonds on the map.

SOME TREE SKILL YOU SHOULD KNOW

- 1) Use the springs to reach high places which you can't reach by jumping.
- 2) Jump on the lizard's tongue as another method of reaching high places in the tree.
- 3) There are several monkeys and snakes in this level that camouflage themselves by hiding in the leaves of the tree, making it hard for you to attack them.

METALLICA #1 of 3
 Lars Ulrich, influenced by the metal sound coming from Europe, joins with James Hetfield to record one song for a compilation album entitled Metal Massacre. The song was ill-received by critics, but little did anyone know it was the birth of the biggest heavy metal act in music—METALLICA! Read the official story of Lars, James, Kirk, Cliff, and Jason—the way only METALLICA could tell it! With a live album coming next year, you can't afford to miss it!

WORLD DOMINATION #1
 A unique collection of bands come together to form the controversial independent alternative music label, WORLD DOMINATION. Greedy music executives want control, but WORLD DOMINATION'S founders, Dave Allen and Luc Van Acker have no intention of becoming corporate puppets! # X-MEN

Professor X receives a call stating that the Juggernaut is at the Hoover Dam. Wolverine and Cyclops are sent to check it out. The rest of the X-Men are on their own missions trying to repeal other threats to the world. But, the dam was just a ruse to lure them away, while the others were captured. Now you must save your friends.

Based on the immensely popular comic and now TV series, this has the typical side-scrolling action theme with the X-Men twist. It's along the same lines as the Genesis version released a while back, but with different X-Men.

CYCLOPS

THE HELLFIRE CLUB

TO THE BOSS!

This level, like most of the others, is really a big maze. In this maze, it is your job (as one of the X-Men) to figure out where the Boss is hiding out. But that's the easy part. The hard part is finding out which elevators you will have to take to get there.

Here's a helpful little tip: This is a partial map of the Hellfire Club level. The whole level is at least three times this size.

To find the Boss, follow these steps: Start the level at the lower right-hand side of the map, go left until you reach the last elevator door marked as number one. This door will take you to the next level. Go right until you reach the door marked number two. This will take you up one level. Go left to the door marked number three. After you are on the next level, take the door marked number four. When you take this last door, you'll be at the top of the club. Follow the platforms that are all around you up and to the right. When you can't go right any more, start to go down. You'll find the Boss almost at the very bottom!

THE UGLY

The little bat or ghoulish guy on the center of the Graveyard scene. What is that thing?

Portable fans can now take pinball wherever they go. Three classic-style pinball games are available on this new cart. The Ignition Level has a rocket theme with targets like the sun-run and ignition. The Graveyard gives off a spooky feeling with the R.I.P and D.I.E targets. The theme here is to shoot for the side traps. On the Steel Wheel Level, you have one high and one low trap that each earn big points. All the features you'd expect are here including: extra ball, bonus hold, jackpots, score multipliers and even tilt. This is portable fun for those who can't get enough pinball.

Increase the D.I.E. rollover to get up to 10x multiplier.

Go for the ball trap to earn up to 500,000 points!

Light up the word "ignition" and go for the jackpot.

Hit the right trap for 5 million points or an extra ball.

The top trap gives a bonus or spins the mystery wheel.

Will the Cowboys Take Two?

Although they haven't trampled opponents quite like last year, the Dallas Cowboys are still favored to repeat as the NFL's Super Bowl champions.

With the best young quarterback in the league in Troy

Aikman, one of the best running backs in Emmitt Smith, and perhaps the best receiver in Michael Irvin, America's Team appears destined for a visit to the Georgia Dome in late January (where the next Super Bowl will be played.)

If EA Sports' Madden '94 football game is any indication of what the real teams and outcome will be, the Cowboys will thrash the Kansas City Chiefs by a score of 38-17.

Warner Bros. + Fifth Network = More Cartoons for Everybody

It's still only in the negotiation stage, but rumors are running fast and furious that Warner Bros. may team up with the Tribune Co. in an attempt to bring a fifth network to the television airwaves.

What all this means for EGM readers is that if the network does come to fruition, expect Warner Bros. to crank up their hallowed Animation division in an effort to fill afternoon time slots on the network.

Basking in the critical acclaim and enthusiastic fan support for its Batman: The Animated Series, expect Warner Bros. and DC Comics to explore other DC characters for possible exploitation in their own animated series.

Watch Your Way to High Scores

Are you tired of having sand kicked in your face by the bully at the arcade?

Well, this product from Golian Castro Productions may not guarantee the same astonishing results as the fabled Charles Atlas bodybuilding program, but it will definitely help you improve your score on all versions of Street Fighter 2.

The 45 minute video takes you behind the scenes with world class Street Fighter players. Learn intermediate, advanced and super advanced tips from both Capcom insiders and street-wise game players.

In this tape, you'll see moves, strategies and combinations in slow motion—even the complex combinations that make you think you need the dexterity of a magician to execute!

The tape is the only official Street Fighter II Turbo and Special Champion Edition strategy video licensed by Capcom USA.

Strange but True

Ridin' the Fire Storm Out

• While Southern California was engulfed in flames in October, Cliffhanger director Renny Harlin was in a helicopter gathering video footage of the disaster. Although his publicist denied he was gathering "cheap" special effects, we can't imagine why Harlin would want home movies.

Being a Star Ain't What it Used to Be

• Overzealous admirers tipped over a table where 11-year-old Jodie Sweetin, who plays Stephanie in the TV series "Full House," was meeting fans. Sweetin was banged up a little, but reportedly is OK.

FASTER THAN A SPEEDING BULLET... NOT!

PUGGSY™

You've played these games, you know the score: First there were rapid rodents, then came the manic mammals and now we've got frantic felines. You know you've got the moves to shred the rest, it's time to add brains to your arsenal. Meet Puggsy, he's a goofy little alien with a laid back attitude all his own. But he's in a terrible jam. While catching rays on some random planet, the local bad guys scooped his spaceship. Now he's on a frenzied search through a puzzling alien world; and, as we know, extra terrestrials can't get home without their ride.

Puggsy takes you through 50 plus levels of play, filled with secret rooms, hidden levels and "Easter eggs". With Total Object Interaction™ (TOI™) Puggsy actually uses his arms (no rodent's ever done that) to control forty different objects, solving puzzles and zapping over one hundred different alien creatures, as he waddles his way through seventeen bizarre lands. With a multitude of sound FX and tunes, Puggsy takes you on an adventure that's endlessly entertaining.

Youngblood Animated Series In the Works for Late '94

Fans were wondering who among the Image creators would be the first to bring their characters to life in animation.

The answer appears to be Rob Liefeld, who, in conjunction with newly formed animation company Roustabout Productions, is readying his Youngblood characters for an animated series.

Nick Dubois, creative director and co-founder of Roustabout along with Alan Zegler and Victor Dal Chele, said his team is elated to be working with Liefeld. "We'd like to emulate the creator-owned concept that Rob and Image popularized in the comic industry," Dubois stated, "Our animation projects will not be influenced by non-creative management."

Although Liefeld will be personally involved throughout development of the series, he appreciates the ideals that Roustabout is striving for.

"This is a comfortable fit for me," Liefeld said. "I relate to these guys as artists. What they're doing in animation is exactly what we did at Image in breaking from the corporate structure. They're very familiar with the Youngblood characters and are excited about making this the event of the '94/'95 season.

The series will somewhat resemble the stylistic Batman: The Animated Series, but will not be as dark and dreary.

"We want to make the Youngblood series light both literally and figuratively by using brighter colors and tongue-in-cheek humor. Kind of like the first Die Hard movie or the first Superman film," Dubois revealed.

For Spam Lovers Everywhere

When we first received this book, we immediately earmarked it for the "It just ain't right" award for the month based on its title alone: I'm A Spam Fan. But after Andy continuously extolled the virtues of the canned luncheon meat, we took a look inside and were somewhat surprised.

The book actually contains some interesting insights into America's favorite foods such as the origin of Oreos, Twinkies and Dr. Pepper. Although it had enough substance to preclude itself from our infamous honor, we had to place it next to the award just because it uses Spam in the title.

CARDS ILLUSTRATED Ready for Blastoff

HERO's new offshoot magazine, CARDS ILLUSTRATED, debuts this month amidst considerable fanfare from the non-sports card market.

CARDS ILLUSTRATED takes a look at the burgeoning market—which has grown from an estimated $75 million in annual revenues just four years ago to some $300 million today.

"Ten years ago, there were maybe 25 to 30 non-sports card releases in a single year," says CARDS Editor Don Butler. "In 1993, we'll see almost 200 new releases."

"Much of the growth is coming from the comic-card market," he said. "About a year and a half ago, card manufacturers realized that a healthy portion of their sales were coming from comics specialty shops, so they began making sets geared toward those comics buyers."

The result, he says, is an influx of 20-40 comic-card products a year.

The entire "entertainment card" market is also going through some big changes, as major companies such as Topps and SkyBox—which two years ago had geared most of their new product releases toward sports cards—now plan anywhere from 15 to 22 non-sports card lines for 1994, including such items as Batman card lines, a reprint of the classic Mars Attacks! set, and several movie-related sets (Topps will release a set on The Shadow, a $40 million movie starring Alec Baldwin, this spring).

More product and diversified product has so far meant increased sales and more interest, but Butler warns that many companies are raising the price of a pack of cards to $1.49 or more, and many buyers used to getting eight cards for under a buck are walking away from the new higher-priced cards.

"One thing we've heard time and time again is that card collectors don't necessarily want a better-quality card in terms of production," Butler warns. "They don't want the high-quality stock and UV coating if it means they have to pay an additional 50 cents or more per pack.

"Collectors are more than happy with a series of cards that won't force them into bankruptcy when they buy packs to put together a set," Butler concluded.

Double Dragon Will Roar in '94

You may have heard the rumors but the truth is that Double Dragon: the Movie is alive, kicking, and already into post production. The film should hit theaters in the second half of 1994.

Double Dragon: the Movie is set in a megaopolis of the future built on the remnants of old Los Angeles and San Diego after their demolition in an earthquake.

With half the city submerged and the other half mired in anarchy, street gangs rule the city by night. If that wasn't bad enough, the power-hungry villain Koga Shuko (Robert Patrick) is intent on seizing power. The Double Dragon medallion holds the key to his success by giving him magical powers to use for his own dastardly ends.

After his loyal assistant, Lash (Kristina Malandro), botches the job of retrievthe Cuyahoga River in Ohio, Shechter tells of the challenge in portraying a submerged Hollywood Boulevard in Cleveland. "Iconic symbols were used everywhere along the river, including a half-size mock-up of the Hollywood sign. When the water sprays across it during an action sequence, it resonates like the shot of the fallen Statue of Liberty in the Planet of the Apes."

When pyrotechnic experts Joseph and Paul Lombardy, whose credits include Apocalypse Now, set off the movie's biggest explosion on the river, residents of the city panicked, despite warnings the night before on several news channels. The 700 gallons of gas, combined with 200 gallons of alcohol, ignited on the river led to emergency service reports of 210 panicked calls in 10 minutes. Securing permission to use the water involved numerous state and federal agencies, "said Shechter. "It was a tremendous logistical undertaking."

Double Dragon: The Movie, produced by Imperial Entertainment and based on the popular video game, is less than 12 months from release. Pictured here are most of the major characters from the movie as well as some exciting behind the scenes pics.

ing the medallion from a Tibetan monastery by returning with only half of the sacred relic, Shuko vows to find the other piece.

The other half of the medallion is around the neck of Sartori (Julia Nickson), the guardian of the Lee boys. Skilled fighters, the boys' combat styles are as different as their natures: Billy is hot tempered and fights with reckless abandon, while Jimmy is cool and fights with precision.

Delayed at a fighting match, the boys are late returning home and fall victim to the gangs who take over the night. Salvation comes in the shape of the Power Corp, an elite good-guy gang led by Marian Delario (Alyssa Milano).

As critical as the brothers' relationship is to the movie, first-time director Jim Yukich was concerned with emphasizing the humor of the story. "Our characters are like normal kids—three kids on an adventure, so we didn't want to make something that kids would almost be too afraid to see. When we first met about the project, "

Yukich said, "I told Ash Shah and Alan Shechter (co producers of Double Dragon) I'd like to make it in a funnier, light-hearted vein."

Double Dragon also features an epic boat chase sequence down the fictitious Hollywood River. Shot on (cont.) amazing feats ever attempted. This is a circus act like no other, with thrilling stunts and flying acrobatics that send the audience. Sometimes even the elite Aero the Acro•Bat is a high-flying, death-defying superhero who combines super artistry with excitement and danger. This reporter has never seen anything quite like it.

The circus starts out innocently enough, with Aero soaring through the air in a series of aerial somersaults. This is gold medal stuff, fans. He flips, zips, hurls and whirls through the air, as the audience gapes and gasps in amazement. "Aero the Acro•Bat is a totally awesome dude," said Rita Zimmerer, one of the lucky girls who sat in the front row of the circus. "For a little bat, he's got a lot of guts."

Aero's act is based on agility and plain old guts. He frequently buzzes the audience as he leaps from trapeze to trapeze, bathed in brilliant spotlights. As the audience holds their collective breath in silent amazement, at times the only sound is Aero's high-pitched squeal of delight as he prepares for one of his now-famous power dives.

Even the other circus performers stop to watch Aero. This reporter noted clowns, magicians and even tightrope operators from the far side of the arena gathered under the big top, wondering what might happen next.

fun, but then it got weird," recalled circus janitor Al Artus. "I thought that little bugger was gonna bite it, all right," added Janette Hyssong, circus vendor.

Leaping from a towering, teetering platform, Aero the Acro•Bat realized that this was more death-defying than anything he had ever done. One of the platforms was rigged with explosives ... which threatened not only the super bat, but the entire audience as well! "I thought I'd wet my pants," complained Karen Shadley, a shy young girl who had traveled all the way from Illinois to see Aero the Acro•Bat perform. "When that platform disintegrated, my life was in Aero's hands." Capable hands indeed, as it turned out.

Shrouded in darkness as the night mysteriously malfunctioned, Aero leaped to safety and landed with a flourish!

But it was only the beginning. Not only did Aero have to protect the audience from the danger of falling debris, he had to protect himself from the "bad boy of the big top," the evil, diabolical and just plain mean Edgar Ektor. This guy must really hate bats.

This reporter heard that Ektor had sabotaged the circus and anyone who got in his way. And he's not about to stop until Aero—and the circus—are destroyed. Ektor has employed a team of dirty, nasty, filthy, scheming nogoodniks to help him carry out his plan. Clowns that can literally make you laugh to death. Not to mention whipping spiked balls that can do serious damage. Or a psycho madman named Marko, who constantly shoots himself out of cannons like a crazed kamikaze. He doesn't even mention tightropeballerina who loves to squish bats. About a handful!

But these battles can't compare to Aero's early struggle toward fame. Auditions landed him bit parts in low-budget films, but nothing he could sink his teeth into. He answered a casting call for a made-for-TV baseball movie. Yet his hopes were quickly dashed. "They said they needed bats," says an embarrassed Aero. "How was I to know they meant wooden ones?" But that setback didn't keep him from the big time under the big top, where the wicked Edgar Ektor was waiting.

The evil Ektor carries a lot of emotional baggage. According to Bruce Reilly, criminologist and noted circus buff, Ektor was banished from the circus years ago after endangering the lives of his fellow circus troupe members. Allegedly, his innocent pranks and practical jokes took a decidedly twisted turn, and he enjoyed inflicting pain and suffering on circus performers and audience members alike.

"Ektor was a really, really sick little boy," said Alison Quirion, the renowned performing poodle trainer who worked with Ektor during the early circus days. "He started out with all sorts of stuff like squirting ketchup, exploding cigars, glue bombs, and all sorts of things. Next thing you know, there's grease and dynamite in the air."

Ektor hadn't been around for years. Until he appeared in the ring with a bomb in his hand and a grimace in his mind.

Tad "Smiley" Shimano, who had been with Ektor for years, thought we were brainwashed.

members promised to give him and their own dream. They bagged the lion and the tiger.

But Aero the Acrobat was a licking and kept on going. Using strength and wit, he found himself negotiating a series of trampolines, jumping far into the air, and avoiding becoming a shishkebab on hidden spikes.

David Siller, who himself survived an attack by Waldo, the wicked, whipping lion tamer when Aero swooped from the air and deftly punched the muscular Waldo into a pulp. "It started out as the coolest circus act," he said, "but then the bodies flying everywhere and the fleas from the flea circus were into demolition."

Aero continued to perform for the now-terrified audience even while the sicko saboteurs tried to slice him into tiny pieces. The Sunsoft and Sega logos are visible on the game boxes.

Ektor had placed on the floor and roof. He spun, drilled and flipped his way past an onrushing convoy of Ektor's henchmen. And he finished them off. "The audience thought their money's worth because the circus continued right on to the next day. Aero kept right on going, disarming hundreds of booby traps on the fairground rides and saving thousands of lives in the process. In the meantime, many circus goers and themselves locked in animal cages, their fate yet to be determined by Ektor. "We had just gone down to get some cotton candy when this horrible, ugly slimeball grabbed us from behind!" recalled Tad "Smiley" Shimano. "He threw a huge log in," and thought we were for sure," said Shimano. "We didn't even get to eat our candy," he added.

As a reporter, the climax of the show under the big top was the face of the lion.

The lion was a diabolical, intelligent, inhuman creature that makes you want to fight to the death.

They've got a bullet with your name on it.

We're talking high-caliber criminals—Al “Scarface” Capone, Frank Nitti, the Genna boys . . . If you're going to mess with the most notorious outlaws of the 20th century, you'd better be Untouchable.

Five missions. Three perspectives. Untouchable drama.

Build a case against Scarface in 1929 Chicago. The funny money factory makes phony greenbacks, but the bullets are real!

You're Eliot Ness, a former D.A. It's only natural that you're called in for a hostage rescue at the County Courthouse.

Ness, you gotta go this one alone. Capone's trigger-happy henchmen are battling with a rival mob for territorial rights.
